Panther Bombards Venezuela Fort Without Giving Notice.

CASTRO'S MEN ARE VICTORIOU:

Two Explosions Occur on the Vessel and the Commander is Forced to Withdraw From the Harbor in a Dis abled Condition.

Caracas cable: Once more has the German navy begun open hostilities against the Venezuetans, and this time to their sorrow.

Apparently without provocation the German gunboat Panther opened fire on Fort San Carlos, which commands the entrance to the inner bay on which Maracaibo lies, twenty-two miles away.

Much to the surprise of Capt. Eckerman and everybody aboard the German gunboat, the fort replied vigorously. Soon afterward two explosions were heard on the Panther, and these seemed to disable her, for slowly and, seemingly with difficulty, she withdrew. It is reported that two of the men on the Panther were killed.

That this action will have a disastrous effect on the negotiations for ace is admitted generally here, the more so as it is said the attack on the fort was premeditated a week ago. Castro is Warned.

When the news of the engagement with the defeat of the Germans, wa made known here there was the wildest rejoicing, and the streets were thronged all day by crowds of cheer ing, singing Venezuelaus.

While no one can understand wh the Germans could adopt this course that it was premeditated seems al most certain, in view of the letter from Curacao received by President Castro.

Happy Venezuelane.

It was this very warning, perhaps which resulted in General Bello hav ing the fort in readiness to reply to any fire directed against it. It is said he used only four Luns, but two modern pieces did the most damage. There have been popular demonstrations on the streets of Maracalbo as a result of the shelling of the fort.

Fort San Carlos is twenty-two miles from Maracalbo and commands the entrance to the lake, or inner bay. The fort has suffered no damage and only three men were wounded.

Among that vast array of books generally classified as New Thought Literature, certain volumes stand forth preeminently as combining both the philosophy of this teaching and its practical application. While the value of the New Thought as a philosoph? and aystem of ethics is generally conceded, even by the orthodox, its practical value is but little realized, indeed is hardly perceived by the majority. Books, therefore, that apply these principles to the various problems and incidents of daily life are particularly valuable, and more so when they present their illustrations in a simple. homely manner, easily understood by all, and so portrayed as not to arouse the antagonism even of prejudice Hanover, N. From Fort San Carlos at noon on Saturday a gunboat flying the German flag was seen steaming along the coast. It turned into the channel which the fort guards, then without a signal of warning, when within range of the fort, opened fire with all her batteries.

Meets Ready Response.

But Gen. George Belle, in command of the fort, was in readiness for the enemy. He had at least two modern guns and he at once returned the fire For some time the guns of the Panther did not respond, and it was noticed with for by those in the fort that a though she was doing her best to force the entrance to the channel, it was so narrow and so shallow that she could not be handled to the best advantage. But she was soon in position where her guns could be used again, and again they spoke to the fort, whose four guns gave answer in kind. Then an explosion was heard on the Panther and from the fort it could be seen that her men were in confusion for a few minutes, but all was discipline aft-
