French Homage to Paul Krugen France greeted Paul Kruger Thursday with a grandiose welcome—the most magnificent ever witnessed in F. T. Bowles likely to succeed Philip Marseilles. It was one of those welcomes in which the nation and the man come in contact—one of those spontaneous bursts of sympathy which make history, and which sometimes change destiny. And the striking feature of the demonstration was Paul Kruger as he accepted the homage of Constor Morgan favors ratification France. His voice rang out with the story of his wrongs in strong Dutch words. When he made the declaration which moved even men to tears, that not until the last Boer-man, woman, and child-had died would England conquer, it seemed as if the citizens of Marseilles would rend the aid with their shouting. Marsellles, having witnessed the mismanagement of Dr. Leyds and the French Boer committee yesterday, endeavored to make up for the blunders by doubling the enthusiasm. Harmony by no means existed and the clash in arrangements nearly prevented the President from landing at the hour expected.

STORM'S DEATH ROLL GROWING | HE

Latest advices from the storm swept sections of Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee indicate that the loss of life and damage to property are far greater than at first reported. The difficulties in the way of securing information from the devastated sections are almost insurmountable. The places affected are remote and isolated, and at best they are not well equipped with means of communication, and the storm which Tuesday evening carried devastation across the country at the same time swept away the wires, so that telephone and telegraph wires alike were put out of service. Dependence has necessarily been placed in railroad men and travelers coming from affected parts.

To the Relief Column - Complained Tha They Had Run Out of Sugar fo Their Coffee and the Milk Was Al

In a letter to Portage (Wis.) friends Private Robert W. Lyon, company K. Fourteenth United States infantry, writing from Pekin, makes serious charges against certain missionaries in the Chinese capital.

After describing the hardships endured by the soldiers of the gallant Fourteenth during the forced march from Tientsin to aid in the rescue of the foreigners in Pekin, he utters this: "When we, nearly dead from fatigue and starvation, entered the legation and set the missionaries free they were so glad to see us that they gave us all the water we wanted to drink. Then they began to tell us of their trials and suffering. Two of them, with tears running down their cheeks, declared that they had actually run out of sugar for their coffee and the milk was almost gone. Another, a member of the American board, told me in a sorrowful tone that they had been allowed only two cigars a day! They showed their true selves when a wagon train arrived with provisions for us poor soldiers. No sooner had it entered the city walls than the missionaries purchased the heat of everything at government prices, then trying to sell the same to us at a much higher price. Later enlisted men were not allowed to buy anything at all in the commissary. The missionaries got all they wanted, but never offered us a particle then."

Lyon is a Grand Rapids, Wis., boy who enlisted in the regular army at Portage, where he is kell known and where he bears a good reputation for veracity.

Die in Flood in Tennessee.

North of Dyersburg, Tenn., a woman and two children in a buggy were thrown into deep water by the collapse of a levee and all were drowned. At the south fork of the Forked Deer river a colored track hand of the Illinois Central road was drowned.

A mail carrier was drowned in Caney creek, near Glymph, Lauderdale county. His buggy upset as he was attempting to ford the stream. No names are known here so far.

Cigarmakers on Strike.

In spite of the agreement made at Tamps, Fla., to hold the general strike in abeyance until the committee from the Resistencia organization and the International Cigarmakers' Union could get together, the general strike was declared Monday. Nine local unions obeyed the order of the Trades Assembly and refused to go to work It is estimated that 1,400 men have answered the first call and are out.

Reds Are Unruly.

Reports from Denver say Adjutant General Overmeyer has wired troop A, cavalry, at Grand Junction, to be in readiness for an immediate call in case Game Commissioner Johnson's force should not be equal to the dians in the White River district. This troop is known as "Overmeyer's Rough Riders," and is made up of pioneers, cowboys, and crack shots of the western alope.

Woman Defies Mouse.

At Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Fox-Davis, contralto in the choir of the South Congregational church, Fiftleth street and Drexel boulevard, had an encounter with a mouse during the services in the church. She came out victorious, and thereby probably averted a panic among the other women in the congregation.

TWENTY-SIX SHIPWRECKED

St. Otal Disaster Found The searching party which Seven islands Saturday afternoon to rescue any of the passengers or crew of the wrecked steamer St. Olaf who might have reached land returned Sunday evening. The searchers report having found only one body, that of Miss Page, buried in the snow and ice. The general opinion is that the wreck occurred the night of Wednesday last, as Miss Page was attired in night robes: that twenty-six passengers succeeded in landing only to die from cold and starvation on Boule island, and that their bodies will be found under snow. Another searching party went out later. The St. Olaf was of 305 tons and traded between Quebec and Labrador towns. It was owned by Fraser & Co. of Quebec.

Wealthy Man Weds Waltress. J. Hamilton Brown, wealthy and widely known throughout the United States and Europe as an inventor of ordnance, was quietly married in Brooklyn last August to Miss Helen Wilson, a waitress in a downtown restaurant, where he was a patron. He is about 60 years old and his bride is 22. They are living in finely appointed apartments at 602 St. Nicholas avenue, New York, where they were seen Friday night and laughed over the fact that their secret had become known. Mr. Brown is the inventor of the Brown segmental gun, which has been authorized by congress as a coast defense weapon.

Court Wipes Out Eel River Company. The Supreme court at Indianapolis in overruling a petition for a rehearing of the Eel River railroad case held that the Eel River Railroad company no longer exists as a corporation. The company was organized to build a road from Logansport to the Great Lakes. The road was leased to the Wabash road for ninety-nine years, with the privilege of perpetual renewals. The court held that where a road makes such a lease in order to destroy competition it becomes subject to the forfeiture of its franchise. It is now in the hands of the attorney-general as receiver.

Find Hody in Reservoir.

The body of George H. Zell, a prominent farmer living eighteen miles southwest of Perry, O. T., was found in the reservoir of the Perry waterworks plant today. The head was badly bruised and cut. Zell came to town yesterday morning, sold a load of hogs and was known to have had a considerable amount of money upon his person. Only a small sum remained in the pockets and the police suspect foul play.
