FRANKLIN A GREAT AMERICAN.

Plan to Celebrate Anniversary of His Birth Is Worthy.

The American Philosophical society's plan to celebrate in 1906 the two hundredth aniversary of the birth of Franklin, the great founder of the society, is particularly appropriate and happy. A signer of the declaration of independence, a stout patriot on every occasion, a man of vast resource, whose labors in the constitutional convention it is impossible to over-estimate; a wise and skillful diplomatist, who was instrumental in bringing about the French alliance, without which the history of the world might have been different; a sage, counselor, wit, and man of the world, he shows in his life and career how it is possible to start with nothing and B lmont street, quarter ending October from nothing, and to render great services to his country, to "win the world" and gain immortal fame.

The Fan In History.

which is lost in the twilight of Oriental legend, reflects the habits, cus toms, arts and taste of every country which has made a friend of an article so useful and ornamental. Greece was the first European country to adopt uses being by acolytes in the temples to drive away the flies from the sacrifice. It served the early Christians in the catacombs a similar purpose when the bread and wine was spread meter but could find nothing wrong with for the sacrament; a custom which lasted in the Roman Catholic church to the fourteenth century.

Tea Was Not Missed. The late Augustus Hare was fond relating an amusing incident which illustrated the absent-mindedness of his cousin, Dean Stanley, and Dr. Jowett. Both were quite devoid of either taste or smell and for some reason both were inordnately fond of tea. One morning they had each drunk eight cups when suddenly, as Jowett rose from the table, he exto put the tea in!" Neither had noticed the omission as they sipped their favorite beverage.

What Puzzled Him.

Commenting on the death of a brother of his flock who, while intoxicated, went to sleep on a railroad track and was run over by the engine, Brother Dickey said: "Dat de jug he had wid him didn't git broke w'en he wuz runned over was one er dese our onderstandin'. But ter save my life I can't see how a man could go ter sleep on a railroad track or any- | stuff. whar else wid sich good liquor 'longside him!"-Atlanta Constitution.
