INSURGENT LEADERS SIGN PACT IN BLOOD

Murder a Native Who Refuses to Be Branded and Comply With Growsome Conditions. Washington dispatch: A growsome paper which reveals some of the methods resorted to by insurgent leaders in the Philippines has reached Adjutant General Corbin. It is the record of the trial of Pascual Pasis, an insurgent officer, and four others, for the murder of a native who refused to submit to the "branding" operation and sign the secret pact with his blood. The pact, translated, reads: "We, understanding all that the regulations of the K K K explain, swear in the name of God and on our lives that we will comply cheerfully till the last drop of our blood to defend this our native country; also, that in any case we commit things contrary to the regulations of the K, we shall expect cheerfully to be punished as we deserve, even should it be by death, and in order to give faith to these statements we sign this with our blood which flows from our breast. Buellac, April 27, 1900. It was shown at the trial that Pasis, with his comrades, went about the country seeking members for the Katipunan, the dreaded secret order of the insurgents. Natives were forced to sign the documents after first being branded on the right breast with the mouth of a hot bottle. The blood for the signature was drawn from the left breast by a cross cut with a dagger belonging to Pasis.

SIX MEN KILL WOMAN ON MISSOURI FARM

She Refuses to Give Up Cow and Protects Her Fence With a Shotgun. Caruthersville, Mo., special: Mrs. L. F. Johnston was shot and instantly killed by a mob of six men on her farm, five miles west of here. Trouble arose over a cow Mrs. Johnston had in her possession. The animal belonged to J. C. Tinsley. Some men whose names are not known called for the cow and were refused. Mrs. Johnston was alone, and they tore down the fence. Mrs. Johnston compelled them to rebuild the fence, and they left. Later six men, all armed, appeared at the Johnston home and demanded the cow, threatening Mrs. Johnston's life. She was alone with her 9-year-old daughter. She went into the house, got a gun and returned to the yard. When the men attempted to tear down the fence again she fired two shots at them and received in return a volley of shots from the men. She started to run in the house and was struck in the back by several shots from Winchester rifles. All the men escaped and are being hunted by officers. There were no witnesses except the murderers and the little girl.

FILIPINO MAKES PLEA TO MILES

Desires Autonomy and the General Says Hope May Be Fulfilled. Manila cable: At a public reception to Gen. Miles in the island of Cebu a Filipino speaker urged a more expeditious fulfillment of the promises made by the Americans, including autonomy. In reply Gen. Miles advised the people to be peaceful and patient and to trust the Americans to satisfactorily settle all the questions now pending. He said he hoped to see the ambition of the inhabitants for autonomy finally fulfilled. The Filipino chief Semicola, with fifty followers, has surrendered to the constabulary at Albay, Luzon. Semicola surrendered with the chief Bellarmino at Legaspi in July, 1901, and took the oath of allegiance, but he subsequently fled and organized a band of lawless.

MAHOMET AND THE CAT

Mahomet did not give encouragement to those who ban the cat from the company of honest folk. A cat, it is said, once went to sleep on the sleeve of the prophet's robe. When the hour of prayer arrived Mahomet, so the story goes, cut away his sleeve in order that the cat should be undisturbed.

PROFITS OF FISH DEALERS

Would Seem a Good Investment for Your Surplus Capital. A remarkable statement as to the enormous difference between the prices obtained by fishermen for their catches and those which the public have to pay for fish was given by Mr. L. W. Lyde during a lecture to the members of the Manchester Geographical Society. Mr. Lyde, who is an examiner in and teacher of geography, said that he once had a class of boys who were deeply interested in the question of railway rates for carrying mackerel. He learned afterwards that the reason for this unwonted attention was that some of the boys' fathers were fishermen, who had special arrangements with the railway companies in regard to the rates charged to them. He made inquiries into the subject, and found that, while fishermen received 24 1/2 6d per ton for mackerel from St. Ives, Cornwall, to London, 25 per ton. Then Mr. Lyde wrote to Billingsgate and inquired from the dealers what was their price for mackerel. The reply was 250 per ton wholesale and 260 a ton retail!

NEW DODGE IN STREET BEGGING

Ideas count for success, even in street begging. Old tricks become tiresome through familiarity. The mendicant of the present day, if he would live well, must get something new. One of the latest dodges of the New York solicitor of alms is heroic. It first arouses the indignation of the victim, then pacifies him, and finally wins his sympathy and his money. It is worked in this way: A shabbily attired man hurries along the street, apparently unconscious of his surroundings. He expectorates, as though by chance, on to the well polished shoe of a passer-by. Before the man has time to protest the mendicant drops on his knees and, with the remnants of a well-worn handkerchief, rubs away at the soiled shoe, meanwhile pouring forth profuse apologies. Nine times out of ten he gets a dime for his politeness.

COSTLY WEDDINGS FOR GUESTS

A royal wedding is a very expensive affair, not only for those who give it, but for each guest. The presents necessarily cost the guests a great deal, for only the richest and rarest gifts can be offered to royalty. Besides a gift, each guest must leave a sum of money for every servant and attendant in his host's house. As there are numerous attendants, and each one must receive a "tip" according to his rank, a great deal of money is necessary. At the marriage of the Grand Duke and Duchess of Hess the guests left altogether £1,750 to be distributed, besides bestowing over £1,500 worth of gifts among the servants before their departure.

CAPT. CARTER'S TERM NEARLY OUT

Former Capt. O. M. Carter, whose military career suddenly terminated in the Fort Leavenworth prison with a five years' sentence against him for financial irregularities growing out of his connection with the river and harbor improvements in Savannah, is due for release from confinement early next year. Prisoners are granted a curtailment of their sentence at the rate of two months each year for good conduct. Former Capt. Carter has been a model prisoner and ten months will be deducted from his term, according to present indications.

GEN. CORBIN'S RECENT REPORT

Since the publication of Adjutant General Corbin's report it has come to be known as "the wine, women and song report." It will be remembered that Gen. Corbin discussed the tendency of young officers to get married and recommended the instruction of soldiers in music, especially urging that they be taught regimental airs and songs.

Or, you can get a man's magazine, all politics and business. Or, you can get magazines just for the children. But "The Pilgrim" aims to have something to interest every member of the family.

One of the latest diseases to attract the attention of the faculty is, it seems, mysophobia. THE PINKHAM CURES

ATTRACTING GREAT ATTENTION AMONG THINKING WOMEN.

Mrs. Frances Stafford, of 243 E. 114th St., N.Y. City, adds her testimony to the hundreds of thousands on Mrs. Pinkham's files.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies were first introduced skeptics all over the country frowned upon their curative claims, but as year after year has rolled by and the little group of women who had been cured by the new discovery have since grown into a vast army of hundreds of thousands, doubts and skepticisms have been swept away as by a mighty flood, until to-day the great good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her other medicines are doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, physicians and thinking people.

Merit alone could win such fame, wise, therefore, is the woman who for a cure relies upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
