LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

—Miss Clara Cole, of Streator, spent a night the past week with her grandmother, Mrs. John Stanley.

—A party of nineteen surprised Mr. Samuel J. Kennison on his birthday Wednesday, Sept. 16. Progressive cinch was played during the evening, after which delightful refreshments were served.

—The contract for the German Evangelical church, on Grove street, has been let to Chilvers & Burnet. Work will commence next week and will be pushed to completion as the congregation expects to get into it in time to celebrate Christmas.

—Next Monday, September 21st, at 1:30 p. m., at the court house in Wheaton, Congressmen Lorimer and Rainey and Representative Lindly will speak on the constitutional amendment for a deep waterway to be voted upon next November. This will be a subject of interest to the voters, and a cordial invitation is extended to hear the speakers.

—On Saturday evening Mrs. Adah Anderson was hostess to a large card party. Five hundred was played until a late hour. The decorations were in pink and white. The Stanley home was a bower of beauty. Asters were the flowers chosen, and the card tables were covered in pink and white. Mrs. Anderson and daughter dressed in white, wearing large, pink asters in their hair. The prizes were a book for the gentlemen and a cut-glass dish for the lady prize. Mr. Lee Stanley and Mrs. Willard Norton are the proud owners. Still another prize came for the lucky one, Mr. J. D. Gillispie won that honor in his usual modest manner.

Cass Correspondence

Chas. Hawkins and Erwin Oldfield are busy hauling gravel on their contract.

Rollo and Ira Heartt and wife spent last Sunday with the family of Chas. Oldfield.

Frank Craigmile has left for Hargerstown, Ill., taking his small brother Willie, who expects to attend school there.

The farm house owned by August Ahlemann, situated on the farm formerly owned by M. Samsen, was burned a few days ago, catching fire from a defective chimney.

W. S. Chilvers is building a 150 ton cement silo on the farm occupied by Joe Schlabatka. Mr. Chilvers is a wide-awake farmer, early to adopt new and improved methods in farming.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Welch have sold their splendid farm to Mr. W. S. Chilvers of Romeoville, who expects to occupy the same in the spring. Mr. Welch and family will be greatly missed in the community, having proved themselves royal neighbors and just in their dealings with their fellowmen.

The blacksmith shop of Homer Andrus burned last Saturday night with all its contents. The shop was situated on the farm of his father, Elbridge Andrus. Whether the fire was of incendiary origin is not known. It was discovered about 11 o'clock. The fire had gained such headway that practically nothing was saved. There was no insurance.

W. C. T. U ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The DuPage County W. C. T. U. annual convention met at Lisle on Thursday of last week and was considered one of the most successful ever held in the county.

Over fifty delegates were present, fourteen of whom were from Downers Grove. Wheaton, Naperville, Glen Ellyn and Big Woods were well represented.

The reports from Naperville and Glen Ellyn showed that saloons had been voted out in the spring elections. Wheaton has had no saloons for twenty years.

A large amount of educational and philanthropic work has been done by the local unions and the membership has increased. Downers Grove now has fifty members, against twenty a year ago.

Mrs. Haley, of Wheaton, conducted the Mothers' Hour and "The Proper Training of Citizens in Home and School" was discussed.

In the evening a gold medal contest was held, Miss Cooke, of Wheaton, carrying off the honors.

Those in attendance from Downers Grove were Mesdames Huling, Puffer, Lamb, Kettring, Brown, Chaplain, Strong, Mooar, Misses Lott, Fletcher, Diener and others.

Recording Secretary.

"Faint, Yet Pursuing."

I strive, but fail; O, why, dear Lord,
Must this my constant record be?
Why finds each daily westering sun
My work for Thee but half begun,
Or done, alas, so selfishly?

I'm tempted oft, and often yield,
For Pleasure hath a siren voice;
She sings my scruples quite away,
And with her charming roundelay
Deprives me of the power of choice.

My faith is strong when skies are bright,
But sunny days are all too brief;
When clouds arise and sorrows come
My lips are sealed, my heart is dumb
And full of weary unbelief.

But this, dear Lord, my comfort is:
My troubled heart is known to Thee:
Thou knowest that I love Thee, Lord;
And, Saviour mine, I have Thy word
That this shall my salvation be.

There are said to be 1,000 Esperanto societies and schools throughout the world now, and periodicals for propagating the language now number fifty-five, eleven more than there were last December. Esperanto is gaining official recognition and privileges in Europe and Asia.—Boston Herald.

A YOUNG MAN WITH A FUTURE.

The house and two lots located at 110 Prince avenue, known as the Alford place, has been sold, and changed hands this past week. Last October W. F. Alford with wife and daughter left Downers Grove to live in California, where Mr. Alford has been living seven years, and where his health has been much improved. His son, F. E. Alford, was in New York, where he had been living three years, all of that time in the employ of the Western Electric Company, but his father and mother were lonesome so far from him, and after a little the call came from across the states for their son to join them. F. E. Alford was advised by those whom he worked for to remain where he was, but after a little he decided it would be best to make his home with his parents in their remaining years, and so resigned and joined them in the early spring of 1908, but this was not all. After he was there a few months he was obliged to come back to Downers Grove, as his father was not able, and sell the property and ship their furniture to that country of flowers and sunshine. Those who have watched Fred, first selling part of the furniture at auction, then packing the rest, and last but not least seen the careful and tactful way in which he has managed the sale of their property here, only know and realize the business ability of so young a head. It has been interesting to us who have known Fred from childhood, and who have had a desire to see the young men of Downers Grove do things, to watch this young man, the honor of his father's strict teaching and discipline, rise from the ranks of a mere boy and suddenly shoulder responsibility which men older and with larger experience have failed in. We know it was hard for him to give up a good position in the first place, but much harder for him to take up the cares that have been laid on him, which he has successfully carried out in the past three months.

It is unknown what his property sold for, but we do know he refused $5,000 recently, and so we believe he got a fair price for it.

F. E. Alford left last Saturday for Los Angeles, and expects to start in business the first of 1909. We know success will be on his side. If he handles his new undertaking like those of the past.

Fred, when speaking of his stay in this village, told the writer that he was very grateful to his many friends for their kindness and helpfulness to him. He further said that the lives and examples set before him of many of these people here he never would lose sight of.

Let there be more boys like Fred; when ready to leave our village we can sincerely say, we regret to see them go. Success and good fortune go with Fred are the hearty wishes of those he leaves behind him.

SCHNOL NOTES.

The North Side school has been supplied with two fire escapes. The annex of the South Side school also has a fire escape from the second story. There is no room in any department of the school, with less than two ways of escape in case of fire.

The members of the Board of Education have decided that the fire escapes are properly installed and safe, and adequate in case of emergency. Fire Chief Klein and Mr. Haller, of the Board of Education, visited the schools last week for the purpose of testing the fire escapes by having the pupils of the upper rooms pass down them. It was found that these fire escapes were in fine order and satisfactory.

The Board of Education have spared nothing in making the most adequate protection of the children. Regular fire drills are to be given twice each school month. They will be given oftener the first months of school so pupils may be thoroughly trained.

About 1,000 feet of new fence has been built around the play-grounds of the Maple avenue school. This adds much to the appearance of the premises and definitely sets off the boundary lines of the school property.

Our public schools opened Tuesday, September 8th, with the following named teachers in charge:

L. G. Avery, superintendent.
Miss M. Maude Manley, principal of high school.
Miss Zella E. Allen, assistant in high school.
Miss Mary L. Parrish, 8th grade.
Miss Grace L. Gainsley, 7th grade.
Miss Florence Bradley, 6th grade.
Miss Susie MacLaren, 6th grade.
Miss Zell Field, 5th grade.
Miss Henrietta Latham, 5th grade.
Miss Eliza J. Herman, 4th grade.
Miss Anna Herring, 3d grade.
Miss Agnes Ross, 2d grade.
Miss Clara Hull, 1st grade.
Mrs. Maude Whiffen, 4th grade.
Miss Elsie Irene Ward, 3d grade.
Miss Esther Mellander, 2d grade.
Miss Agatha Sweet, 1st grade.

The total enrollment at this time is between 675 and 700.

The high school is the largest ever! Eighty-eight have enrolled at this time.

Making a Blue-Print.

If you have ever been in an architect's office, you have doubtless noticed, on the wall or on tables, plans of houses printed in white lines on a blue background. Many persons wonder how prints of that kind are made. The printing is done by sunlight, much as a photograph is printed from a negative. Specially prepared paper is used for the purpose. Architect's tracing-paper, with the plan in black, is laid on the prepared paper, and the whole is then exposed to the sun, the effect being to turn the body of the paper blue, leaving the parts under the black lines of the drawing light in color. A water-bath then darkens the blue, and whitens the transferred lines of the drawing.—Chicago News.

County Clerk.

HINSDALE FIRE.

Fire in the Hinsdale home of John C. Fetzer, financier and receiver for the Central Life Securities Company, early Wednesday caused $1,000 damage on the main floor of the residence and caused the family to rush from the premises in fear that the structure was doomed.

A prompt response by the fire department to an alarm sent in by Mr. Fetzer resulted in the extinguishing of the flames before they could spread to the valuable bric-a-brac and art objects on the first floor of the residence.

The fire was caused by the carelessness of a maid, who went to bed leaving an electric iron wrapped in part of the day's wash, forgetting to turn off the current. In the night the clothes caught fire and the flames communicated to adjacent woodwork.

Practically the entire population of Hinsdale turned out to aid the volunteer fire department. The contents of the residence are valued at $50,000.

There may be some boys who would care
To fill the Presidential chair,
But boys that ARE boys, mostly dream
They're pitchers on the winning team.

Yes, that's the boy of it; all right. By and by, he'll wake up and get to hustling, same as we do. Of course you are interested in baseball news, but you don't forget the important question of what kind of cooked meat is best. There is just one answer—ours! We know it because our customers say so. One trial will prove to you that there is both economy and satisfaction in our home cooked corn beef.
