Why the Congregation Smiled.

One young theological student is wondering if he will ever become a successful minister. He has h doubts, for his sermons are often rendered ludicrous by an unfortunate lisp. He was called to fill a temporary vacancy in a village church last Sun day and gave out as his text: "He was called to fill a temporary vacancy in a village church last Sunday and gave out as his text: "He that per verteth a shinner from the error of his ways, shall shave his shoul to life and cover a multitude of shins." Yet he wondered why his congregation smiled.-New York Times.

Answers Absent Minded Men. Augustus Hare tells this story in his autobiography of a friend, who is some ways, was one of the most absent-minded men in the world. One day, meeting a friend, he said: "Hello, what a long time it is since I've seen you! How's your father?" "Oh, my father's dead." "God bless me! I'm very sorry.' The next year he met the same man again, and had forgotten all about it, so began with: "Hello! what a long time since I've seen you! How's your father?" "Oh, my father's Forest fires are ravaging the country near St. Johns, N. F., and threaten siveral large lumbering districts. Twentythree houses have been destroyed in the settlement of White Bay, and it is fared that other vi lages also have been burned. It is impossible to cope with the fires, and unless a heavy rainfall extinguishes them the loss to the timber interests will be great.

Emperia Has a $60,000 Fire. Emporia, Kan., narrowly escaped destruction by fire. As it is, the First Methodist Episcopal church, Sprague's planing mills. Randolph's coal yards and ice plant, and several residences and barns were destroyed. The total loss will foot up over $60,000, with insurance for not over $15,000. The fire, it is alleged, was started by a spark from a switch engine.

FLAT-HOUSE CULTURE.

Civilization of People Not Concerned About Neighbor's Comfart.

Job Hedges says: "Three wise men discussed the highest civilization. One opined that an appreciation of art and music marked the most cultured man. The second said that the philosopher appeared to have the firmest grasp upon civilization—a Darwin, a Tyndall, a Huxley, a Spencer. The third, whose life seemed saddened, remarked: 'My brothers, you are theorists. The end of civilization is happiness. The highest civilization, therefore, is found in actual life by people who are not concerned about the comforts of others. To my mind that family which in the ordinary course of hous :keeping can succeed in making the most hideous rumblings and noises in trundling their carpet sweepers, which they have brought from the country. etc., and who, not allowing books or newspapers to bind them down to miserable quiet, sit Sunday afternoon and every evening thumping upon floor or wall in such manner as to excite the admiration and envy of the neighbors-that family, I say, possessed of such angelic adolescence and zealous tact, can lay claim to a higher degree of civilization than your art connoisseur and philosopher."-New
