WHAT AILS PRESIDENT GESNER?

The spectacle of the village president so far forgetting the dignity of his position by losing his temper and making himself the laughing stock of the village Saturday night because the board of trustees ventured to differ with him in the method of the investigation of his trumped-up charges against Police Officer Hoffert, would have been pitiable had it not been so extremely ludicrous.

SNAPS, THEN AND NOW.

It is quite refreshing in these days when the calamity howler is busy reminding the boys and young men of their narrowing chances in life to occasionally have a sturdy old pioneer stand up in the congregation and tell how it was when he was a boy.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION BELIEVES THAT THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY SHOULD MAKE ITS FIGHT IN THE NEXT TWO CAMPAIGNS UPON A TARIFF REVISION PLATFORM.

By all means! The country would be sure to enthuse over the prospect of some tariff legislation along the lines of the famous Wilson bill.

built. He worked at it three weeks and received $8 for the job. Then he started to learn to be a printer and he received for his first year's work the magnificent sum of $30.

The experiences of General Atkins have been almost duplicated in the lives of hundreds of men who climbed the steep places and won success in spite of the difficulties. Stories like this ought to serve as great incentives for the young men of this generation.

It would do the boys a whole lot of good if they would listen to the experiences their fathers and grandfathers can relate, instead of jumping to the conclusion that the times are out of joint because there are so few soft snaps in business.

The president's uncle, who is a Democrat, takes occasion to notify his party leaders through the New York Times that the Democratic party has "invariably and on all occasions and at all opportunities been in favor of acquiring land everywhere and anywhere, and as for the qualities of the citizens of the land acquired, it cared very little if the soil were good or the mines rich."

The Atlanta Constitution, the Nashville American and the Memphis Commercial-Appeal—all leading and influential Democratic newspapers of the south, warn the party that if the question of surrendering the Philippines is made the leading or even a leading issue of the next national campaign it will be a fatal policy.

There is one thing connected with Mr. Bryan that has never received the attention it deserved. With Democrats and Democratic newspapers who refused to preach free silver he has had no patience, but he has never rebuked those Democrats who advocated silver against their convictions.

William Jennings Bryan to David Bennett Hill: "You can't play in my backyard. You snaked and skulked in 1896 and in 1900." David Bennett Hill to William Jennings Bryan: "Who wants to play in your backyard? Anyway, you haven't any backyard to play in any longer."
