MOST FAMOUS OF LIGHTS.

eacon at Eddystone Has Seved They pands from Watery Grave. *No lighthouse the world over has with fame among mariners as that high stands fourteen miles off the coast of Land's End. It is perhaps as most celebrated in the world. It as often been used as an illustration sy poets and preachers, for no other Highthouse is in such a lonesome of dangerous place, and none costs so much money and trouble. There are three keepers who live there with their families, and two of them are always on duty, while the third is on the main coast enjoying a vacation. Young Couple Reconciled as Result They relieve each other each month. so that none of the keepers remains on duty more than two months at a time. This change and rest is said to the nerves of the keepers. The light- to see the young lady return home house is 135 feet high, was erected again with all her belongings. The in 1883 at a cost of $400,000, and rises old man listened very attentively to from a submerged rock. The first her story, and then went to his deak ong ago as 1697, but was washed away six years after and was not replaced for a long time. The second was burned down in 1775, the third stood from 1767 to 1882, and was famous in history.

CURIOUS EYES OF ANIMALS.

Many Species Have More Than the Regulation Pair.

Many animals possess more than two eyes which do not act together. A leech, for example, has ten eyes on the top of its head which do not work in concert, and a kind of marine worm has two eyes on the head and a sow down each side of the body. Some lizards have an extra eye on the top of the head which does not act with the other two. A bee or wasp has two large compound eyes which blind beggar. It was a simple case possibly help each other and are used for near vision, and also three little sight. simple eyes on the top of the head which are employed for seeing things a long way off.

WHEN METALS SHOW FATIGUE

Exhibit the Same Symptoms as Exhausted Nerve.

It-has been found that when animai matter (for instance, a muscle or nerve) 'le repeatedly irritated, its sensitiveness wears off after a time; the deflection of the galvanometer needle is feebler and feebler; in fact, the muscle or nerve begins to show signs of fatigue. In the human body, of course; this fatigue is quite obvious; if we use a particular muscle or nerve continuously, without giving it time to rest, its original action soon becomes enfeebled, Prof. Bose finds that metals betray exactly the same signs of fatigue up der repeated irritation.-A. S. Ghosh; in Peterson's Magazine.

Gred an Extra Turn.

An old-country couple had been pre- is the dust raised. sented by their son with a beautiful alarm clock. The son gave his father all the necessary information as to how to get the clock to work properly and to ring at the proper time. Every thing went all right for a few weeks, and then the old couple got a lodger, who wanted to be wakened at the "same"time as his landlord. On the night of the stranger's arrival John dommenced to wind up the clock, as was his wont, when his wife said to

"John, ye'll better gi'ed an extra turn or two the nicht. Ye ken it has twa tae wauken the morn instead o' ane."-- Scottish American.

Hard Position to Fill.

This is from an old copy of an Eng-Inhe provincial journal: "Wanted-For a mober family, a man of light weight who fears the Lord and can drive a pair of horses. He must ocea sionally wait at table, join the household prayer, look after the horses and read a chapter of the Bible. He must, God willing, rise at 7 o'clock in the morning and obey his master and mis tress in all lawful commands. If he can dress hair, sing at psalms and play cribbage the more agreeable."

Took Leave of God. Some time back a certain Philadelhis man promised his little daughter a trip to New York, Reference to the mayety of the metropolis filled the alle with the liveliest expectations, ad made her nothing loth to obey the function to retire early on the night tone her departure. On this occaion she knelt by the bed and repeated her prayers as usual, adding carethe at the close

HOW TO CHOOSE A SPONGE

It he Kary to Tell a Good One From

"There are a great many differences between good and bad sponges," said an importer, "but the persons who buy sponges at retail know very little about them. In nine cases out of ten those nice-looking bleached sponges seen in drug store windows are a de lusion and a snare. The first requisite of a good sponge is that it shall be dark in color; I don't mean almost black, like a carriage sponge, but a duck yellow. A vitriol bath to bleach a sponge white destroys its fibre. Its elasticity is ruined, and it wears out much sooner.

"In choosing a sponge, see that it has a velvety touch to the hand and yields readily to a good squeeze. The best and most expensive sponges are the Levant, which come from the Med-Iterranean. The prettiest and the cheapest are the grass sponges, made of numberless small filaments, and which look and feel like a ball of wool. The bulk of the sponges used in this country come from Florida and Cuba."

WITTY NOTE BROUGHT PRACE

of Father's Diplomacy. A merchant whose daughter had married a man with whom it proved that she could not get on very well, be absolutely necessary to preserve was much surprised some weeks ago lighthouse was erected on this rock as and wrote a note to his son-in-law which he gave to his daughter, assuring her that her husband would receive her kindly after this. The pair, on reading the letter, found in it the following notice:

"Dear Sir-Goods that have been selected of one's own free will at my establishment are not taken back again."

The young couple laughed heartily and were reconciled.

NOVEL PLEA FOR AID.

Chinese Seem to Have Curious ideas of Responsibility. The Chinese theory of responsibility is a curious one. An English medical missionary in Shensi, writing home the other day, says he was asked by a native gentleman to cure a of cataract and an operation restored

Then the missionary was waited upon again by the same gentleman, and calmly told that as he had destroyed the only means by which the blind man could get a living-begging -it was his duty to make it up to him by taking him into his employment and providing for him for life.

Automobiles and Dust. One of the features of the reliability trials by the London Automobile club at the Crystal palace was a dust "trial." A Rain of Quails, Gross Berskerck in Hungary, was visited the other day by a furious cloudburst. The inhabitants, who had fled indoors for shelter, were greatly astonished at the heavy impact with which the supposed raindrops struck the ground. When at last the storm ceased the people came out, and were amazed to find the soil literally covof bye, God! A NEW BOOK ABOUT NEBRASKA.

The best and most comprehensive work on Nebraska ever produced has just been issued by the Burlington Route. It has 48 finely illustrated pages packed full of just the sort of information a prospective settler wants. In addition there is a large sectional map of the state which is accurate in every detail. There is no country under the sun where men of push and energy have a better chance to succeed. It is a paradise for "good reaters," for they will not be compelled to rent long in Nebraska. Send today for a copy of the book. No charge. P. S. Eustis, Passenger traffic manager, 209 Adams street, Chicago.
