GEORGE W. BROWN FOR CONGRESS.

DuPage county in square miles is one of the smallest counties in Illinois, says the Journal, but what it lacks in area it more than makes up in the brain and brawn of the people. Many of its children have gone forth into the world and made places for themselves that are filled with responsibility and trust, and in each and every case they have proved equal to the requirements of the position and reflected credit on the county of their nativity.

The General Assembly of 1901 made a decided change in the congressional districts of the state, and DuPage county, which, with Kane, McHenry, DeKalb, Kendall and Grundy counties, formed the old Eighth congressional district, is now in the new Eleventh district, composed of McHenry, Kane, DuPage and Will counties—DeKalb, Kendall and Grundy counties having been detached and now are a part of the new Twelfth district.

DuPage county now sees an opportunity of sending one of its favorite sons to congress, and in presenting to the people of the Eleventh district the name of Judge George W. Brown, of Wheaton, it does so with a feeling that it has named a man in whose honesty, integrity and forceful character there is no question of doubt; one whose republicanism is as always has been above reproach, and one who—if the people of the Eleventh district will look at him from an unbiased standpoint—will be sent to congress by an overwhelming majority. Upon taking his seat in congress the Eleventh district will have a man thoroughly familiar with the habits and customs of men, a man capable of holding his own in any debate that may come up, and one that will always be watchful of the interests of his constituents.

Judge Brown is a DuPage county product, having been born within its borders May 17, 1859. His education was received in the schools of the country. He graduated from the Chicago College of Law in 1883 and hung out his shingle in his home town. His strong personality, his congeniality, his ability as a lawyer and the attention he invariably gave to matters entrusted to his care caused his rapid advancement in his profession. In 1890 he was elected probate judge of DuPage county and re-elected again in 1894. During his service as county judge the gentleman proved his metal and was in every instance the friend and trusted counsellor of the widow and fatherless.

In 1897 he was, in company with Chas. A. Bishop and Henry B. Willis, elected to the circuit bench of the Sixteenth judicial circuit of Illinois. During his career as a circuit judge he has made hosts of friends in the counties comprising the district by his uniform kindness, fairness and technical knowledge of law. His decisions were always just and above any taint of suspicion.

In October last the supreme court of Illinois, recognizing his honesty and ability, appointed him one of the associate judges of the appellate court of the Second district. In this position, as in the preceding ones, he proved himself equal to the call made upon him, adapting himself readily to the change in his environment, rendered his decisions promptly, fairly and in language that was terse and right to the point.

This is the man that DuPage county presents to the voters of the Eleventh congressional district as a republican candidate for congress. Take him as he is. Examine his public and private life and in every spot and in every place you will find him theron the word "approve."

"I tell you what it is," said a prominent Aurora business man to the Express yesterday. "I've learned one thing during the past year about advertising and that is that the only right way to advertise is in the newspapers. I am done with programs, dodgers, circulars, hand bills and the like, for I know that I get more publicity for the money in the newspapers than anywhere else. All the principal business houses in the United States have found out the same thing, but it sometimes takes a long time for young men to learn to learn the lesson. They want to do a little more business and think that a cheap card in a program is just as good as in a newspaper, and then a dodger or circular left at the door which goes into the fire the next minute is just as good as a notice in a paper which every member of the family reads. They will sometimes hear their mistake, but it is frequently a costly lesson."

Sheriff Gorham went to Joliet Tuesday, taking with him Harry Murphy convicted of the Hinckley holdup. His sentence is indeterminate and ranges from one to fourteen years.

Circuit court last Monday. The calendar is being set and Baily and Baker, two of the criminals, will receive sentence.

The delinquent tax list this year will be printed in the Illinoisan. Friday, March 18 was the date set.

FARMER IS GORED TO DEATH
COUNTY BOARD REMAINS THE SAME—
NAPEVILLE MAY GET ELECTRIC ROAD

What Township Collectors Have Done—No
Change to be Made in Burlington Train—
Other County News From Exchanges.

William Bateman, a well known citizen living about two miles northwest of Kaneville, was gored by a bull Thursday afternoon and received terrible injuries, from which he died the next morning. The bull belonged to a neighbor and had broken into Mr. Bateman's field. He went after the animal to drive it out and attacked it, when the bull turned upon him. He received several terrible thrusts from the infuriated animal and was unconscious when removed from the field. A physician was called, but he did not rally. Deceased was 68 years old.

In five of the town meetings Tuesday supervisors were elected. Wayne returns C. D. Bartlett without opposition Bloomingdale does the same with Jacob E. Bender. William Hammerschmidt won out in the town of York by a majority of 181. Charles Blodgett, assistant from the town of Downers Grove, had no opposition. A. W. Kohley won in the town of Lisle by a majority of 78. This leaves the board exactly the same as during the past year. The first meeting of the board for organization will be held Tuesday, April 15.

It is rumored that the Electric road will build next spring a branch from Warrenville Junction to Naperville, which is about two and one-half miles. This would make a road from Batavia to Naperville and one from Wheaton to Aurora. As there is considerable travel out of Naperville to all of those towns, and also to Elgin and Chicago, such a branch would probably pay. If Naperville citizens get together it can have it.

It is now unlikely that any change will be made in the suburban train schedule of the Burlington road before June 1. It was planned to abandon at least two-thirds of the trains operated between the Union station and Riverside May 1. Officials of the road say that they desire another month to ascertain just what percentage of business from Millard avenue will go to the recently opened Millard avenue extension of the Metropolitan Elevated road.

The following table gives the total tax of each township in DuPage county and the amount of delinquent taxes, returned by each:

Township.	Total Tax.	Delinquent.
Bloomingdale	$9,187.41	$ 266.99
Bloomfield	5,385.23	395.36
Wayne	6,690.31	216.09
Wheaton	22,157.33	2,705.09
Millard	26,460.39	10,050.23
York	32,645.29	2,970.00
Downers Grove	71,211.43	14,838.94

Glen Ellyn is soon to have two trains to and from Chicago each day that will run no farther west. Material is on the ground for making switching arrangements and the bank east of the "red bridge" is being scraped into the old gravel pit to make room for an additional track.

C. D. Bartlett is a cattle feeder who understands his business. He has been feeding sixty-two steers the past winter which, when sold, averaged about 1,470 pounds apiece. He had about $6,000 to his credit when the sale was made.

The Warrenville postoffice dies very hard. It is in the last stages of its existence. Some few individuals are trying to nurse it back to life, but they may as well accept the new order of things gracefully.—Democrat.

Glen Ellyn is to have a new industry—the raising of gold fish for Linen Park and the trade of Chicago. A house has been built for the manager near Mr. Kline's and a well has been put down to furnish water for the reservoir which is soon to be built.

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil

It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fussy child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anaemic child and his face becomes rosy at all of health. Take a fleshy child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him oil, and he will grow and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme it has been done for years. Of course you must use light oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither cooks nor tastes like oil because we are so careful in making it pleasant to take.

Send for free sample.

SCOTT & BOWMAN, Chemists, 205 Main St., N. Y. per cent. pure oil.
