THURSDAY, MARCH 28, 1901.

THE VILLAGE TICKET.

The ticket nominated at the village caucus Saturday evening is apparently satisfactory to all factions. The selection of clean, capable, progressive and conservative men was of supreme importance to the well being of the village. These qualities predominate in the officers chosen at the caucus Saturday evening. Of the two men in the field for president-Chas. Mochel and L. B Gesner-either would have been satisfactory and both have business ability of a high character. The choice fell upon Chae. Mochel and property owners may rest assurred that his administration will be conducted solely on business principles. He has served for years as a member of the board of trustees and shown himself valuable man in conducting the affairs the village. The same care, judgement and foresight which have made his own business successful will largely enter into his administration of village affairs.

haim who will succeed themselves trustees, have served with credit and dis tinction. They are both hard workers and take an active interest in the business of the board, and will always be found arrayed on the side of progression and the best interests of the village. E. E. Stevens the naminee for north side trustee, is man new to the board, but if his own business success is any indication of wha his work will be, he will probably prove a valuable member.

The office of village clerk was again awarded to Bert C. White, who has served in that capacity for five years past. It is safe to assume that no muncipality ever had a more efficient official and the office in his as long as he cares to accept the po

The position of police magistrate will again be filled by the present efficient encumbent D. G. Graham, who has justly and equitably presided over this court for the past eight years. Taken as a whole the ticket is exceptionally strong and one which will prove acceptable to all progressive and public spirited citizens.

Bonse people are super-sensitive. They like to see the shortcomings of their neighhere shown up, but if they become remine themselves, they break for the newspaper office to have the publication suppressed and then get mad when they are refused. Or, again, they wait until the publication is made and then they think they will passed certain of the inhabitants of the paralyze the publisher by ordering their village roused themselves and said, "Go paper stopped. At times there are small boys hanging around the depot and yards. We fear that some of them are playing truant from home or school, but even if not they should in no case be allowed at or near the railroad and their parents should see that they are kept away. Almost every vil-Lags along the line of the road has its human wrecks-boys who have attempted to sump on or off moving trains and became malmed and crippled for life. At this staion from its location and the numerous brains the danger is greater and the tidings ne buy has been crushed may throw the shadow of grief and sorrow aud- had set their faces against the electric denty into some of our households.

gloss at 6:00, on these nights. The other two evenings a week the stores will be open until 9:00. This is an example that the merchants in this town could as well follow as not and relieve themselves of a whole lot of unnecessary hard work and long bours.

A bill has been introduced in the house at Springfield which seeks to amend the election law by permitting two election officers of different parties to go into the booth with an intoxicated voter to show him how to mark his ballet. There is as good reason for the adoption of such a law as that proposed. Men who are too drunk to know how to mark their ballots are incapable of knowing whom they should vote for. They should forfeit their votes as a penalty for their awinishness.

CHARLES IN THE SOURCE PROPERTY OF THE SOURCE PARTY OF THE SOURCE P VILLAGE ETCHINGS.

And it came to pass after the days of the laying of the watermains that the people of the village which is by the place of graves, builded unto themselves an electric light plant.

Now this thing was much needed for that from the early days the light of the village had been darkness, even dense blackness made visible by certain flaring lamps of oil set on divers infrequent pillars along the highways. By reason of lack of light and the exceeding vileness of the streets many of the citizens of the village, which is by the and suppers. Apply at Klein's market. was builded and the electric light power Graham. turned on a great wonderment siezed upon the people, for the streets were filled with radiance so that the wayfarers returning from the great city could avoid the quagmires of the byways and enter their doors with dry soles.

Now a certain superstition was upon the inhabitants of the village which was by the place of graves, even the belief that the moon shines with a great bright ness eleven days in each month.

This thing was strong in the minds of the village fathers when they set forth the Simonson's drug store. Muzzey will terms of the contract with the men who promptly fill your cans. tend the electric light plant, and in the many worded writing to which the seal of the village was attached, was provision that the men who tend should take unto themselves a rest, even a vacation, eleven days in each month. all facilities for execution of wills and

And behold when the first of the cleven days was come the men who tend, switched off the electtic light and betook themselves to slumber. But the evening of the day was dark and clouds gathered and the rain fell and divers of the citizens of the village stumbled from the sidewalks and were bespattered with mud, and there was much murmeting.

Now when four of the dark evenings had

Then did the men who tend present themselves at the windows clad in their night raiment and they mocked the people saying, "Go to, wot ye not that the moon doth shine with great brightness during eleven days of the month, could re but see it. Disturb us not. This is our busy time and we would betake ourselves to slumber. Return after seven day and we will harken to you for verily the contract sayeth eleven days doth the moon shine." And to the people gave they the merry Ha Ha after the manner

Then were the people sore and each one reviled his neighbor. And this thing coming to the ears of the croakers which light plant from the first, caused them much joy and they wagged their heads and whispered with cunning leers, "Go to did we not say so."

LAGRIPPE QUICKLY CURED.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was aken down with a severe attack of what is alled LaGrippe" says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill.
