killed. Monday, December 3, A special dispatch from China to the Volks Zeitung reports a fearful mission slaughter in the province of Shanai. The first vicitims were a Catholie bishop and his coadjutors and four Franciscan priests, Italian and French. The governor invited these Christians to his house, pretending to give them better protection, but when they arrived their hands were tied. Thereupon the governor himself poniarded them all. Next the governor went to the bishop's residence with a number of soldiers and seized six Marseilles sisters. He promised them money and distinguished husbands if they would renounce Christianity, which offer they unanimously rejected. Thereupon the governor poniarded them all, and also a number of Chinese priests, thirty Chinese sisters and 200 orphans from 2 to 16 years of age. Fifteen seminarists, who had hidden themselves in a cistern, were, the dispatch says, tied to stakes and forced to drink the blood of the first victims. They were then killed. A Chinese priest and two Christians, who attempted to escape, were caught and put in a small but, where they were burned.

Wisconsin a Great Warship.

The report of the board which conducted the trial run of the battleship Wisconsin in Santa Barbara channel in October last has just come to hand at the navy department. The corrected speed of the battleship is set down as 17.174 knots. She showed a remarkable freedom from vibrations at ordinary and at full speed, making her in this respect an excellent gun platform. She was found to answer quickly and powerfully to her helm and in general was found to be an efficient battleship, possessing good sea-going qualities, excellent maneuvering power and substantial construction.

His hennery is located in the Sixth ward, near an asbestos works, and the chickens are fed on asbestos siftings. People who bought eggs from Perkins complained that they did not cook well. Fire had little effect on them. When eaten raw they seemed to be all right, but they could not be boiled or fried properly. Some young chickens were hatched from the eggs, and instead of having feathers the new brood is growing a covering of down that resembles asbestos. They are unlike anything ever seen in the chicken line.

News reached Nashville, Tenn., a singular bank-safe explosion at Jonesboro, Tenn., where a gang of robbers made a desperate effort a few days | Over ago to loot the First National bank. In their efforts to blow the safe the robbers used nitroglycerin, but the first charge failed to demolish the safe doors, though it injured the combination. They were frightened off. The services of Harry Knight, a safe expert from Cincinnati, were secured to assist the bank officials in opening the safe. While Knight was tapping the doors there was a terrific explosion that wrecked the entire office and shattered windows in the vicinity of the bank. Pieces of twisted steel were torn from the safe doors and hurled violently across the room. One piece demolished the desk and office chair, passing within a few inches of Cashier Charles McPherson's head, finally crashing through a door. The hammer in the hand of Expert Knight was torn from the handle and sent through the plate-glass front window. About ten persons were in the bank at the time, but escaped serious injury. Secretary Wilson of the United States department of agriculture views with alarm the greatly increasing number of Belgian hares in the west. In his last report, just issued, he said: "The state board of agriculture of California has estimated that several thousand of the animals are already at large in that state. If they increase as rapidly when at large as they do in captivity, they will undoubtedly be come a source of danger, and stringent measures may be required to keep them under control. Still more dangerous would be the introduction of the Belgian hare into Porto Rico, where the question of its acclimation has already excited interest."

Dies of Football Injury. Trumbuli Kelly, left tackle of the Capital Culture football club of Johnstown, Pa., died at that city from the effects of an accident in a game with the Indiana State Normal school team. Kelly tackled Full Back Long and was thrown, Long's knee striking him on the back of the head. He never regained consciousness. Kelly's home was at West Superior, Wis. He was a Yale graduate and was employed as draftsman by the Cambria Iron company. Louis Gilmore, captain of the high school football team, died at Lowell, Mass., as a result of injuries in a game on Thanksgiving day. His back was broken.

To Corner the Nickel Market. The earl of Dunmore of Scotland has arrived at Vancouver, B. C., after a year of travel through Australia and the South Sea islands. He claims to have arranged a corner on the nickel market for the western coast and practically the whole of the United States. He largely controls several large nickel-producing properties in Europe, and a few weeks ago concluded the purchase of the large mines of French New Caledonia. He invested over $300,000 cash in these properties, and says he will soon be able to control the markets of the United States from their output, Jeff Davis' Slave in Poverty. Accustomed to a life of plenty, Mrs. Adelia Burton, colored, is compelled in her declining years to face actual poverty. Notwithstanding that the woman, who is 87 years old, was a slave during the greater portion of her life, and that the hardest duties she was asked to perform were those of maid in some of the best southern families, including the family of Jefferson Davis, Mrs. Burton's only place of refuge now is in a shed in the rear of No. 7323 Railroad avenue, Chicago.

McEinley's Thanksgiving Dinner. All the executive departments of the government were closed Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving day. It was a quiet day at the White House. President McKinley attended service at the Metropolitan M. E. church in the forenoon. Mrs. McKinley took a short drive during the morning. According to their annual custom, the President and Mrs. McKinley had their Thanksgiving dinner alone at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Beath Breaks Up a Frast. Awaiting the return home for Thanksgiving dinner of Herman Levy his family sat at the table in Chicago and waited several hours for him. CRASH THROUGH ROOF

Warnings Unbooded by the Ventzresome Fellows, Who Were Witnessing a Football Game from the Roof of a Factor-Thirteen Denn, Others Dying.

Thirteen persons were killed more than 100 injured, some of them fatally, by the collapse of the roof of a building from where they were surreptitiously viewing a football game between the Stanford and University of California teams Thursday afternoon in San Francisco. All the hospital and police ambulances were called into requisition and private carriages were taken from the paddock of the football arena and pressed into service. Dead wounded were hurried away to various hospitals, and in some instances to their homes, so that it is impossible to make up a complete list of the victims, although eighty-two have been cared for. The accident occurred at the San Francisco and Pacific glass works, located at Fifteenth and Bryant streets. Despite the efforts of a large force of cult and added to the general ment and confusion. Bodies brought out and speedly whirled in express wagons, private carri ambulances and whatever conveyas was most available.

Crowded the Hespitale.

The Southern Pacific hospital, with in two blocks of the scene of the ac cident, was speedily filled and many of the wounded were turned away. The late comers were taken to St. Luke's, near by drug stores or the receiving hospital. Ambulances were reserved for the injured, while the coroner removed the dead in express wagons. Twenty thousand persons were in the amphitheater and paddock. two blocks away, watching the football game, and when white-faced ushers scurried through the crowd, calling for surgeons, the game was abandoned and the spectators surged to the gates. anxious to see what had happened and help the injured. In this crush to get out a number of persons were trampled upon, dresses were torn and there were; many minor injuries. A majority of the victims were boys, ranging in years from 10 to 15 years. The fires in the furnaces had been started for the first time Thursday, and the vats were full of liquid glass. It was upon these that the victims fell. Some were killed instantly and others were slowly roasted to death.
