Death of Mrs. C. F. Davis

Succumbs Suddenly Tuesday After Extended Illness.

Funeral this Afternoon and Burial at Fullers burg-Dickinson A. Dickinson Dies at His Home in Clarendon Hills.

Mrs. Minnie J. Davis, wife of C. F Davis, died at her home, 26 South Mair street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Death was due to a complication of kidney and heart trouble. She had been ill for about two years, but her condition was not considered critical until a week before her death. The death of her little daughter two months ago was a severe shock to one in her condition and had its effect in hastening her own death.

The funeral will be held from the family residence this afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Herbert H. Rood will officiate and burial will be made at Fullersburg. The pall bearers will be brothers and brothers in-law.

Minnie Johnson was the daughter of the late W H. Johnson, one of the pioneers of Wheaton, and was born there April 18, 1867. She was educated in the Wheaton schools, and following her graduation taught in Wheaton under the late Professor J. K. Rassweiler She was married to C. F. Davis July 3, 1891, and shortly thereafter they moved to Downers Grove where they have since resided. As a result of their union two children were born, Charles, who with the husband survives her, and Dorothy who died Jan. 9 She is vited. The lineup is as follows: also survived by a brother, Frank J. Johnson of Chicago, and a sister, Stella Johnson of Wheaton. Coming so soon after the death of their daughter, her death has been a severe blow to the husband, who has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

Dickinson A. Dickinson died at his home in Clarendon Hills March 2, after years of failing health. He was born April 1, 1822, at North Amburst, Mass where he lived until 1856, when he sought his fortune in the west, first settling at Byron, Ill. There he re mained for some years. Thinking his health would be improved by going farther west, he moved to Montana where he stayed three years. He was twice married, first to Mrs. Samuel Yates of Chicago, on Jan 25,1872. They located at Clarendon Hills for a few years, then removed to Manchester. Iowa, where Mrs. Dickinson died in March, 1879. His second marriage was to Misa Elien Hobart of Amhurst, Mass. who survives him with an adopted daughter, Mrs. Emil Stocker of Joliet.

His character was strongly of the New England type, religiously upright in all things. The funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. Chas. Reynolds of Downers Grove on Saturday. The body was sent to Amhurst Mass, for interment.
