

REVENGE REPORTER
 There are men, and women, too, in this world whose most highly developed, keenest sense is that of revenge. They are continually searching for some excuse for being offended. The least little offense will cause them to "flare up" and become your bitterest enemy, and from that time forward they lie awake at night, use time that might be valuable in devising some method to "get even." The man who "cut off his nose to spite his face" was a revenge fool. The revenge fool! What a pitiable creature he is! He is always in an irritable condition, always mad as somebody or something, wasting his energy and his time searching for a method of injuring some one towards whom his enmity is directed. Look around and note the men, says the St. Paul Globe, who have made successes, note those who have gone up and beyond the common herd, men whose brains and energies have enabled them to accumulate fortunes or to accomplish other important results, and you will find not one who could be called a "revenge fool." They have had no time for revenge, they have had other and more important work to do. Had they wasted their time and energies in this way, they would still belong to the mediocre class. They would not have had time to develop the mental and physical characteristics essential to the attainment of success. Don't be a revenge fool. There are other and more valuable methods of using your time and your brain. It is not only impossible for the revenge fool to make a success of life, but happiness is foreign to him. His entire life is embittered by the gall of his own mentality. Do you not realize that every time you try to harm another, or waste your energy in so much as a wish to harm him, you are narrowing and embittering your own mind, your own character? You are letting all that is small and mean impede your progress, instead of opening the way for influences that broaden and strengthen, and bring success and happiness.

 Representative Campbell's plans to regulate the matrimonial affairs of the state of Kansas, which crystallized into a bill introduced in the house, may cause a row among the able-bodied bachelors and spinsters of that state to get together and overlook some of their chronic prejudices and hyper-critical sentimentalities. Representative Campbell proposes to impose a tax of $50 a year on all able-bodied bachelors between the ages of 40 and 50 years, and a tax of $25 a year on all able-bodied spinsters between the ages of 35 and 50 years who have no families to support, the tax revenues thus obtained to swell the school fund. A clause of the bill providing for the forfeiture to the school fund of all salaries of unmarried state officials is aimed directly at Gov. Bailey and Lieut. Gov. Hanna, both bachelors to whom thousands of strange women have lately proposed by letter. The purposes of the Campbell bill, observes the Chicago Sun, are certainly commendable, both as regards the reduction of the miseries of long-suffering spinsterhood and providing liberal educational funds for Kansas, though the constitutionality of such a law, if passed, might be a little shaky.

 If it takes a police force six months to catch one hog, how long ought it to take to catch one man? The problem is suggested by the explanation offered in Lynn, Mass., the other day to offset Judge Berry's criticism of the officers who pulled a couple of umbrellas out of their warm beds at two in the morning, to answer the charge of having thrown certain rascal stones in the public highway some six months previous.

 The volume of business being handled by the railroads at present is so enormous that in spite of the best efforts of the road crews it is impossible to prevent a blockade. The tremendous increase in traffic can be better understood when one considers that the eight leading roads during the past week at Chicago have handled 135,000 cars in excess of the number handled a year ago.

 The United States produces more honey than any other nation. As long as 30 years ago the product was 15,000,000 pounds annually. Twenty years ago it had risen to 25,000,000 pounds, and ten years ago it was 35,000,000 pounds. At the present time Iowa produces 9,000,000 pounds annually, and many states, including California, produce from 4,000,000 to 5,000,000 pounds a year.

 To economize time in memorizing a poem, it should be read as a whole; that is, entirely through each time. Tests made in psychological laboratories show that to memorize one verse at a time takes one-fourth longer. It would be interesting, and doubtless profitable, to make similar tests in the schoolroom.

 "Assisted by this method, first, that we build a new jail; second, that the Salt Lake City jail be built out of the materials of the old jail; third, that the old jail be used until the new jail is finished." This is one of the traditional examples of "frank" legislation. Yet in Salt Lake City those three resolutions are coming as near to realization as will ever be physically possible anywhere. The jail in the Utah city is just 26 years old, it has some of the modern improvements, and is dingy, weather-beaten and unhealthy. The newspapers call it "disreputable," though they fail to state just what a reputable jail is. There is to be a new jail, a model in every particular, and it is to be put up on the site and constructed partly of the materials of the old jail, thus fulfilling the second of the historic resolutions. The old jail, furthermore, will be the only jail used until the new one is finished. In other words, there will be "no jail." One naturally asks what will become of the prisoners. The only remarkable feature of this remarkable arrangement is that nearly all of them are being released because there is no place to put them. The mayor pardoned 16 in one day, for no reason except that the jail might be cleared. "We want to have everything in readiness," the chief of police is quoted as saying. "We can now have the jail cleared in 20 minutes since the 16 were pardoned. We are having them pardoned early, so the contractors can't plead that the jail was not ready for them to begin work, in the event they do not live up to their contract and complete the jail in six months." That is a business-like administration. When a bit of construction work is to be done in a hurry, penology takes a back seat. There are few criminals, it should be said, too desperate to be allowed at large even for the convenience of the builders, and they will be kept in the police station.

 An agreeable bit of interstate comity is recorded in the proceedings of the Minnesota legislature. In the Mississippi river, near the Minnesota side, there is an island called Baron Island. Directly opposite this island, on the eastern bank of the river, lies the city of La Crosse, the fourth city of Wisconsin. The island contained 200 acres, and the public-spirited man who owned it conceived the idea of making a public park there for the use of the poor people of La Crosse. The difficulty was that the city could not take the park, as it was under the jurisdiction of another state. Then there was introduced in the legislature at St. Paul a bill ceding the above-mentioned island to Wisconsin. "You need it more than we do," seems to be the generous spirit in which the gift is proposed. "Take the 200 acres—we have plenty more."

How will your cough be tonight? Worse, probably. For it's first a cold, then a cough, then bronchitis or pneumonia, and at last consumption. Coughs always tend downward. Stop this tendency by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
 Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. No know.

Consumption
 Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Consumption
 Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most. Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion. Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.
