

THOUSAND HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove what Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy, Will Do for YOU. Every Reader of this Paper May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

34 East 12th St., New York City.

I had been suffering severely from kidney trouble. All symptoms were on hand; my former strength and power had left me; I could hardly stand, and I wished to die. It was then that I saw an advertisement in a New York paper, but would not have paid any attention to it, had it not contained a certain guarantee with every bottle of Swamp-Root, and I bought a bottle. I took it with a good conscience I can recommend it to all sufferers from kidney troubles. The members of my family have been using Swamp-Root for four different kidney diseases, and the same good results.

Very truly,
ROBERT BERNER.

EDITORIAL NOTICE.—If you have the slightest symptoms of kidney or bladder trouble, or if there is a trace of it in your family history, send at once to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., who will gladly send you, by mail, immediately, without cost to you, a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book containing many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. By writing, be sure to say that you read this generous offer in this paper.

ANCIENT STATUE FOUND.
In a field near Patestrina, in the Roman province, the continuous rains brought to light an ancient headless statue, much resembling some of those found in the eighteenth century in the same locality and now preserved in the Vatican museum.

As inscribed at the base of the statue bears the name of "Publius Aponianus," who is supposed to be the personage represented by the ancient sculpture.

TIBET MONASTERIES.
Monasteries of the lamas in Tibet are always perched on the top or steep side of a hill. They are built in stone connected by abrupt passages and stairs guarded by Tibetan mastiffs. These dogs are almost as high as a donkey and are so fierce that it goes hard with a stranger who attempts to enter without an attendant lama.

ORDER CHANGES NAME OF ESTATE.
Richard Croker has changed the old name of his English estate from "Crook" to "Astwick" manor. First intimation of the change was received when some of Croker's friends in New York received Christmas cards from the former Tammany leader, the cards being addressed from "Astwick Manor, Wantage, England."

Automobiles vs. Omnibuses.
The historic old "bus," which for ages has done service in carrying passengers and the mails between various towns in Baden, where the steam railroad does not touch, is giving way to large automobiles, which travel much quicker and are much more comfortable. An automobile line is about to be established between the city of Kehl and the town of Rheinfelsheim, a distance of ten miles. The car will accommodate twenty people, in addition to a space for the baggage and mails. The round trip will cost 17 cents, or 10 cents for one way. The machine is the property of the two towns named, which pay the running expenses and divide the profits.

Electricity for Railroad.
The New York Central Railway Company is about to make a large substitution of electricity for steam, to save its local traffic, which has been heavily cut into by independent trolley lines. A section of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railway is to be equipped with electricity as quickly as possible, and when this is done the electric cars of the Central system can be run to and from all points along the southern shore of Lake Ontario. The Rochester and suburban lines are also to be absorbed. The New York, New Haven & Hartford road is pursuing the same policy, and already has some eighty-five miles of electric road in operation.

One of the Latest Waists.
The newest waists show broad shouldered effects of one sort or another and are made of two or more materials combined. This one includes a graceful bertha and the new gauntlet cuffs, both of which are desirable features. As shown it is made of maize peau de cygne, with the bertha of point d'esprit trimmed with ruffles of taffeta and the yoke and cuffs of be mixed with mayonnaise and filled into tomatoes that have been peeled and scooped out; stand each on a lettuce leaf, garnish on top with capers.

Dress Sleeves.
Nothing marks the date of the gown so surely as the sleeves. If they are correct all is well, but with those important features out of style the entire costume will appear passé. This season sleeves are even more noticeable than common and are so elaborate as to become the essential parts of even a new waist. These models are new, graceful and in every way desirable.

The fancy sleeve shown in the center is peculiarly well adapted to remodeling in addition to being stylish. As shown it is made of peau de cygne, stitched corticelli silk and trimmed with straps of the same, but it is appropriate for all the season's materials.

The foundation lining is smoothly fitted and its under portion is covered with material, but the upper is shaped and joined to the full puff.

The shirred sleeve with cuff is a most graceful one and suits all the many soft materials in vogue. The smoothly fitted lining is faced to form the cap and the full portion is shirred and arranged over it, the cuff being drawn on over the lower part.

The flowing sleeve is exceedingly pretty for dinner and evening gowns and is suited to any material soft enough to allow of shirring. It is cut in one piece, shirred to fit the foundation which is snugly fitted, and terminates below the shirring.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is, for fancy sleeves, 2 3/4 yards 21 inches wide, 3 1/4 yards 27 inches wide or 1 3/4 yards 44 inches wide; for shirred sleeves with cuffs or for flowing sleeves, 2 yards 21, 1 1/2 yards 27 or 1 3/4 yards 44 inches wide, with 1 yard of all-over lace for shirred sleeves with cuffs and 2 yards of applique for flowing sleeves.

The pattern 4614 is cut in three sizes, small, corresponding to 32 inch, medium, corresponding to 36 inch and large, corresponding to 40 inch bust measure.

Pierrot Frills.
A pretty novelty in collars and cuffs is the flat frill of white plisse lawn, turned back from wrists and throat. Parisians first fancied it, for its coolness and daintiness and quaintness.

The frills are some four or five inches in depth, and worn over a plain blouse bodice. One in coarse lavender linen has the bodice, fitting closely, but pouching slightly in front under a scarf of embroidered white muslin was interthreaded through large white croquet rings, the plisse Pierrot frills round neck and wrists being embroidered also. The skirt was plain, but showed fan-shaped plaittings of white muslin inserted at the seams below the knees, to give spring to the skirt. And the hat to be worn was of white embroidered muslin, over a picturesque wire shape, with a large cluster of blue and mauve shaded forget-me-nots at the back.

Opals in High Favor.
In spite of the old-time superstition there seems to be a grave doubt about the ill-luck attaching to opals in the minds of the girls of to-day, for opals are very much worn. There is hardly a more beautiful stone than the opal, and jewelers say that if they continue to win their way in popular favor they will become more costly. Hitherto they have been cheaper than their beauty led one to expect they would be, but that was because the superstition about their ill-luck bringing powers made people fear to own them, and thus the demand for them was comparatively small. An opal surrounded by smaller brilliants makes a charming setting for a ring. The diamonds reflect the rainbow tints of the opal and the combination of stones is one which shows the beauties of both to best advantage.

Unique Button Box.
An arrangement for holding buttons is made by pasting together six pasteboard boxes, such as are used by druggists in preparing prescriptions for powders. They slide out like little drawers, and a button is sewed to the outside to indicate the contents. A white pearl, bone, fancy or shoe button is placed on the drawer designed for holding those particular buttons, while a hook and eye, and a safety pin sewed to another, will readily explain the contents. A yard and a quarter of satin ribbon two inches wide is tied about the whole, with a bow at the top, forming a neat little case, which for many reasons is preferred to the button bags.

Creamed Hash on Toast.
This is one of the daintiest of all warmed over chicken dishes; chop the chicken fine and to each pint allow one tablespoonful of butter, one of flour, a half a pint of milk. Rub flour and butter together, add milk, stir over the fire until boiling, season the meat with a teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper, add to this milk sauce and stir over hot water for fifteen minutes. Three or four chopped mushrooms may be added. Heap this on squares of toasted bread, serve at once, garnish the top with poached eggs.

Mutton Salad.
Any pieces of cold roast mutton or boiled mutton may be cut in dice and used for mutton salad; arrange this on crisp lettuce leaves, or any available greens; season with salt and pepper, sweet with mayonnaise dressing to which has been added a tablespoonful of capers. When fresh vegetables cannot be obtained, canned asparagus may be mixed with the mutton, cannot

Washington's younger set does not claim a more popular young woman than Miss Francis Fuller, the daughter of Chief Justice Melville Fuller. Moreover, the great jurist's daughter is one of the handsomest girls in her set. Miss Frances is unusual looking. She has what her friends term a "fascinating air of mystery." At a glance she might be compared to Mme. Calve in the singer's youth. Miss Fuller has dazzling eyes that always are half shut. She is dark in coloring and her thick black hair is in a large pompadour. She goes in for bizarre effects.

Five years ago William D. Myers of Joplin, Mo., known among his friends as "Billy," got a job as stenographer in the offices of the Mexican Central Railway at Mexico City. He was then 17 years old. By close application he learned Spanish as well as a great deal about the railway business and was rapidly promoted. When the Goulds got control of the Mexican Central he was retained in their employ, and now, at the age of 22 years, he has been made superintendent of freight and transportation of a large division, with headquarters at Monterey.

Many women are denied the happiness of children through derangement of the generative organs. Mrs. Beyer advises women to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered with stomach complaint for years. I got so bad that I could not carry my children but five months, then would have a miscarriage. The last time I became pregnant, my husband got me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the first bottle I was relieved of the sickness in every way.
