Mrs. Lulu Kennedy Arraigned for Killing Her Husband.

CASE IS A SENSATIONAL ONE.

It Is Charged That the Woman's Father and Brother William Compelled Rea nedy at the Points of Revolvers to Marry Her.

Mrs. Lulu Prince-Kennedy, the bride of a month who has been in the county jail at Kansas City since Jan. 10 last held under indictment for murder in the first degree for deliberately killing her husband, Philip H. Kennedy, contracting agent of the Merchants' Dispatch Transportation company, is on trial in the criminal court. The woman's father, C. W. Prince, proprietor of a billiard hall; Albert Prince, a traveling musician, who has circled the globe on a concert tour, and William Prince, a young business man, will be tried later on a charge of conspiring with Mrs. Kennedy to kill her husband. The father and Albert Prince are out on bond, while William Prince is in jail, his relatives' canvass for bail having proved unsuccessful. The case is one of the most unusual in Kansas City's criminal history and sensations are promised by the state. Both Kennedy and Prince families have lived in Kansas City for years, the Kennedys being prominent in social and paid her some attention. In December they were married by a local judge at the court house. Kennedy refused | Carrollton, and the wounded men are to live with his wife and in a month brought suit to have the marriage annulled, alleging duress. He charged farmer. that the woman's father and brother William compelled him at the point of revolvers to go before the judge and be married, threatening him with death if he demurred.

A few days after the suit was filed, on Jan. 10, at 5:30 in the evening, Mrs. Kennedy appeared at her husband's office in the Ridge building and calling him into the hall shot him five times, killing him instantly, and kicking his prostrate body. Kennedy's brother tried to disarm the woman and while doing so was struck down by William Prince. The latter's presence in the building and the movements in the vicinity of the Princes that day led to their arrest on charges of being accomplices in a conspiracy to kill Kennedy. During her five months' confinement in jail Mrs. Kennedy, who is only 20 years old, has shown no remorse for her crime and has frequently enjoyed concerts given in her cell by her musician brother. Each side has worked up its case carefully, the state having summoned 125 witnesses and the defense nearly that number. That the Kennedy case has attracted more attention than any other in recent years was demonstrated by the apswers given by the jurors when questioned. With only one exception every person examined said that he had followed the details of the Kennedy affair since the day the shooting occurred. Headless Bod; la Found.

One of the most puzzling mysteries that have at once shocked and alarmed the state was brought to light by the finding of the headless body of a woman near a wood camp one and a half miles from Chelmsford Center, Mass. The body was found in a clump of bushes not far from the road, and from the appearances the woman had been dead for some days. The clothes, though few in number, were of fine texture and fashionable make, but no jewelry or aught by which identification could be made was found.

Unger and Brown Found Guilty by the Jury.

DECISION SOON RENDERED

The Great Insurance Trial at Chicago Ends-But Fifty-Five Minutes' Time I Consumed in Reaching An Agreement -Lawyer Taken III.

Dr. August M. Unger and F. Wayland Brown were found guilty at Chicago Monday of conspiracy to commit the insurance frauds which culminated in the death of Marie Defenbach last fall. The jurors, who for twenty-four days have listened to the evidence and arguments, were unanimous for conviction on the first ballot. It took them only fifty-five minutes to look over the judge's instructions, sum up the evidence and prepare their written verdict. Punishment by imprisonment in the penitentiary for an indeterminate term from one to five years is the penalty. Sentence will be passed next week upon the two men and at the same time upon Frank H. Smiley, the third conspirator, who pleaded guilty at the beginning of the trial. Brown and Unger both took their conviction very hard. When Clerk Erstmann unfolded the verdict and read their fate Unger's face was covered with great beads of perspiration. Brown was as expected acquittal. The complicated criminal case is not yet finished by any means, for, barring motions for a new trial or appeals, there is still the possi bility of a charge of murder being lodged against Unger for the death of Miss Defenbach, while in addition to this is the certainty that former Deputy Coroner John C. Weckler will have to face trial for malfeasance in office. Before adjournment Judge Tuley directed Assistant State's Attorney Olson to appear before the June grand jury and seek to secure Weckler's indictment. His public confession that six empty chairs served for a jury in the "fake" inquest on the dead girl's body could not be overlooked by the judge. As dramatic as the conviction of the two conspirators itself was the second collapse of Attorney John J. McDannold while addressing the jury in behalf of Dr. Unger. He sank into a chair, too feeble, too weak in voice to speak, too weak in strength to stand upon his feet. He dropped to the floor when assisted to Judge Tuley's private chambers. Unable longer to plead the cause of Unger, he left his fate dependent upon the mercy of the jury.

No reason can be assigned for the shootings. When Arnell, who had been drinking for several days, entered the house Wednesday, he went up stairs, to where his daughter was hiding from him under a bed, and killed her. He then came down and fatally shot hiswife, and fired at his invalid mother, who was sitting in her chair, shooting her through the hand.
