The Scheme for Choosing Provincial Governors.

HOUSES ARE PROVIDED FOR

Seventeen Members on First Appea tionment-All Electoral Matters by Hands of a Commission.

The project for an electoral law as drawn up by the committee appointed for the purpose is published at Havana. It only deals with the election of Representatives, Provincial Governors, Councilors, Mayors, and Ayuntamientes. A law regarding the election of a President and a Senate is not outlined as yet. The report says that the election of Provincial Councilors is most urgent, as these Councilors, to gether with double their number o electors will together elect a Senate, and the Senate and House of Repre sentatives together will decide regarding the legality of the election of s President. The project, in conformity with the constitution, recognizes the representation of minorities. The constitution says that the House of Representatives shall consist of one member for every 25,000 inhabitants. This will give Havana 17 members, Santa Clara 14, Santiago 13, Matansas 8 Pinar del Rio 7, and Puerto Principe 4. The electors may vote for eleven members in Havana, nine in Santa Clara, eight in Santiago, five in Matanzas, three in Puerto Principe, and four in Pinar del Rio. Regarding Provincia: Councilors, the constitution says that the number in each province shall not exceed twenty nor be less than eight. The project gives Havana twenty, Santa Clara and Santiago seventeen each, Matanzas fifteen, Pinar del Rio twelve, and Puerto Principe eight. The electors can vote for thirteen Councilors in Havana, eleven each in Santa Clara and Santiago, ten in Matanzas, eight in Pinar del Rio, and five in Puerto Principe. The commission has taken away all right of intervention on the part of the governmental authorities and puts all election matters in the hands of an electoral commission composed of members of the different political parties.

MAINE WRECK NOT MOVED. Contractor's Delay Causes a Protest fr. m Shipping Interests.

since the government completed the contract to raise the hull of the battleship Maine from Havana harbor, no work to this end has yet been done.nor have the contractors, N. F. Chamberlin & Co., filed the necessary bond of $25,000. This work of raising the wreck was to have been completed July 1, but a provision was inserted in the contract to the effect that if there occurred unavoidable delay in the work the time for its completion would be extended to March 1, 1902. Captain of the Port of Havana Lucien Young says that Chamberlain has sent him word that he is sick and asks for an extension of the contract. Capt. Young is considering whether sickness comes under the head of unavoidable delay. It is believed here that the contractors cannot undertake this work according to their agreement-namely, to raise the wreck without remuneration and give the government 3 per cent of what is derived from the sale of the ship's metal, machinery, ammunition and of souvenirs. The engineers' department has estimated the cost of the wreck's removal at several hundred thousand dollars and the cost of cutting up the hulk is estimated as equal to that of building another battle-ship. Shipping interests at Havana are urging the government to remove this wreck as soon as possible, as a dangerous bar is forming about

BADYEAR FOR COUNTERFEITERS

Secret Service Men Are Rapidly Breaking Up the Business, The annual report of Chief Wilkie of the secret service division, Treasury Department, submitted to Secretary Gage, indicates that this has been the most successful year in the history of the division. During the twelve months ending July 30, 1901, there were placed in circulation but four new counterfelt notes against an average of about ten for each year during the preceding ten years. Only one of these new notes was at all dangerous, the others being the product of unskilled workmanship. The total amount of counterfeit currency which came into the possession of the division during the year amounted to $30,-056, while $18,117 in counterfeit coin was confiscated. Coin counterfeiting decreased all over the country except in New York City and vicinity, where there has been a gradual increase in this class of crime particularly cases in which genuine silver forms the basis of the imitations. The arrests for twelve months show a total of 594.

Pler, They Most Death. Huddled together until there was scarcely standing-room in the shore end of a Chicago zinc-covered pier into which they had crowded in search of shelter from the fury of a storm Monday, eleven persons had their lives snuffed out, and a 12-year-old boy was paralyzed below the hips by a bolt of lightning. Ten of those who were killed died instantly. The eleventh still had a spark of life in his body when he was removed from the deathtrap, but the physicians who worked over him were unable to resuscitate him. Four of the dead were boys whose ages ranged from 8 to 12 years. The ages of four were between 15 and 20 years and there were three men.

Although three months have expired Steel Workers Go Out in Large Force.

THOUSANDS ARE INVOLVED

Procident Shaffer Declares It Means Fight to Bitter End by Workmen He Says Amalgamated Association Not Unprepared for Hattie.

President T. J. Shaffer issued orders from Pittsburg Sunday to all the union men employed in the various mills of the American Steel Hoop company to refuse to work Monday morning. In addition President Shaffer and other officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers spent Sunday sending out circular letters to sublodges all over the country notifying the 60,000 nembers of the strike declared Saturday against the American Sheet Steel company. The members of the board will decide whether all the union men employed by the United States Steel Corporation, which owns the sheet combine, shall be called out at this time. they come out 200,000 men will be involved. It is estimated that 15,000 men will be subject to the call in the American Steel Hoop mills in connection with the sheet steel strike. President Shaffer says:

"The impression that only the mills of the American Sheet Steel company are affected by the decision of Saturday is a mistake. The workmen of all mills in the American Steel Hoop company are interested, and will be officially notified that the scale has not been signed and that they will quit work. To the well organised mills this notice will not be necessary, as the men will have watched the situation carefully, but what are known as open mills, where union men have been allowed to work side by side with the non-union, is where we have to move Union men must walk out of these open mills in the hoop trust. The open mills to be notified are one at Hollidaysburg, Pa., three at Pittsburg, and one at Monessen. The organized milis which will close on our call are the upper and lower mills at Youngstown, O.; Pomeroy, O.; Sharon, Pa.; Girard Pa.; Warren, Pa.; Greenville, Pa. This, I believe, will bring the number of men affected up to 50,000. It is a matter of regret that the issue has been forced, but it now looks as though it will be a fight to the death. The Amalgamated association is not unprepared for it. We have not had general strike for many years, and in that time we have not been idle. We have funds and will use them. Right here I want to correct an impression which has been given out that no beneffts will be paid strikers until two months have elapsed. The Amalgamated association will begin at once to take care of its people."

CREPT OUT OF THE GRAVE.

Tells of the Scheme.

In the district court at Fort Goott, Kan., there was filed a confession of Dr. McGuire of Juno, Texas, who was arrested as an accomplice of Dr. Thes, O'Toole of that city in a conspiracy to defraud the Woodmen of the World. the Royal Neighbors and the Modern Woodmen lodges out of $8,000 life insurance by a mock death and burial in Western Texas, seventy-five miles from a railroad. O'Tolle was reported to have died of smallpox. McGuire corroborated this, but says the grave was dug under a large live oak tree and in a thick growth of underbrush, that while he was filling one end of the grave O'Tolle crawled out under the brush in the other end and got away. Then Cox was dismissed and the two men got away together. McGuire implicates Mrs. O'Tolle in the scheme, saying she met O'Tolle at San Antonio and later reported to the lodge that he was dead.

Riot in South Carolina. The first blood in a strike riot in South Carolina has been spilled in the Southern railway shops in Columbia. S. C. Sunday morning about 125 men with faces blackened or wearing black masks attacked the north fence of the yards, which comprise twenty acres, quickly made a breach and marched in. There were forty-two men in the yards, sleeping in two cars. Twice the guard, Myers, ordered a halt, and when the leaders were within thirty yards fired both barrels of a shotgun into the midst of the mass. At the same moment a pistol ball struck Myers in the temple, but glanced off. He got behind cover and used his revolver. The strikers attacked the car and called on the men within to come out. There was no response, and the rioters opened fire. The car looks as if it had run the gantlet of Boer sharpshooters. There are 200 bul'et holes in it. The occupants escaped by throwing themselves on the floor.

Cornered Negro Kills Two.

Cornered in a house by a determined band of infuriated citizens bent on meeting out summary justice to Peter Price, a negro, charged with insulting a young woman, Price in his desperate efforts to escape out and killed George Hooks and M. McGran and seriously cut Charles Davis. The affair occurred at laeger, a small town five miles south of Panther, W. Va. Price, on seeing his pursuers, took refuge in a small room in the rear of a saloon. The mob battered down the door, and as they entered the room Price threw himself at them with the ferocity of a tiger, a knife in each hand, Hooks and McGran fell to the floor and two revolvers in the crowd were discharged at Price, inflicting but slight wounds. With one desperate swing of his knife the negro laid open Davis' abdomen and then leaped from the window. He was pursued and captured by officers, who hurriedly sent him to the jail at Weich to avoid the vengeance of the mob.

A National Bank Closed.

The Seventh National Bank of New York closed its doors Thursday morning forty minutes after it had opened for business. It closed because the Controller of the Currency, Charles G. Dawes, had demanded satisfactory assurances, which the bank could not give, that its loan of $1,600,000 to Henry Marquand & Co. would be taken up by Saturday night and the cash be put in the bank. Controller Dawes was notified in reply that the bank would close, and he put Forrest Raynor, the national bank examiner, in as temporary receiver. Mr. Raynor took charge a few minutes after 11 o'clock, the following notice being posted upon the bank's front door: "This bank is in the hands of the Controller of the Currency.-Forrest Raynor, national bank examiner."

Dr. Wintner, on April 15 last, shot and killed William Leonard, a gambler, plaining at the time that he had discovered that Leonard was cheating him. He demanded his money back and secured a part of it from Leonard's partner, but Leonard refused to give up what he had won, and Dr. Wintner
