SWEPT OVER NIAGARA FALLS

Hunter Dies in Effort to Cross the River.

HIS COMPANION ESCAPES.

Flight of Two Men Witnessed by People from the Shore — One Adventurer Perhaps by Being Harried into Roaring Abyss.

Two reckless duck hunters of Buffalo, John Wiser of South avenue and Joseph Marsh of Linwood avenue, tempted fate in the wild current of the Niagara river Sunday morning; at dawn and fate met them half way with outstretched hands. Wiser vanished in the crashing billows of ice which thunder over the mighty fall and Marsh, who survives, emerges from his awful experience after a thrilling battle for life which turned his black hair white within an hour and made of a man strong and stalwart in the early morning a shivering and trepid creature who will hunt no more.

The men rowed safely past Connor's island and into the middle of the river. There the ice was clogged so they could not use the oars and they lost control of the little boat. Their plight was discovered by people on shore, who telephoned to the fire department at the Falls to send a rescue corps with ladders and ropes to points along the banks. The wind was blowing so hard that the firemen came too late. When the boat passed the Niagara Falls electric power-house Marsh realized that he must make a desperate effort for his own rescue. He stepped from the boat to a cake of ice, calling to Wiser to follow. But Wiser could not swim and he sat still in the boat, trusting himself on the uncertain ice. But when they had been carried past the paper mill Wiser, too, saw that something must be done, and he jumped out on the ice. Marsh was about thirty feet nearer to the shore. The current was getting less secure. At Henry Perky's residence on Willow island a group of men was watching the hunters. E. A. Deeds, president of the board of engineers of the Natural Food company, got a long pole and, placing himself on the shore at a point projecting into the stream, called to the men to swim for it. Marsh jumped instantly, but Wiser shook his head and remained on his ice cake, which quickly passed into the rapids. A high wave washed him off the ice and he was carried along and tossed over the brink of the falls just behind the boat which he had deserted. Marsh's struggle for the shore was observed by a large crowd. Three times the ice and waves carried him under. Each time there was a cheer of encouragement as his head showed again and he courageously struggled on. He grasped the end of the pole and was drawn ashore unconscious. Then he was carried to Perky's house and put to bed.

Shoots His Wife's Lawyer. Elsworth E. Weir of the law firm of Weir, Weir & Darrow, La Porte, Ind., was shot by Joseph W. Brill, a mine owner of Cleveland, O. Brill arrived in La Porte on the afternoon Lake Shore train. He at once dispatched a messenger for Weir to come to the office of Dr. George M. Dakin. Brill demanded that Weir sign a confession that he has been intimate with Mrs. Brill. Weir denied the accusation and peremptorily refused to sign anything. Brill then drew a .25-caliber revolver from his pocket and pointing it at Weir's heart sent a bullet crashing into his body. Weir was seriously wounded. Brill, without seeking to escape, surrendered himself into the custody of Deputy Sheriff Wells and Weir was removed to his home. Brill expresses no regret for the deed.

Married in a Sheep Wagon. A new style of marriage ceremony was inaugurated at Casper, Wyo., when Ross Lambert, a sheep man, and Miss Lovisa Morrison were wedded in a sheep wagon. The ceremony was performed at midnight, and was witnessed by the bride's mother and a few friends. The Rev. Mr. Gillespie performed the ceremony, after which the couple set out for Lost Cabin, traveling in the wagon. It was not because the couple could not afford a stylish wedding that the marriage was celebrated in a sheep wagon, for Mr. Lambert is well-to-do, but because the young couple wanted something romantic in the way of a wedding.

NERVOUS WOMEN CURED BY Dr. Greene's NERVURA.

nervous, and debilitated, tortured with female complaints, or racked by headache, neuralgia, backache, and kidney trouble. Here lies the great strain upon the nervous systems of women. They have little or no rest; their life is one continual round of work-duties here, duties without number. What wonder that such women go to bed at night fatigued, and wake tired and unrefreshed in the morning!

What women need is that great strengthener and invigorator of womankind, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy—that remedy which rebuilds health and strength, purifies and enriches the blood, gives strength and vigor to the nerves, and the strong vitality and energy to the system which will enable women to do their work and yet keep strong and well. It is this great medicine they need. Nothing else in the world can do its work.

MRS. M. D. PERKINS, of 100 Q St., So. Boston, Mass., says: "I was completely run down and could not eat, for the sight of food made me sick. I did not sleep at night and was as tired in the morning as when I retired at night. My head and back ached all the time. I was completely exhausted if I tried to do my housework, and could not walk without being dizzy. I was excessively nervous and very weak."

"Then I began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I cannot say enough in its praise. I have not felt so well for years as I do at the present time, thanks to this splendid remedy."

"I can now eat and sleep soundly, walking mornings strong and refreshed. I do my housework, which is now a pleasure instead of a burden as formerly. My weight has increased about twelve pounds in the last two months. I would recommend any one afflicted as I have been to use this wonderful remedy."

Dr. Greene Will Advise You Without Charge.

The benefit of Dr. Greene's special advice is at the disposal of every sickly woman, and it is well to write for it or call and see Dr. Greene at his office, 35 W. 14th St., New York City. Doing so may shorten the time required for recovery of full strength, and give information which will guide aright in the future. Absolute confidence is observed in all consultations, and no charge is made.

THE conscience of household cares is more than the strongest man could endure, and it is no wonder that women show the effects of work and worry. Thousands of women in offices, shops, and factories break down in health under the strain and become weak, tired, nervous, and debilitated, tortured with female complaints, or racked by headache, neuralgia, backache, and kidney trouble.

A CRY FOR HELP.

Result of a Prompt Reply.—Two Letters from Mrs. Watson, Published by Special Permission.—For Women's Eyes Only.

March 15, 1899.

To MRS. PINKHAM, LYNN, MASS.:

"DEAR MADAM:—I am suffering from inflammation of the ovaries and womb, and have been for eighteen months. I have a continual pain and soreness in my back and side. I am only free from pain when lying down, or sitting in an easy chair. When I stand I suffer with severe pain in my side and back. I believe my troubles were caused by over work and lifting some years ago.

"Life is a drag to me, and I sometimes feel like giving up ever being a well woman; have become careless and unconcerned about everything. I am in bed now. I have had several doctors, but they did me but little good.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been recommended to me by a friend, and I have made up my mind to give it a fair trial.

"I write this letter with the hope of hearing from you in regard to my case."—Mrs. S. J. WATSON, Hampton, Va.

November 27, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to acknowledge to you the benefit that your advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"I had been suffering with female troubles for some time, could walk but a short distance, had terrible bearing down pains in lower part of my bowels, backache, and pain in ovary. I used your medicine for four months and was so much better that I could walk three times the distance that I could before.

"I am to-day in better health than I have been for more than two years, and I know it is all due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I recommend your advice and medicine to all women who suffer."—Mrs. S. J. WATSON, Hampton, Va.

This is positive proof that Mrs. Pinkham is more competent to advise sick women than any other person. Write her. It costs you nothing.
