Debate on the oleomargarine measure was continued throughout the session of the senate. Mr. Heitfeld opposed the bill because he believed it proposed to drive the oleomargarine industry to the wall. Mr. Gallinger advocated the bill "because it was a protest against fraud and against an industry which depended for its success upon duplicity and dishonesty." Mr. Spooner made an extended legal and constitutional argument in support of the measure. Mr. Bailey began an argument in opposition to the bill, but had not concluded when adjournment came. Following a brief executive session, Mr. Stewart reported the Indian appropriation bill and gave notice that he would call it up at an ear-

Rapid progress was made by the bouse with the sundry civil appropriation bill, ninety-three of the 139 pages of the measure being completed. Efforts to amend the bill were successfully resisted by Mr. Cannon. Mr. Sulzer (N. Y.) offered an amendment to appropriate $50,000 for lighting the torch of Bartholdi's statue of liberty in New York harbor. It was rejected by a vote of 61 to 67. Mr. Small (N. C.) had the appropriation for topographic surveys increased from $250,-900 to $300,000. Mr. Knox reported the bill for the admission of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arizona. During the day Mr. Robinson (Ind.) discussed the "passing of the House" as a deliberative body. Mr. Grow (Pa.) discussed the question of electing senators by popular vote. He favored a constitutional amendment for that purpose.

Wednesday, April 2. Discussion of the oleomargarine bill again occupied most of the day in the Senate. Bills were passed authorizing the appointment of John Russell Bartlett as a rear admiral on the retired list of the navy; transferring a lot in Woodland Cemetery to the City of Quincy, Ill., and extending the time for presentation of claims to reimburne the governors of states and territories for expenses incurred by them in alding the United States to raise and organize an army in the war with Spain to Jan. 1, 1903. Seventyone private pension bills were also passed. Adjournment came after an executive session.

The sundry civil appropriation bill was passed by the House, making the eighth of the regular annual supply bills which has passed at this session Only a few unimportant amendments were attached to it. After it was disposed of debate on the revenue cutter bill was resumed. Messrs. Sulzer (N. Y.), Bellamy (N. C.), Ryan (N. Y.), Lessler (N. Y.) and Goldfogle (N. Y.) spoke for the measure and Messrs. Loud (Cal.) and Crumpacker (Ind. against it. Mr. Loud said he was opposed on principle to retirement with pay of employes of the government. Had he been a member of Congress when the law was enacted for the retirement of naval or army officers he would have antagonized it.

Thursday, April 3.

By the close vote of 37 to 35 a motion to recommit the oleomargarine bill was defeated in the senate. The bill was then passed without the house amendment, substantially in the form or the Grout bill, by a vote of 39 to 31. The Mooney or minority bill was defeated, 39 to 29. Both Senators Cullom and Mason were present and vot ed for the bill and against the substitute. On motion of Mr. Penrose of the committee on immigration, the senate made the Chinese exclusion bill the unfinished business. The senate at 5:10 went into executive session and at 5:15 adjourned. In the house the senate bill to promote the efficiency of the revenue cutter service passed by a vote of 135 to 49. The opponents of the measure fought it to the very last ditch. At the very end they attempted a fillouster, but were swept aside by the overwhelming majority in favor of the measure. The discussion occupied the entire session. Mr. Mann (III.) crosed for the opposition. He deciared that the first gun of the Spanish-American war was not fired by the revenue cutter service. He said the first gun was fired by the Spaniards at Manila, because, through negligence aboard the revenue cutter McCulloch, the burning out of that ship's smoke- increase of $1.287,560.

Rich Finds Uncovered Near Pony Show Fine Average Assays.

RUSH TO THUNDER MOUNTAIN

Primitive Methods Said to Freduce Wondorful Rosults in a District Alloged to Have Heen Lavighty Sprinkled by Nature with Decemposed Ore. Three rich gold strikes in as many different mines in three days is the record of Madison county, Montana. The Fourth of July mine, near Pony, which was recently purchased by the Largey estate, is the scene of the first strike. An unusually rich streak of gold ore in the tunnel was found, and while its extent is not yet known, the outlook is considered most promising.

The ore assays $170 a ton in gold. Gilbert & Parker, owners of the Olympia mine, near Pony, have struck high grade ore, an average sample assay showing $150 gold, 30 per cent lead and seventy ounces silver. The vein is from twelve eighteen inches wide. The mine is an extension of the noted White Pine property.

Still another extremely rich discovcompleted. Adjournment followed the ery has been made at Pony, in the Pan-American, under lease to McFadden, Brackett & Ervin. This streak is from eight to twelve inches in width and assay returns show $156 in gold, 25 per cent in lead and sixteen ounces in silver to the ton. What is regarded as absolutely reliable information concerning the Thunder Mountain gold fields was brought to Boise City, Idaho, by Chas. Crawford, a practical miner and former newspaper man. "It is a most remarkable "section," said Crawford. "Over an area with a radius of about thirty-five miles nature has sprinkled gold lavishly. Much of the surface is decomposed and the ore easily handled. The practice is to work it with hydraulics when the large operations can be conducted, but the poor man merely runs it through his rocker and his returns are ample.

"I investigated the stories of big money made out of this decomposed quartz, and I discovered that they had not been exaggerated. The Canwell brothers took out $20,000 in fourteen weeks, using a sluice box. Some of the dirt went over $150 a pound. In other instances men have taken out from $30 to $350 in two hours by use of the most primitive methods.

"While there are instances of quick wealth made that way, the ore operators in the field have for the most part made their wealth by seiling their claims to companies. In the neighborhood of $2,000,000 by Eastern companies has been invested there already.

"The trails are filled with men rushing to the gold field. I witnessed many pitiable sights. Lack of provisions had weakened many of those who had been toiling on snowshoes and behind dog sleds over the rough mountains, but no amount of urging could turn them back. In a few instances I encountered men who had lived for days on rice, all their other provisions having either been eaten or stolen by desperate characters who have joined the rush."

Artificial Color Amendment Max Afford Loophole to Manufacturers.

PROPOSED BY MR. FORAKER

Cleverly Worded Addition to the Bith Is Likely to Defeat the Object of Its Framers, Who Look for a Bitter Fight When It Reaches the Bouse.

An exceptionally important amendment was added to the oleomargarine bill before it passed the Senate. Apparently those having the measure in charge did not appreciate its importance, as it was accepted without debate or opposition. The amendment was framed by Senator Foraker of Ohio. It provides that instead of imposing a tax of 10 cents a pound upon oleo colored in imitation of butter the tax shall be collected upon oleomargarine 'artificially" colored in imitation of butter. The modification promises to throw the bill into a deadlock. Representative Henry of Connecticut, who is leading the dairy forces in the House, declared that the restriction of the prohibitive tax to "artificially" colored oleomargarine would destroy the object of the bill

The House may be expected to bitterly fight the change, although Charles Y. Knight, of Chicago, secretary of the National Dairy Union, says that the restriction is not important. It is explained, however, that it is possible to feed cows so as to produce highly colored, rich cream, which used in the manufacture of oleomargarine will give it a tint of color, relieving it of the remblance of lard, and bringing it near to the color of the higher grades of butter. As this is not artificial coloring the product would not be subjected to the prohibitive tax, but would be required to pay only one-quarter of a cent a pound.

The reduction of the tax upon uncolored oleo, and the lowering of the license upon manufacturers and wholesale and retail dealers in beneficial to the oleo interests, and should one House be forced to accept the Foraker amendment it is asserted the manufacture of the product will be stim-
