New Life in Warrenville

Now Coming to Life. Advent of New Electric Road Awakens Hopes of Possible Greatness for Ancient Village of the DuPage River Valley.

Older than is Chicago and smaller than ask me why I did not go to church!" were its own village confines fifty years ago, left out of the track of the two great country town that has been tragic in itswestern railroad systems which pass it four miles to the north and four miles to Methodist-once were land marks in Duthe south, and still lying half a mile to Page county. The clink of the blacksmith's hammer makes occasional music through the town, and the giant maples and honey locusts and silver poplar are loud in the summer breeze that come from the south up the valley.

But all these have been the afterthought of time and mistaken enterprise. It was the mistake of the Warrens such a mis take as came to many other towns in the great west where railroads would not come and where, after a time, the residents of the place became reconciled and esttled back and married and intermar-

Directory Carlosities.

The London Directory contains more than four pages of "Browns" in Its commercial section and another page in the court portion. But the "Smiths" put even this fine record into mere insignifiance, monopolizing no fewer than nine pages all to themselves, "Harry" and "John" being responsible for a column each. Nearly eighteen pages are occupied by public-houses, six being all that are required for bakers' shops.

Eight cents a pound is what a young woman paid for twelve pounds of flesh.

She was thin and weak and paid one dollar for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion, and by taking regular doses had gained twelve pounds in weight before the bottle was finished.

· Eight cents a pound is cheap for such valuable material. Some pay more, some less, some get nothing for their money. You get your money's worth when you buy Scott's Emulsion.
