NO TROUBLE TO TRAVEL. Mrs. Dayton, 85 years, is going to take a trip to Auburn to visit her son. We said to her, "Mrs. Dayton, should think that quite a journey for a girl of your age. Don't you dread it?" "Why mo!" said she. "Would just as liv ride on the New York Central as to set in an easy chair in your parlor. I never have any trouble. I have been over the road many times; when I get to Albany I always tell the old fellow at the door where I want to go and he looks out for me, and everybody on the train is always so courteous and obliging.-traveling on the Central is no dread to me."-The Millerton Tele-

Expenses of the Sultan.

The yearly expenses of the sultan have been estimated at no less a sum than $30,000,000. Of this $7,500,000 alone is spent on the clothing of the women and $400,000 on the sultan's own wardrobe. Nearly $7,500,000 is swallowed up by presents, $5,000,000 goes for pocket money and still another $5,000,000 for the table. It seems ineredible that so much money can possibly be spent in a year by one man, but when it is remembered that some 1,500 people live within the palace walls-live luxuriously and dress expensively at the cost of the civil listit appears a little more comprehensi-

Miss Frederick's Letters Show How She Relied on Mrs. Pinkham and Was

"DRAR MRS. PINKHAM: -- I have a rellow, muddy complexion, feel tired and have bearing down pains. Menses have not appeared for three months; sometimes am troubled with a white discharge. Also have kidney and bladder trouble.

I have been this way for a long time, and feel so miserable I thought I would write to you and see if you could do me any good."- MISS EDNA FREDERICE, Troy, Ohio, Aug. 6, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM :-- I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound according to directions, and can say I have not felt so well for years as I do at present. Before taking your medicine a more miserable person you never saw. I could not eat or sleep, and did not care to talk with any one. Now I feel so well I cannot be grateful enough to you for what you have done for me."-MISS EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio, Sept. 10, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKRAM :-- I write to thank you for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. It is the only medicine I have found that helped me. I doctored with one of the best physicians in the city of New York, but received no benefit. 1 had been ailing for about sixteen years, was so weak and nervous that I could hardly walk; had continued pain in my back and was troubled with leucorrhosa. Menses were irregular and painful. Words cannot express the benefit I have serived from the use of your medicine. I heartily recommend it to all suffering women." - MRS. Huntington Mausoleum.

Nearly twelve years ago in New York, Mr. Huntington began to build the tomb in which his body will re pose. No building in the world can compare with this tomb in strength massiveness and durability. Each tier of the steps in the fifty feet of solid rock from the roadway to the door of the mausoleum is hewn from a single forty-ton stone. Its foundation is sixteen feet underground. The mausoleum is forty-two feet long, twentyeight feet wide and twenty-four feet high. The gates are of bronze and the interior is of Italian marble. There are sixteen catacombs. In the struc

Among the officers volunteering for active service in the far east is Prince Jaime de Bourbon, only son and heir of the Spanish pretender, Don Carlos. He is a cornist in the Grodneo Dragoon guards, stationed at Warsaw, and will go with his regiment to Port Arthur. He has a commercial interest in the far east, being part owner of a large steamship named the Lillia, trading between Odessa and Russian China.

Mrs. Laura A. Alderman of Harley, Turner County, S. D., is said to own one of the largest orchards in the country. It consists of 150 acres on which are planted 8,000 trees, besides 1,000 currant bushes, 1,000 gooseberry bushes, and 500 grapevines.

Reverence the Old.

Bow low the head, boy; do reverence to the old man. Once like you, the vicissitudes of life have silvered the hair and changed the round merry face to the worn visage before you. Once that heart beat with aspirations coequal to any that you have felt; aspirations crushed by disappointment, as yours are perhaps destined to be. Once that form stalked proudly through the gay scenes of pleasure, the beau ideal of grace; now the hand of time that withers the flowers of yesterday has warped that figure and destroyed the noble carriage. Once at your age, he possessed the thousand thoughts that pass through your brain, now wishing to accomplish deeds equal to a nook in fame; anon imagining life a dream that the sooner he awoke from the better. But he has lived the dream very near through. The time to awaken is very near at hand; yet his eye ever kindles at old deeds of daring, and the hand takes a firmer grasp of the staff. Bow low the head, boy, as you would in your old age, be reverenced.

Robert Planquette, author of that tuneful opera "The Chimes of Normandy," is to have unique honor bestowed upon him. The new chime of bells is about to be rung at the village church in Corneville, and the leading bell bears this inscription: "I have caused Normandy to be sung all over the world." The French title of the opera, it will be remembered, is "Les Cloches de Corneville."

LATE SUMMER VACATIONS. The Public Escape from Heat Into the Colorado

The hot spell has come late th summer, but it has arrived, and thousands of persons have taken advantage of the proximity of the Colorado mountains to escape from the enervating and prostrating surfeit of high temperature. The mountain resorts are more popular than ever and the railroads are doing a heavy passenger traffic, largely of tourists. The Missouri Pacific System, with its Short Line from Kansas City to Pueblo, has been one of the most favored routes, because of its luxurious car service and its rapid time and the desirable route. As the late summer and early fall days are among the most delightful in the mountains, the public still has its face to the West, enjoying release from business and home duties and reveling in the beauties with which nature has so bountifully en dowed the popular Rocky Mountain resorts. Pure air and cool breezes work wonders in the way of restoring health, and change of air and diet with rest, always repay the investment by storing new energy and revivifying force in wearied brain an body. The expense is comparatively small, as special tourist rates are made low at this season. Twenty-four hours places the mos

The rails are laid in almost inaccessible places, along the edge of the stream or torrent, which with wonderful skill has been forced out of the way to make room for the rock roadbed and the iron rails. At certain points the torrent maintains its supremacy, but the difficulty is met and surmounted, a set of hangers being made into the cliffs overhead to support the bridge work and track, cultivation, balance can all be broke; The stream is still jubilant of its power over man, and laughs, booms and dashes by as the train passes, not caring for the queer shadows that fall into it, if it can only be supreme at this critical point. The combination of the Missouri Pacific System with the Denver & Rio Grande Route affords the greatest variety of scenery and the most comforts and conveniences, all of which are desirable adjuncts of a summer outing. If you haven't had your vacation yet this summer, now is the time to secure it, and every man and every woman should take as many days of recreation as can be obtained, especially during this heated term.

Soldiers of Japan. In Japan every able-bodied man is a soldier, and even the children know the use of arms. Military drill is a part of the regular education in the schools throughout the empire. Schoolboys dress in a military uniform cut on the pattern of cade uniforms in Europe and America. Their instructors are regular army officers, veterans of the war with China, and some of them of the Satsuma rebellion of 1877. This has its effect on the youthful mind, ever prone to hero worship and trebly so in Japan.

The Physician's Hint. One day, Mme. Meissonier, the wife of the noted French artist, sent for the family physician, and he hurried to the house, thinking some illness had overtaken the artist. The doctor pocketed his pride and most zealously attended the patient, who soon recovered. the end of the year he sent in his bill, but among the items there was none for attendance of a dog. Mme. Meissonier noticed the omission, and called the physician's attention to it "You must charge for that, also," said she, "I insist upon it." "By no means," was the reply. "I am not a veterinary surgeon. I was very glad to do the dog a service, but really I can't be paid for it." "But I insist upon it, said the lady. An Emerson Anecdote. In the English writer Grant Duff's "Notes from a Diary, 1886-88," is an Emerson anecdote. It is related that at a breakfast which included Col. Hay and Frederic Harrison, Mr. Atkinson, "the New England free trader," mentioned that Garfield had told him that the beginning of his intellectual life was a lecture delivered by Emerson at Williamstown, which excited him to the highest possible degree, so much so that when he left the hall and looked at the hill that rises over Williamstown it seemed all in a blaze. He lay awake the whole night, yet the one sentence which had remained in his mind was this: "Mankind is as lazy as it dares to be."-Kansas City Journal.
