On motion of Mr. | for a careful revision of the treaty so as to make sure of the footing of the United State in Panama when the canal shall be constructed. He urged that the treaty should be so amended as unequivocally to permit the intervention of the United States in case of necessity. He urged as a reason for this suggestion his opinion that ultimately Panama would drift back into union with Colombia unless held in leash by this country. In this connection he asserted that the Spaniards of Panama and Colombia always would be found co-operating in all things against the United States. Mr. Money announced his intention of voting for the ratification of the canal treaty, but criticised the part taken by the United States in connec tion with the secession of Panama, During his speech Mr. Spooner engaged in spirited colloquy with Mr. Tillman. Va.), a member of the naval affairs committee, asked if there was any American citizen who would say that this nation should not, if the occasion came, defend itself from either Germany or Great Britain. He charged that Mr. Fitzgerald of New York favored improvements for the naval establishment at New York and in this connection he said there were too many navy yards, many of which could be cut out. He said he would join hands with Mr. Fitzgeraid next year in selling out the New York yard, which is worth $25,000,000 Mr. Dayton said that the navy on its present basis could not compete with any one of the four great powers. Mr Hitchcock (Dem. Neb.) declared that there was gross national extravagance in the annual appropriation bills. He asserted, too, that the larger items in the army and navy supply bills went to the trusts. He gave notice that he would attempt to amend the bill to provide for a government armor plate fac-Mr. Hardwick (Dem.
