PRINTING THE NEWS.
One of the Unpleasant Sides of Newspaper Work.

The objection of some people to any newspaper mention of themselves, says the Nashville Press, sometimes reaches the point of morbid self-consciousness. The impudent requests of friends to omit this or that item of legitimate news makes one of the unpleasant sides of newspaper work.

Newspaper men always admit that there is much that should not be published, and every newspaper worker is the guardian of many secrets that would work incalculable mischief if printed. But there are more people who seem to expect that they can communicate information regarding their own affairs to all their friends, who are not blamed for spreading such information, and yet they expect the newspaper to refrain from exercising the same privilege with its type that others are exercising by word or mouth.

It strikes us that when people give out information to their friends in such a way that these friends feel at liberty to communicate it to others, it becomes public property and fit subject for newspaper mention, if proper and of adequate interest. If people want their affairs kept out of newspapers they should keep such information to themselves, or only give it to such as will guard their secrets. Every time a newspaper is requested to suppress a matter of legitimate news it is asked to make its columns less interesting and it is also asked to give the impression that it is not performing its function with enterprise and efficiency.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

The President Saturday issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation in the following terms: By the President of the United States of America. A proclamation: The season is at hand, when, according to the custom of the people, it falls upon the president to appoint a day of praise and thanksgiving to God.

During the last year the Lord has dealt bountifully with us, giving us peace at home and abroad and the chance for our citizens to work for their welfare unhindered by war, famine or plague. It behooves us not only to rejoice greatly because of what has been given us, but to accept it with a solemn sense of responsibility, realizing that under heaven it rests with us ourselves to show that we are worthy to own what has been entrusted to our care. In no other place and at no other time has the experiment of government of the people, by the people, for the people, been tried on so vast a scale as here in our own country in the opening years of the twentieth century. Failure would not only be a dreadful thing for us, but a dreadful thing for all mankind, because it would mean loss of hope for all who believe in the power and righteousness of liberty. Therefore in thanking God for the mercies extended to us in the past, we beseech Him that He may not withhold them in the future, and that our hearts may be roused to war steadfastly for good and against all the forces of evil, public and private. We pray for strength and light, so that in the coming years we may with cleanliness, fearlessness and wisdom do our allotted work on the earth in such manner as to show that we are not altogether unworthy of the blessings we have received.

Now, therefore, I, Theodor Roosevelt, President of the United States, do hereby designate as a day of general thanksgiving, Thursday, the 26th day of the coming November, and do recommend that throughout the land people cease from their wonted occupations, and in their several homes and places of worship render thanks unto Almighty God for his manifold mercies.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.
Done at the city of Washington this 31 day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and three, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and twenty-eighth.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
By the President,
JOHN HAY, Secretary of State

Today's election in the eleven states wherein elections were held afforded both republicans and democrats cause for exultation. The democrats find comfort in the election of Col. McClelland for mayor of Greater New York by a plurality of 65,000 over Seth Low. Ohio gave the largest republican majority to a governor since the war, electing Mayor T. Herrick over Tom Johnson by a plurality of 115,000. Senator Hanna's return to the United States senate is assured by a record-breaking majority. Iowa elected the republican ticket by a plurality of about 100,000. Nebraska and Kansas, the republican ticket having a plurality of 10,000. In Utah, J. G. Sullivan, the democratic candidate for Judge of the supreme court, defeated the republican ticket.

ahead of his ticket. Maryland went democratic, thus re-establishing the supremacy of Senator Gorman in the state. Kentucky and the other southern states went democratic by their old time majorities. If the result of the contest signifies anything it is that the Bryan element in the democratic party has had its day and that the Cleveland wing of the party will be in the ascendancy in the next campaign, which will mean that the republicans will have to do more work to win next year's battle.

POPULAR CARTOONS.

The art of newspaper illustration in its present form is a development of recent years. Newspaper cartoons have become a most popular feature of up-to-date metropolitan daily papers. The unique and catchy drawing now appearing daily on the front page of the Chicago Record-Herald is one of the many special features of the great paper. The Record-Herald has been fortunate in securing one of the best young artists in the country to carry out its popular policy of presenting each day a humorous and good-natured cartoon. Mr. Ralph Wilder is one of the coming men in newspaper work. His success has been as pronounced as it has been rapid. He shows all of the good natured humor and the brighter side of everyday common life which has carried his work to a very popular success. His drawings are on all of the various subjects of popular interest political and otherwise. Current events are vividly portrayed in a way that pleases, yet often giving just criticism in a way that does not offend. Through his excellent work on eastern magazines Mr. Wilder first attracted universal attention. The Record-Herald recognized in him at once a cartoonist of unusual promise, and congratulated its readers on having been fortunate enough to engage him.

Anent Luscious Figs.

After figs have been collected they are dipped in boiling brine, and then dried on trays for from two to four days, according to the weather. The dipping is supposed to bring the sugar to the surface and hasten the drying. After being tried the figs are placed in "sweet boxes," holding 2,000 pounds each, where they remain for two weeks. Then they are washed in cold salt water to remove all dirt, and are packed by women and girls in half-pound, one-pound and ten-pound boxes, in layers, being split primarily with a short-bladed knife.

An Oddity in Cushions.

A new sofa pillow for a den is made of cream colored pongee, in the shape of a meal sack. The sack is tied with crimson satin ribbon, just as a meal sack would be, and the top is faced with red, so that it shows a pretty contrast with the cream colored pongee, as it spreads open. Cunningly peeping from the folds of this top is a brown velvet mouse so realistic in appearance as to be a source of much amusement. A design of wheat ears is embroidered upon the front of the pillow.

Colds

"I had a terrible cold and could hardly breathe. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and it gave me immediate relief."
W. C. Layton, Sidell, Ill.

How will your cough be tonight? Worse, probably. For it's first a cold, then a cough, then bronchitis or pneumonia, and at last consumption. Coughs always tend downward. Stop this tendency by taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Price 25c, 50c, $1.

Consult your doctor. If he says take it, then do as he says. If he tells you not to take it, then don't take it. No knows.

HOW IS YOUR EYESIGHT?

The optical business heretofore conducted by C. O. Durran, Master of Optics, will from now on be transacted at our store. Your eyes will be scientifically and properly tested and fitted. C. O. Durran, M. O., will be retained at the head of the optical department. Henry J. Durran, Naperville, Ills. Successor to Collins & Durran.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture in the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.
