The Erickson, Nelson and Swanson families held a meeting of relatives and friends at the residence of Gust Nelson, North Foots street, last Sunday. There were over fifty in attendance. Tables were spread on the lawn under the trees. Quite a number came from Chicago and all enjoyed a delightful day and gathering. The weekly crop bulletin for the week ending Tuesday says: The past week has generally been favorable for the growth of vegetation and quite favorable for carrying on seasonable farming operations. Showers occurred in the early part of the week, interrupting farm work to some extent, especially in the northern part of the state. During the latter part of the week the weather was fair and favorable for haying and harvesting, which have been pushed rapidly. The weather was warm at the beginning and end of the week and cool in the middle of the week, but not so cool as to retard the growth of vegetation materially. As a rule the showers were light to moderately heavy, but in some localities they were very heavy. As a close observer of the arrival and unloading of stock in the yards Sehan G. Wordsworth, state humane officer in charge at Chicago, in order to avoid a large per cent of dead and crippled stock, advises all shippers to be sure and have all stock well cooled off before loading, also not to overload, and in particular to have cars well cleaned and properly bedded with fresh bedding, thereby avoiding many dead and cripples. A large per cent of the loss in dead and cripples is through carelessness by shippers in not taking time to let stock cool off and having cars in good order before loading. They would save a large per cent of the deadage, which, at present high prices, counts against the shipper severely. The first extreme hot weather affects hogs more than at any other time of the year. This spring as high as twenty-five dead have been taken out of a single car, making a loss of around $400.
