One good result of the chilly weather is that few persons are getting drowned while in swimming.

Miss Grace Stover has returned from Tipton, Indiana, the school where she is teaching having closed its term.

Mrs. J. S. Lozier is spending a few days in Omaha with friends. Her little daughter is accompanying her.

The Clyde high school raised its tuition fee from thirty dollars to one hundred dollars, and Lyons has raised its from fifty dollars to one hundred dollars.

Last Saturday was the first of June, according to the calendar, and straw hats were en vogue. But how would a man look in a straw hat and a winter overcoat?

Miss Grace Stover will have charge of the Methodist church choir during the summer months while here. While at Tipton, Indiana, Miss Stover had charge of several musical organizations.

A couple of new houses are being built on Oakwood avenue near Mr. Matson's new residence. One of them is for William Roth. It is a very neat cottage. The other is for a Chicago party.

Newspaper men throughout the country will miss the Chicago Chronicle editorial page, which was one of the best written and most interesting in America, its only fault being its perpetual growth.

Fernando Jones, the Chicago "ancient mariner," says the way to live long is to eat and drink what you please. The reason most men die before their time, then, is that they can't afford the kind of meals they want.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Huggins, Miss Gerlie and Master Ernest Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert of Chicago and Rev. and Mrs. Victor Greenwood and Miss Eunice of Maywood, spent Decoration with H. G. Greenwood and wife.

A reception was given to C. R. Caldwell at the Royal League meeting on Tuesday evening on account of his return to town from a year and a half sojourn in Florida. Speeches were made by different members and a good time was spent.

Graham brothers have sold out their bakery business to Messrs. J. W. Bradbury and C. R. Caldwell. Messrs. Graham will leave for the west in about a month because of the ill health of R. Graham, Messrs. Bradbury and Caldwell are well known here and they should do a good business. They both have pleasing, genial ways and can always be relied on to treat one and all satisfactorily.

We learn that two parties were fined ten dollars each lately for infractions of the postal laws in the sending of written matter inside of packages where no writing was supposed to be. It doesn't pay to meddle with the post office business. Often people send photos and put writing on the back, which makes it first-class postage matter and if sent by other rates leaves the sender liable to a fine. It is also told that a large business house's acts may be investigated for alleged infractions.

On May 30 the late lamented (?) Chicago Chronicle gave a piece of fatherly advice to the democratic party to nominate a southern candidate for president in 1908 if they had any hope of winning, but closed the article with a parting shot in its usually "grumpy" style by saying that it supposed the party mentioned did not have sense enough to heed the advice. The next day the Chronicle died. Can it be that this advice had anything to do with the demise? Now, to be friendly, the democratic party might do likewise.

George S. MacDougall, one of our local autoists, and his party had rather an exciting experience on Sunday of last week while attempting to ascend the Naperville hill. Something went wrong with the machine and it started to run down hill backwards. The women folk and all but Mr. MacDougall were "de-autosed" and he attempted to run the machine up the grade, when it turned turtle and dropped in a ditch on top of "Mac." Luckily he did not meet with a scratch nor was the machine injured. Mr. MacDougall says that the road was very narrow at this point and a man with a horse and buggy was near the center of the road and crowded him to the low side.

On Sunday evening, June 16, the young people's society will have charge of the service at the Baptist church. They have secured Arthur Burrage Farwell, of Chicago, to give the address of the evening. Mr. Farwell is president of the Hyde Park protective association of Chicago, and he is also prominently connected with the Sunday closing league, and other reform movements, he being one of the committee which called on Mayor Busse to ask that the saloons be kept closed on Sunday. The subject of Mr. Farwell's address will be "A Community's Greatest Need." There will be special music and all are cordially invited to come with us. It is expected that this will be a union service.

J. Logan Stanley, who recently left the town of his forefathers, in accordance with the advice of one illustrious Horace Greeley to seek his fortune in the west, is located on a ranch belonging to Senator Williams of Douglas, Wyoming. His last letter recounts his experience in a genuine blizzard on May 7th in which he was lost from camp. After a time, however, he reached the wagon in safety. There were three hundred lambs lost in the storm. Logan writes that while his experiences in ranch life are not to be envied, it is doing him a world of good, and he is not sorry for the experience. It is to his credit that Senator Williams says he is the pluckiest man he has sent out on the ranch.

On Monday evening, June 3, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Huling celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. The celebration took place at the home of Mrs. Geo. N. Osborne, sister of Mr. Huling, who resides on the north side in Chicago. A large number of relatives attended, and a very happy evening was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Huling were the recipients of many beautiful articles of silver and all were agreed in hoping that they would live in good health to celebrate their golden wedding. Mrs. Huling was Miss Eberwine of Vincennes, Ind., where the wedding occurred in 1882. Seven children have been quite well known in all activities for the betterment of our community.

South Main Street Pavement
The bids on the South Main street pavement opened on Tuesday evening were as follows:

P. R. Fletcher, Blue Island, Illinois, brick pavement at one dollar and eighty cents square yard; excavation at thirty cents square yard; curbing and gutter at sixty cents foot; ten-inch drain at fifty cents; storm inlets at $10.00.

A. N. Todd, Chicago, Illinois, pavement at $1.89 square yard; excavation at thirty cents; curb and gutter at fifty-five cents; ten-inch drain at fifty-five cents; inlets at $12.00; total bid, $9,080.50.

A. E. Routledge & Co., Rockford, Illinois, pavement at $1.90; excavation at thirty cents; curb and gutter, fifty-eight cents; ten-inch storm drain, fifty cents; inlets, $15.00; total bid, $9,794.00.

Foulkes, Forbes company, Terre Haute, Indiana, paving, $1.92 square yard; excavation, twenty-nine cents; curb and gutter, fifty cents; ten-inch storm drain, fifty cents; inlets, $15.00; total bid, $9,926.67.

M. Foley, Evanston, Illinois, pavement at $2.00 square yard; excavation, thirty cents; curb and gutter at sixty-three cents foot; ten-inch sewer at fifty cents foot; inlets at twenty dollars; total, $10,531.05.

The award was not made as matter was left over till Thursday evening. Later—the contract was awarded to P. R. Fletcher on Thursday evening.

Maple Avenue To Be Paved
The pavement of Maple avenue was confirmed on Monday at Wheaton by County Judge M. Sissner and the public letting will be on June 18. The estimate is $51,000. We understand that the board will go ahead and present a petition to pave the balance of the street from the railway tracks to Fairview avenue, which is the eastern corporation line at once. This will give a continuous pavement one and one-quarter mile long. There is a likelihood that South Main street and Maple avenue pavements will be the only ones done this year, as there are a number of objectors to the north side pavements who are making statements that they will continue to fight the proposition. Many of those who signed the first petition are now signing one to have the pavement stopped, as they claim the cost is much greater than was told to them. If these people had read the reports of the Maple avenue committee, of which the editor of this paper was one, they would readily see that the data given therein was much nearer the actual cost (not considering the storm sewer, which was not a matter of consideration) than the irresponsible statements made by some erratic parties given in considerable talk and little sound investigation and consideration. It is to be hoped that the matter will be amicably settled so that the village may go ahead steadily and not by fits and starts, which latter course might mean the "freezing out" of some property owners who are paying for their holdings on contracts and may be compelled to default and by this means vitiate may enter and grab up the choice morsels. It is always well to consider matters.

A Downers Grove Directory
Messrs. A. D. Fleet, Fred Hanman, W. H. Harkin and Rudolph Schwab, former employees of the "Kilmoss" press, a local printing concern, are busily engaged in getting up a directory for Downers Grove. They have made a careful canvass of every house in town and all the names have been carefully revised. We learn that nearly three hundred new names will be added to this year's directory. They have secured nearly every reputable business house to take advertising space and the work is now in the hands of a first-class union printing establishment working on an eight hour day schedule. We congratulate the gentlemen on their enterprise.

Cure for Ivy Poison.
This is the season when the person who takes woods rambles is very likely to suffer for days thereafter with swollen wrists and itching hands, sometimes suffering real agony from ivy poison. A physician once told us that there was nothing that would cure ivy poisoning quickly, but that doctoring it and letting it alone took about equal time, so he devised washing the parts affected quite often, and letting it take its course. Now the cure consists in a very simple adherence to two things. Preventing the spreading of the poison, and drying it up quickly. Its spread can be prevented by washing frequently with hot water; its cure by anointing the affected parts with tincture of grindelia (procureable in any drug store) as soon as the skin has been dried. Every camp outfit should contain a four-ounce bottle of grindelia. Its cure is rapid, and it soon stops the almost unbearable itching by which ivy poison is first noticed. This remedy is a very old one, but it is not known as well as it should be.

The Indiana man who has gone abroad to study the methods of Russian statesmen is likely to learn several new ways of dodging things.

The LaBerge Concert
Those seeking entertainment through music will not go amiss by attending the concert given by Chas. L. LaBerge, violinist; Thomas Taylor Drill, basso, and Amanda Stosius, pianist, at the First Methodist church, Thursday evening, June 13. The occasion is the last appearance of Prof. LaBerge prior to sailing for Germany, where he intends taking courses in violin and voice culture. His development has been such as to assure better results from the foreign schools. Mr. Drill is the director of the Irish choral society of Chicago, which has had five years of success. It can truly be said of Mr. Drill, listening to his singing, one is forgetful of his surroundings, so close does he hold the attention of his audience.

Notice to Newspaper Patrons.
All newspaper patrons who have not paid their paper bills by to-night are liable to have the papers discontinued to-morrow. We cannot continue to extend lengthy credits any longer. If you have been away when the collector called come to the office and settle, 24 South Main street, near Naramore & Foster's Tel. 612. Cryder News Agency.

While the next presidential nominees are being chosen, you can settle the matter of proper paint protection for your property by buying guaranteed Bradley & Vrooman paint from Modaff's Pharmacy.

Send Away Only Bad Money.
Never send away an order to a catalogue house unless you have submitted it on a cash proposition to a local dealer and then if the local man is a few cents higher, consider that you are leaving your money at home where you may have a chance to see it again. It reminds us of the story of a plucked dollar. It was so indignantly fixed that a man could scarcely notice the deception. The fellow passed it on to his grocer, and it came back, he passed it on to the dry goods man and it came back. He did it to nearly every home concern. Finally he sent it to a Chicago mail order house and that was the last he ever saw of the coin.

Advertising the Town
A dollar spent in this town rolls round and round, pays dozens of bills and finally returns to the starting point to resume its course. The dollar sent away from town is lost to us forever—so surely as if it had rolled into the sea.

There is nothing that will kill home trade and put the local merchant out of business so quickly and so certainly as trading with out-of-town concerns. The motto of this paper—"Patrons! Home Industry"—should be the watchword of every citizen and resident of this town at heart and who possesses the loyalty and the pride he should possess for the town in which he lives and cherishes hopes for a future large and prosperous city. Residents and citizens should patronize home stores, even though they pay a little more for their supplies than perhaps is asked by the big mail order houses.

The Lawn Beautiful.
Nothing adds more to the attractiveness of a town than well kept lawns. This town is most fortunate in the number of lots with large well sodded lawns and nearly every household takes great pride in the appearance of his lawn and parking. Many homes have gone up during the past year and in other places lots have been graded and here it will take some time for a lawn to be grown. For the benefit of city folks or others who may never have had occasion to care for a lawn we printed a couple of weeks ago an article on the subject. The article was written by an experienced landscape gardener and his suggestions will prove of value to people with old lawns as well as those who are just starting a grass plot, as the writer discusses the matter of fertilizer, weeds, care of lawn mower, frequency of cutting grass and other timely topics.

"Keep it out of the paper" is the cry which the local newspaper publisher daily hears. To oblige often costs considerable, though the party who makes the request thinks the granting scarcely worth saying, "thank you" for. A newspaper is a peculiar thing in the public's eye. The news gatherer is stormed at because he gets hold of one item and it is abused because he does not get another. Young men, and often young women, as well as older persons, perform acts which become legitimate items for publication and then rush to the newspaper office and beg the editor not to notice their escapades. The next day they condemn the same paper for not having published another party doing the same thing they were guilty of, forgetting apparently their late visit to the printing office.

NEW PRINTING PLANT

We learn that there is a likelihood of another printing plant being established in Downers Grove in the near future. The former employees of the "Kilmoss" press are reported to be concerned in the deal and it is stated that it will be a stock company and that several Chicago printers, members of the typographical union, will buy shares. Of course the shop will be a strictly union shop and the eight hour day will prevail. At present there is scarcely a printing office in Chicago of any considerable moment that is not running full blast, some three shifts, and, even with this, much work finds its way to Elgin, Chicago Heights, Benton Harbor and other outside points.

South Side Storm Sewer
The south side storm sewer extension drew a lot of bidders on Tuesday night. The South Main street pavement was also let the same evening. The village hall was filled to the doors with bidders and interested citizens. One local bidder, John T. Clifford, was among the contestants, but he was not the lowest. Below are the bids as presented:

MEASURES TO SAVE GUESTS.
Arkansas Landlord Tells How Simple Would Be Process.
In the days before the dawn of his fame it was the practice of a certain well-known author to wander up and down the land seeking what he might devour in the way of suggestion and local color. In this way he had drifted down into Arkansas, "roughing it" and not, as he expresses it, presenting an appearance calculated to inspire a hotel proprietor with unlimited confidence.

The only hotel in the town, a frame structure, seemed to have been built upon the theory that there was plenty of room straight up, but the ground had to be bought, and the wanderer was shown to a room on the third floor reached through many narrow and winding passages. From the one window it was a straight drop to the ground.

"Say, how would I get out of this place in case of fire?" he asked the landlord, who had brought up his grip. The other eyed him coldly.

"Wall," he drawled, "all yo' would have to do would be to show the night-watchman—the one with the shotgun—a receipted bill for yo' board an' lodgin' and get him to tie up the bulldog."—Harper's Weekly.

When a man is too stubborn to give up when he is beaten, it is polite to say he is suffering for his convictions.

Prohibition Alliance Banquet
The lecture room of the Methodist church was crowded on Thursday evening by people who came to enjoy the banquet and listen to the addresses. A good time in general was spent. Next week we will be able to give a more extended report.

Day of Local Movement.
Here the laborer, the mechanic, the man, business man or manufacturer figures that at the end of every week or every month he has a certain income. This may be in the form of salary or profit, but it is there. Salary means the profit which a man's arms or a man's brains, or both together, are capable of earning. Profit, in the general meaning of the term, is the difference between the cost of the goods as well as the cost of the sale and the selling price. In those days of general prosperity the profit shows up considerably larger than in hard times.

Now at the end of every week or every month it should be the business of the laborer, the mechanic, the office man, business man or manufacturer to spend in this town whatever part of his profit is necessary for his living. We are all living here under circumstances which are mutually advantageous. We enjoy clean streets, well lighted thoroughfares, protection from those who prey upon the regulated municipality, simply because we pay our money into a common fund. So by all working for all we bring about the ideal government.

That same spirit of mutual assistance should prevail in the business world in this town. Here our merchants work hard to please their customers and they offer as good goods as can be purchased anywhere in the country. Business men in various lines of trade owe it to each other to patronize home stores. Certainly this is the best town in this part of the country. There is no doubt about it. It naturally follows that our merchants are not to be excelled in this section. Buying from our merchants insures the proper spirit of local pride in home institutions.

The Green Cottage
The East Grove ladies are busily engaged in the raising of the Green Cottage fund. They have nearly enough to make the purchase of the rough lumber. They have been helped somewhat by certain parties who, it is alleged, started rumors to the effect that the case was not a successful one. The woman in question is not the owner of a house, but lives in a shed in the rear of her mother-in-law's house. Her grandmother of one of the children is paying for tuition for it and thereby relieving Mrs. Olson. Any who have offered contributions may now send same in.

The marriage took place in Naperville of Miss Sate Wickel and William Oswald, on Thursday evening. As will be remembered Miss Wickel was for a number of years a resident of Downers Grove and taught in the schools here. Professor and Mrs. Searles were present.

Carthen Burns
Not one out of every ten female caribou has horns. When it does have them they are much smaller than those of the bull. The horns of the female, however, in general have more branches than those of the bull, and they are much more regularly and finely formed. The cows carry their horns much longer than the bulls. They have been seen with their horns the month of April. The old bulls have their horns from the month of November. They hardly ever shed them after the month of December. The young bulls shed their horns in the first of December and the young cows in the first of February. The horns of the young bulls are much smaller than those of the young cows.
