the Democratic presidentia to it. He accuses Mr. Hill been "a sulker and repudiabrough presidential campaigns, in the favorite con of the reor-sing element of the party; he is special representative of those who so complacently forgetten the of the prodigal son that they is place the parental homestead wheels and start in hot pursuit of wayward son, determined to compel the boy to eat fatted calf, even i the hunks have destroyed his taste for wholesome food."

Mr. Bryan remarks, in the course o an agalysis of the platform suggested in bir. Hill's recent speech, that "his advice to press tariff reform comes with bad grace from one who as cratic senator refused to support the only tariff reform measure passed since the civil war." Mr. Hill's position on the money question, Mr. Bryan declares to be that of an "artful dod-He says that it is fortunate for the Democratic party that Mr. Hill's

As to that, Democrats may be best able to judge. But there can be no doubt in the mind of any American whose regard is for his country's welfare before it is for party advantage, that it is fortunate for the people of the United States that Mr. Hill's plans are understood, since clear understanding of his plans enables them to take all necessary precautions to prevent them from being carried into effect. There is as much of menace to our prosperity in the planks which will offered for the construction of a new Democratic platform as there ever was in those of the platform adopted at Chicago in 1896 and in those of the Kansas City platform of 1900. By opposing the proposed Hill platform, Mr. Bryan is therefore doing work for his country, without intending to do so. In the meantime the seople will oppose both the plat-Bryan. Though they vary in details, they are equally pernicious.

The filmsy, shopworn tactics of the Chicago combine to arouse antagonism against the state administration and the regularly accredited state organization by bowling "machine" rule has fallen with a crash. The game is so old, and him been played so often to the advantage of the diagruntled pollticing, that it is now regarded as the last resort of the fessilised politician who lacks in all originality. It do ouger serves the purpose of arousing intrust in the minds of the people against the object of its attack, but of the fearless and honest. The very nment such methods are resorted to distrustful diagust is created against

An Old Game.

Another shopworn method of deceiving the majority is by taking advantage of over confidence created by the car of "barmony." Rather than face he pending issues fearlessly, bonestwand courageously they hope to trick he object of their wrath by calling or harmony. With this method they upe to quiet opposition and then take dvantage of the situation. The man with the cry of harmony on his lips is frequently a hypocrite, a sneaking coward looking for an advantage.

In uphelding the state organization and the accredited state Republican organization the people will not be codwinked by either of the two methods. They can easily meet every lesue fairly and squarely presented against the party upon their merits and they owe it a duty to themselves to give ne quarter.—Effingham Republican.

Firm, for Free Stiver.

From the viewpoint of the political "layout" Mr. Bryan continues to give comfort to the Republican party. His latest deliverance is a protest against the reconstruction of he Democratic platform, together the following announcement: "The Kansas City platform will be reformed (in 1904), and the party will the present such other questions as the time and the public welfare die-

From a further remark that he does not believe the tariff will be the paramount farme, it is evident that Mr. Bryan is determined that the sixteentiag shall never be hauled lown. This certainly gives the Resublicans a tactical advantage, for anher fight against free silver will be no easy." On the other hand, the Democracy seems to be in a wretched slight. It is to have nothing to say bout its own platform, but must do he will of Mr. Bryan. Such arrogance and audacity on one side, and such helpless submission on the other. have seldom been seen.

And yet the Democracy may not abmit. That is a problem of the future. No one can tell what will hapsen between now and 1904. By that Ime the Commoner may be less influstial than the Chicago Chronicle as : soulder of Democratic opinion.

party, it has the credit of a long line of splendid achievements, the chief among which is the fact that it carried theory of popular government to a degree of perfection hoped for, but never attained even by the founders and fathers of the republic and the constitution. These splendid creations of the fathers set out and defined the perfect theory of popular government, or government of, for and by the people; but never until the Republican party came upon the stage in 1860 with its living conscience and almost divine aspirations did the grand theory reach the splendid fruition of an accomplished fact. Even in the days of such men as Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson and their co-workers the crime and shadow of slavery rested like an ominous cloud on the political horizon of the young republic, and aside from that the great masses of the people were not fully educated up to the standard where complete reliance upon them could give perfect assurance that they could make popular government a complete success. So, even under these great men we only had the theory of popular government, and it was and is among the chief merits of the Republican party that under its benign policles this theory has been converted into a fact so forceful that all the world is charmed by its splendor or taught by its example. For many years prior to 1860 the crime of slavery under the sanction and support of the Democratic party had carried the country out of the sight of true popular rule, and men even in Illinois were shot down for claiming their divine right for freedom, and virtually a small number of slave owners ruled the congress, the courts, the legislatures and every source of power; but when the Republican party came on the stage all this was abolished and the real and honest popular government was es tablished in every state and territory in the union, except in such states as the Democrate party yet holds. where they still deny the rule of the people and rob them of their rights in order that Democratic bosses may still rule as of old. It is this splendid devotion to popular government which has caused the people to prefer the Republican party to any other, and this rule will continue as long as the great party is faithful to its trust. Will Stand Investigation, The state administration has been in power long enough to be judged calmly and without prejudice by honest, capable men. It has been subject to the most violent abuse; villification equal to that heaped on its predecessor or any other administration which has served the commonwealth, but from what sources has this tirade come? Not a word has been adduced to prove corruption on the part of Governor Yates and his immediate associates. When called on for particulars of this sort the traducers repeat the chestnut about the personal express frank and petty matters like that with which the state has nothing to do and which may or may not true. When asked for facts regarding the administration they bold up their hands in holy horror and declare that the governor is going to do thus and so, and a man is sent down from Chi cago to bound the executive's foot steps and make mountains out of mole hills or even no hills at all. It gravely stated that next summer a certain gentleman is going to be placed at the head of the Institution for the Blind, which is about as probable as that the persons making the statement are capable of telling the truth at all times. It is claimed that the brotherin-law has been favored especially by a state institution which has bought nothing of him. In truth, the difficulty lies in the fact that these diagruptled ones are unable to have their own way and run the administration to their liking. Had they, instead of the governor, been permitted to make the appointments, as far as they are concerned, all would have been well. But they were not: "hence these tears." But if all the dissatisfied elements had to be placated in the same way where would sufficient patronage have been found to go round? The governor has had the temerity to do his thinking himself and conscientiously to stand for what he believed to be right and appoint to office men who would attend to business and has not asked the consent of the Chicago newspaper trust hence, in their eyes, he has committed an unpardonable sin. but recent events show clearly that the people at large are of a different mind. The result in Sangamon county shows that the people, especially in the rural districts, are not getting their opinions made for them to order by the newspaper trust, but are getting them first hand, and the talk of corruption and intimidation is simply silly, but some explanation of the defeat of the ring must be offered .-

Jacksonville Journal. Stevenson Behind the Times.

Adiai E. Stevenson rises to remark that the Tilden platform of 1876 would be a good one for the Democracy to reaffirm at the present time. Here is dinner was given at Chattanooga, the tariff plank: "We denounce the present tariff levied upon nealy four thousand articles as a masterpiece of injustice, inequality and false pretense. It yields a dwindling, not a yearly rising, revenue. It has impoverished many industries to subsidize a few. It prohibits imports that might purchase the products of American labor. It promotes fraud, fosters smuggling, enriches dishonest officials and bankrupts honest merchants. We demand that all custom house taxation shall be only for revenue." But the tariff now in force is criticised Mr. Bryan is in his home affairs. His because it yields too much revenue, while the country is rich and busy aggregate but in an impartial distribe ution of prosperity among all classes, trades, industries and business enterprises. first year of Altgeldism. When the organized appetites took charge of affairs following the Fifer regime it found a treasury in good condition with a large balance in the state's strong box. How long was it before the treasury was looted and the state disgraced as it had not been since the time of Governor Matteson, back in the fifties. Up to date Governor Yates not pardoned any anarchists of the Haymarket type, or any other type, for that matter. Mob violence has found no favor in his eyes and will not while he is governor of the state. The Shenkle episode in Greene county last spring fully demonstrates this fact. The strong arm of the military will only be used after the civil authorities have exhausted their powers. The mandates of the courts will be enforced at all hazards. What more do we want or expect? If the civil power can't do it the musket will else why is the governor the commander-in-chief, and what is he there for? Can any of his political opponents, either in or out of the Republican party, point to an event that has brought reproach or disgrace to his administration? As a matter of fact his record has been clean, able and honorable in all respects. The great mass of the people are satisfied and have the most unbounded faith in the young man. They believe in his honesty, integrity and uprightness of character and his ability to meet any emergency that may arise in the future with the same fearless, good ludgment that has characterized his

The Modern Copperhead,

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says of recent expressions in regard to the Philippines calculated to sustain rebellion and increase the difficulties of government: "There is not the faintest reason to fear that the present breed of copperheads will have the influence which their predecessors had, or to make any such trouble for the country's armies as those marplots did. The policy of extending Amercan sovereignty over the Philippines will be carried out vigorously on the the lines aiready laid down. All the legislation which is needed to strengthen the army in the islands and on the mainland of the United States will be enacted. The little gang of copperheads in each branch of congress will be easily overcome. The fire in the rear on the American soldiers which was ineffective in the case of Vallandigham, Jesse D. Bright, Daniel W Voorhees and their fellow flag furlers will be still feebler from their weak imitators of the present day." The present breed of copperheads is more like carthworms than the old fire-enting mischief-makers of the sixties. These earthworms seem to love notoriety more than anything else. They can get it by going to the limit in treasonable advice to the poor Filipinos, and by abusing the government for putting down with a strong arm the rebellious people. The modern copperhead is the queerest of rep-

Governor and Labor Standing Together. The Republicans of Sangamon county in convention assembled but voiced the opinion of every loyal Republican in the state in the following ringing resolution denouncing the Chicago

"We commiserate the Chicago trust press for its contemptible failure in its efforts to besmireh the splendid untarnished administration of Governor Yates, and we congratulate the Republicans of Sangamon county for the fitting rebuke administered to a slanderous and malicious press, and for their unqualified disapproval, expressed through the ballot, of that sort of journalism. We take pride in demonstrating to the state that a campaign of villification and falsehood cannot prosper in Sangamon county, and we are glad of the opportunity to say to the state that we, who are nearest to the governor and his administration, and who thereby had the best opportunity to make a fair estimate, hereby piedge him our support. We commend Governor Richard Yates for his patient forbear ance and composure while under the fire of the venomous shafts and abuse, hurled at him by the Chicago trust press, without the semblance of excuse or justification."

The Crucifixion of Mr. Bryan. The Chicago Chronicle, the leading Democratic paper of the west, a few days ago contained the following ref. erence to the Peerless, etc.:

"A few days ago a 'Bryan dollar Tenn., and Congressman Gaines of that state sent to his constituents this sentiment: 'Our peerless leader, who has done nothing to forfeit our love except to die for us, crucified on a cross of gold.' The same day Mr. Bryan moved into a $3,000 brick barn which he had built on his Nebraska farm, seeking temporary shelter while his $8,000 house was being completed. A $500 Jersey cow occupied a distant part of the barn in which Mr. Bryan had domiciled himself and family. Few plutocrats are better fixed than 'crucifizion' is a beautiful myth
