generally could do much in the way of beautifying our village by cleaning up the streets in front, at the sides and at the rear of their lots by mowing the weeds and removing woodpiles and rubbish piles. If every one would be as ful about keeping the streets adjoining their property as clean as their lawns, we would not have these unsightly spots which now mar so many of our side streets.

A Golden Opportunity

Downers Grove today presents energetic worker. a profitable field for investment for the man with little or much money. The everlasting cry that goes up from some men, that it is not as easy to make money now as twenty-five years ago, is all foolishness. The opportunity is right here for profitable investment in the building line, with a very slight element of risk. There are dozens of families anxious for homes in this village and not a for some time, is now much improved in large families: It is possible to dispose house vacant. With building lots selling f at present low prices, Downers Grove presents a particularly inviting field for such investments, In order to successfully handle such propositions a man need not be a practical builder nor devote his entire time to it. It is simply a business investment for any man who has even a little money earning a low rate of interest. The buyers are waiting for you.

The Whiffen-Bowyer Wedding The Algona Advance, of Algona, lowa, contains the following account of the marriage at that place, on Tuesday, Sep-Downers Grove, to Miss Edith E.

Bowyer, of Algona: "The large auditorium of the Methodist Episcopal church, on Tuesday afternoon, was well filled with friends to witness the beautiful and impressive ceremony that united Miss Edith E. partners for life. Standing in front of a profusion of floral decorations of yellow and white, the two hearts became as one, the ceremony being conducted by Reverend R. T. Chippertield, with Reverend C. E. Chapler, the bride's cousin, from Belmond, assisting. After a couple of appropriate solos had been rendered by Mrs. John F.
