

LIVED TO SEE 109 YEARS. Bernard Morris, the oldest inhabitant of New York, who has died at the age of 109, was known as the "dean of the human race." He used to be a gardener in Prospect Park, and for several years past he has been living peacefully in retirement.

Barney attributed his remarkable longevity to his lifelong abstinence from spirits of all kinds and from tobacco. He was born in the County Cavan, Ireland, June 10, 1792. He leaves a widow, who was his third wife, and whom he married when he was 63 and she 21. She fell in love with him at first sight and was never from his side a single day.

Mrs. Nation Leads Sunbathing.

While Mrs. Carrie Nation was starting at the Fourth of July celebration by the Elks the platform she was speaking from broke and precipitated her ten feet to the ground. In the evening Mrs. Nation took a score of children and showed the crowd how she would smash every saloon. Each child was given a hatchet and instructed by Mrs. Nation how to use it. Drawing the children up in line, she told them of the evil wrought by the saloons and the distress brought upon children. Observing one of the young smashers smoking a pipe, Mrs. Nation grabbed it from his mouth and smashed it with her hatchet. Then she and her children rushed down upon a near-by saloon and smashed every bottle and poured out the liquor. There was no resistance, and she said she had a notion to keep on until each saloon was smashed. Opening of saloons on the Fourth of July was illegal.

Train Held Up by Strikers.

A special train carrying twelve non-union men into Charleston, S. C., hired by the Southern Railway to take the place of striking machinists at the Southern Railway shops, was held up by friends of the strikers at the Easton Home switch and the frightened passengers were compelled to disembark. The switch was turned after it had been set for the special, thus bringing the train to a stop. While the switch was being set right the strikers rushed to the platform of the coach, forced open the door and took the non-union men out. While the demonstration was exciting, no actual clash of arms arose, as the men on the special train seemed frightened and got off without serious protest. After this the men scattered and no effort was made by the railroad officials to get them together for work in the shops.

Lightning Hits Firefighters.

As a result of lightning striking in a party of Detroit excursionists at Bois Blanc, near Detroit, on the Fourth of July, William Sullivan was killed and Miss Edna McDonald rendered unconscious. She is still in a serious condition. Another man and woman were shocked, but soon recovered. In the city the Fourth of July disasters were confined to the drowning of Louis Kiley while bathing and the more or less serious injuring of about fifty persons by fireworks. None of them is in a dangerous condition. As far as could be learned no deaths resulted from the use of fireworks.

Victims of Heat.

At Chicago prostrations from heat made a new record for the present summer Thursday. At 2 a. m. Friday twenty-three cases had been reported. Not only were people overcome, but in at least two cases insanity followed. The dead are: Olaf Olson, 9 months old; heat caused death. Michael Bocish, 25 years old, died from heat at blast furnace No. 9, Illinois Steel plant, South Chicago.

Wind Blows Down Show Tent.

At Grand Island, Neb., while a dog and pony show was giving an exhibition a sixty mile an hour wind struck the tent, blowing it down and imprisoning the crowd. One boy was fatally hurt and a number of others injured. The tent was crowded and a panic followed the collapse. The loss to the show people is heavy.

Mortimer Nye is Stricken. Mortimer Nye, ex-lieutenant governor of Indiana and one of the best known public men in LaPorte, was stricken with paralysis at Union Mills just as he closed a Fourth of July address. He lapsed into unconsciousness, in which condition he remained, with but little hope of recovery. Mr. Nye was born in Ohio, is 63 years of age, and within the last few weeks his name has been freely connected with the Democratic nomination for governor in 1904. He served one term as lieutenant-governor, from 1892 to 1896, and is a leading Mason.

English of the Creation. The intelligent struggles of the Cuban teachers with English have furnished us with a good many pretty stories. One day not long ago the teachers were invited to some sort of an evening function at the Longfellow house on Brattle street. It happened that shortly before the hour for the assembly some ladies who were in front of that house were politely approached by a group of male Cuban teachers, who, with their hats in their hands, stood bowing. "If you please, dear madams," said their spokesman, "we are invited at this house tonight. We wish to attend. We were been on an excursion to the distance, and have not the time to go to our house. So that we wear, as you see, our day dress. Perhaps you can tell us if it would be permitted to us to go to the reception in our day dress? If it would not, then certainly shall we take the time to go to our home and put on our night dress!" The ladies assured them that they would do much better to go as they were than to put on their night dress, and they bowed gravely and gratefully and withdrew.—Boston Post.

A Bicycle Wedding. A bicycle wedding took place in Norfolk, England, the other day. The bride and bridegroom, bridesmaids and guests, making a party of about twenty, all rode to the church on gaily decorated machines. The bride was in spotless white, nor were the orange blossoms and the veil left out. The bridesmaids, also in white, wore crowned with wreaths of pink roses. Fortunately Dame Nature smiled on the scene.
