

E. E. HALE IS DEAD; END COMES SUDDENLY

Famous Preacher and Chaplain of the Senate Expires at Roxbury, Mass.

WAS AN AUTHOR OF NOTE

Born in 1822 of Revolutionary Stock and Showed Precocity as Child—Ordnained at Age of 20.

Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the United States Senate, died at his home in Roxbury, Mass., Thursday.

As an advocate of world peace and a humanitarian whose activities have been many and forceful, Dr. Hale, who was pastor emeritus of the old South Church of Boston, which pulpit he filled regularly from 1856 until 1900, had a career of usefulness that is unique in American history.

Born in Boston April 3, 1822, Dr. Hale came of famous New England stock. His father, Nathan Hale, was a nephew of the patriot whose dying utterance, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country," is given deeply in the chronicles of the nation's struggle for liberty.

It has been said of Dr. Hale that "he was cradled in the sheets of a newspaper," for his father was publisher of the Boston Advertiser, the first daily to be published in New England. Educated for a life of letters, the boy made rapid strides in school, and at 17 was graduated from Harvard University.

At 20 he was licensed to become a minister. He regarded war as a barbarism which settled only questions of military strength and not questions of right and wrong, and he had a large part, as editor of the Peace Crusade, in bringing about the Hague tribunal. As an author, in which his aim was moral rather than artistic, Dr. Hale produced several enduring works.

In defiance of advancing years, Dr. Hale continued in the public eye until stricken by his last illness. On the death of Dr. William H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the Senate, Dr. Hale succeeded him, his hoary head and rugged frame having an impressive figure in that chamber.

ARMY CAPTAIN IS SHOT.

Wounded Soldier Probably Fatally Wounds J. C. Raymond at Fort.

Captain John C. Raymond, of Troop B, Second United States Cavalry, and a member of one of the most prominent army families in the country, may die as the result of a wound received in a shooting affray at Fort Des Moines, Iowa, Sunday.

Upon being reprimanded by Captain Raymond for overstaying his leave of absence from the post, Corporal Lisle Crabtree drew a revolver and began firing at his commanding officer. The first bullet went wild, the second struck Sergeant James H. Washburn, the third hit Captain Raymond and the fourth found a victim in Corporal Elijah Scott. The enraged trooper then turned the pistol on himself and fired the remaining bullet into his heart.

With the exception of Captain Raymond, none of the four is considered seriously injured. Immediately after the shooting Major Bratton, surgeon of the regiment, had the officer removed to Mercy Hospital in Des Moines in a special street car, where an X-ray examination showed that the bullet had entered the front of Captain Raymond's neck and passed through, striking the backbone. His body is completely paralyzed from the neck down and only slight hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Even if the injured officer should live it is probable that he will be paralyzed. Captain Raymond is a son of Brigadier General Charles W. Raymond, of the engineer corps, retired. He is 37 years old and was graduated from West Point in 1897. He is married and has two children.

SON OF SIAMESE TWIN KILLED.

James Bunker, Deaf-Mute, is Slain by Lightning in His Barn.

James Bunker, a deaf-mute, youngest son of Chang, one of the famous Siamese twins, was killed by lightning in his tobacco barn in Barry County, N. C. He and his son and a workman took shelter in a barn during a rainstorm. Bunker's hat and shoes were torn to pieces, but the body was not bruised or mutilated. The son and workman were knocked senseless, remaining in this condition for an hour or more. Bunker was 48 years old and prosperous. He was intelligent and entertaining and enjoyed conversing with his friends through the medium of pencil and paper. The famous twins married Virginia women. The sons of the Siamese have all been well-to-do and prosperous men. The peculiar inheritance of deafness was an affliction that added an additional strangeness to the family.

$15,000 STOLEN IS RETURNED.

Five Thieves' Van $25,000 to Paraphernalia and Give Back Best.

Mrs. George Sheat, of Duluth, Minn., who notified the police in Seattle that on May 20 $20,000, which she had concealed under the mattress of her bed, had been stolen while she was watching a parade, has received $15,000 in a letter signed "Two Thieves." The writers say that they will return the $5,000 for the money and have no further use for the money and SHOWS DECREASE IN SMALLPOX.

Government Surgeon Urges More Care in Vaccination.

"The experience of Germany, where compulsory vaccination has been in force for thirty years, proves conclusively that smallpox as existing in the United States is entirely unnecessary." Epitomized, this is the conclusion of Henry B. Mathewson, passed assistant surgeon, Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, in a bulletin just issued in Washington. He declares that vaccination and revaccination cannot be too strongly urged. Dr. Mathewson has collected statistical data to prove that during the past five years smallpox in the United States has shown a steady decrease. In 1902 there were reported 54,014 cases, with 2,083 deaths; during 1906 there were reported 12,503 cases, with 90 deaths. The latest figures gathered show that the total of cases in this country from Dec. 28, 1908, to June 11 last, was 11,701, with a death rate of only 52.

BUILDING FALLS, KILLING FOUR.

Workmen Buried Alive in Collapse of Store Plant at Detroit.

A six-story storehouse at the plant of the Peninsular Stove Company, 5th and Fort streets, Detroit, collapsed shortly before noon Saturday and four workmen were buried in the heap of wreckage. Three bodies have been recovered. A number of persons were injured. The store house was thirty-two years old and had been used by the stove company for a warehouse for more than twenty-five years. The upper floors of the building were well filled with the finished product of the plant. With no warning the top floor suddenly sagged and then gave way with a crash. Each of the lower floors sank in turn under the burden of falling stoves and debris. A fire which was discovered in the basement of the ruined building was soon extinguished.

TRY TO ASSASSINATE A MAYOR.

Attempt to Burn Home of Executive in Town in Ohio is Made.

What is believed to have been an attempt to assassinate Mayor William R. Niven and burn his residence in Bellefontaine, Ohio, was made the other day when a burning bottle filled with kerosene was thrown through the large plate-glass window of his house. Curtains, carpets and all furniture in the room were set on fire, but the department quickly extinguished them. The mayor was away from home at the time. Mayor Niven was elected on a "dry" ticket two years ago. He is a well-known democratic politician, a member of the State committee, and last year made the race for Congress.

CHINA BACKS DOWN ON BIG LOAN

American Protest at Being Barred from Participation Effective.

Acting on representations made by Henry P. Fletcher, charge d'affaires of the American legation in Peking, China has agreed not to ratify the foreign loan of $27,500,000 from British, German and French bankers for the construction of the Hankow-Szechuen railroad. It is expected that this refusal, coupled with the representations made by the American ambassadors in London, Paris and Berlin, will result in arrangements being made in Europe for American participation in the loan.

Rob Train and Are Caught.

The express car of the fast mail from New York reaching Rochester at 1:52 a. m. was robbed by five New York and Brooklyn men. The robbery was discovered at Syracuse and the Rochester police were notified. When the train entered the Rochester depot the robbers tried to escape but were captured.

Robbers Get $40,000 in Gold.

Holding five men and two women helpless under the muzzles of revolvers, three masked men secured $40,000 in gold from the bunkhouse of the Nellie mine on Bear creek, near Telluride, Colo., and escaped after a running fight.

Stops Beer Glass on Wagon; Dies.

A freak wagon that ended fatally was brought to light when James Shea, a laborer, 38 years old, died at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., as the result of eating a beer glass Feb. 10.

WHOLE NATION PAYS HOMAGE TO WRIGHTS

Aviators in Washington Receive Aero Club Medals from President Taft.

THOUSANDS ATTEND CEREMONY

Governors Send Laudatory Messages Which Are to Be Given to the "Conquerors of the Air."

The achievement of man-flight, for which men have striven for more than 4,000 years, was celebrated in Washington Thursday. After receiving homage from the rulers of Europe, Wilbur and Orville Wright, of Dayton, Ohio, on that day received their first public recognition by their fellow countrymen. In the east room of the White House President Taft presented to the inventors the gold medals awarded to them by the Aero Club of America to commemorate the invention of the first successful flying machine.

The event was one of national interest. The governors of the various States sent laudatory messages congratulating the Wrights on their success. These, together with the resolutions adopted by the numerous scientific organizations and letters written by prominent scientists, have been put in book form and will be presented to the Wrights.

The Wright brothers, after being entertained at luncheon by the Aero Club of Washington, proceeded to the White House. They were presented to the President by Representative Herbert Parsons of New York, who told of their great achievements. In presenting the medals, President Taft spoke briefly. More than 1,000 invitations had been sent out for the White House ceremony.

At its annual meeting last year the Aero Club of America, the pioneer aviation club in the United States, elected the Wrights to honorary membership and decided to award to each a gold medal. These were procured at a cost of $2,200, obtained through the subscriptions of its members. The medals bear the likenesses of the two brothers on one side and an inscription on the reverse side.

Wilbur and Orville Wright, accompanied by their sister, Miss Katherine Wright, were met at the station by a delegation from the Aero Club of America. The Wright brothers were taken to the Cosmos Club, where they were entertained.

NEW GATES STOP FLOOD AT 500.

Lock Pumped Out to Determine Damage Done Recently.

The new gates on the lock of the Canadian ship canal at Sault Ste. Marie, replacing those which were wrecked recently by the steamer Perry G. Walker were hung in place the other night and the next day the great thousand foot lock was pumped out so that the amount of the damage done by the cataract that rushed through it after the accident might be determined. The steamer Crescent City which was carried through the lock by the swirling water after the Perry G. Walker had ripped out the lower gates, was raised and left for the lower lakes with temporary patches on her damaged bow.

CUPID POUTS AT HEALTH LAW.

Couples Go to Canada to Wed Because of New State Statute.

The new Washington State law providing that applicants for marriage licenses must undergo medical examination, except where the woman is 15 years old, went into effect the other day. Ten couples appeared at the county clerk's office in Seattle, with physician's certificates, and two couples, when informed of the new law, said they would go to British Columbia to marry. County officials say the law will result in many Americans marrying in Canada.

ODDS & ENDS OF SPORT

Jack McKerron trotted a mile in 2:15 1/2 at the Detroit fair grounds.

Five motor cars are engaged in a race from New York to Seattle, 4,000 miles.

It took Frank Gotch thirty-five minutes and thirty-five seconds of stiff wrestling to down Henry Ordemann twice in their match in Minneapolis.

King Edward's Minoru won the English Derby in a driving rain with Louviers second and William IV third. Sir Martin, the American horse, fell and was out of the race.

Olamhala, owned by T. G. Greener won the Latoria Derby at Cincinnati, heading The Peer by over four lengths. Fifteen lengths behind came Plate Glass, the only other starter.

Dr. Borgan, Hamline's famous ball coach, broke his arm while giving an illustration of how a catcher should block a slide-in from third base. Pitcher Ed Flerke hit the coach in such a way as to snap his wrist bone.

One of the most brilliant and most desperate wrestling bouts ever witnessed on any stage in the country was seen in St. Paul when Ed Adamson, of Chicago, and Walter Miller, of St. Paul, wrestled for three solid hours without a fall.

Presidents Ebbets of the Brooklyn ball club says he would like to buy two stars from the world's champion Chicago Cubs and would gladly pay $25,000 for them or, if necessary, would give President Murphy a blank check and permit him to name his own figure.

100 DIE IN BIG QUAKE.

Southern France Feels Shock and Damage Will Amount to Millions.

At least 100 dead, with every possibility of the death list growing much larger, and 100 hurt in the result of the sharp earthquake which devastated several towns and villages in the southernmost part of France, particularly in the departments of Herault and Bouches-du-Rhone.

Great suffering is reported from the remotest places, owing to a lack of bread and the necessities of life, before the arrival of assistance. The casualties may be greatly increased, as the ruins have not yet been entirely searched. The villages of St. Cannat and Rognes were completely demolished by the earthquake, and Lambesc, which is twelve miles from Aix, suffered heavily. Survivors are sleeping in tents, and the streets are impassable. In many places they have been torn up and are incumbered with masses of rocks. Houses, public buildings and churches were crumbled to pieces. Among other villages seriously damaged are Vauvargues, Venelles, Pellissanne, Puy-Ste-Reparate and Arguilles.

The victims at St. Cannat and Rognes were horribly mutilated. There were evidences that several of the victims had lived for hours imprisoned by the debris before they died. Then people rushed into the streets when the first shock occurred, crying out in terror. Many of them returned to the rescue of their families. At Rognes a family of four was buried in the ruins. Their cries could be heard throughout the night, but all were dead in the morning when a rescuing party reached them. At St. Cannat an old man and his son were watching a billiard game. They were instantly killed. The players escaped with slight bruises. The chateau Valmousse, near St. Cannat, was badly damaged. The communal chateau at Arguilles was split in two. The historic village of Vernegues was wrecked, but no one was killed. The monetary loss in the affected district is very heavy.

ARSENIC IS FOUND IN BREAD.

Rich Indiana Woman Thinks Poison That Killed Farmer Was for Her.

The presence of arsenic in the bread sample sent to the food and drug laboratory of the State Board of Health by former Congressman John C. Cheney of Sullivan, Ind., has been established by a test just completed, and on the strength of the discovery preparations are being made to investigate the cause of the recent death of Spencer Springs, living in Haddon Township, Sullivan County. In addition to the bread samples, a sample of flour was sent to the laboratory, but this has not yet been tested. Springs and Sam and Howard Whitfield are said to have been poisoned May 21, the symptoms being poisonous poisoning. The two Whitfields recovered, but Springs died.

Mrs. Flora Haddon believes the poison was placed in the bread in order to cause her death. Springs lived on her farm. Mrs. Haddon had told of receiving three anonymous letters recently on which were pictured a skull and crossbones, telling her to leave or she would be killed. Mrs. Haddon was recently defendant in a suit brought by Frank Crawford, postmaster in the Hawaiian Islands, involving land valued at $200,000. The jury decided in her favor.

WANT TO EXPEL PROF. FOSTER.

Baptist Ministers Say Educator's Views Proclaim Him Unitarian.

The efforts of the Chicago Baptist ministers to expel Prof. George Burman Foster from the church and if possible from the faculty of Chicago University have stirred up the biggest row the church there has seen in many years. The ministers declare that Dr. Foster's views, as laid down in his latest book, "The Function of Religion in Man's Struggle for Existence," proclaim him no longer a Baptist. They say he is a Unitarian and has insulted his fellow clergymen. Foster refuses to resign and asserts he is a "Typical old-fashioned Baptist, of the kind that fought, bled and died for human freedom."

GIRL SHOT BY THIEF SHE WED.

Married Youth to Reform Him, Then Flees Because of His Cruelty.

"Now I've got you," shouted Andrew Deck, as he sprang from behind a door and fired three shots at his young wife in Cincinnati. One bullet passed through her chest and another penetrated her right arm. She was removed to the city hospital, where the doctors said her condition was critical. Deck is 29 years old. Deck and his wife are each 29 years old. Deck had been a thief. Rose Shuck had known him since childhood. He was sent to the reformatory at Mansfield, Ohio, and she worked for his pardon, and two years ago secured it, and met him at the door of the reformatory and they were married. The case at the time attracted attention, as she married him to reform him. A few days ago the young wife, with her baby, fled from home on account of the husband's cruelty.

CONVICTED OF KILLING TWO.

Man Who Buried Bodies in Cellar Got Life Penalty.

Michael Soboleski, a women's tailor, charged with the murder of Ludwig and Augusta Krueger, was convicted in Toledo, O., of murder in the first degree, with a recommendation for mercy. Soboleski was negotiating with the aged couple for the possession of their farm, stabbed them, and buried their bodies in the cellar of their home.

COUNTESS OF ABERDEEN

A Worker for the Good of Humanity.

A warm-hearted, earnest woman, serene, simple, sincere and sympathetic, with a special talent for human helpfulness and inspiration to higher living—this is Lady Aberdeen. In "Guisachan," the romantic Scotch estate in Invernesshire, Leibel, youngest daughter of Sir Dudley Coultas Marjoribanks, later Lord Tweedmouth, was born in 1857. A right royal welcome was given to visitors in this hospitable home in the Highlands, and from the lips of the prominent statesman that gathered there little Leibel learned politics at an age when she should still have believed in fairy tales. When she was eleven, a young man of twenty-one who had ridden across the country, lost his way and unknowingly trespassed on the Marjoribanks estate. A chance interview with Sir Dudley proved him to be John Campbell Gordon, son of Sir Dudley's good old Parliamentary friend, Earl of Aberdeen, and he was invited to spend the night. The love at first sight between the two young people led to their marriage in 1877.

In 1886, Gladstone offered to his friend, young Lord Aberdeen, the post of Viceroy of Ireland. It was a delicate, difficult position, strewn with pitfalls which taxed the watchfulness, tact and diplomacy of the Viceroy to avoid. There was great distress in the country; the crops and fisheries had failed, the people grudgingly tolerated the occupants of Dublin Castle because protest was useless; but soon the sunshine and glow of affection from Lord and Lady Aberdeen melted the cold, sullen reserve, and love reigned where force had proven worse than useless. Perhaps the Countess, herself a descendant of the old Irish and Scotch kings, struck some sympathetic chord that vibrated in kindred and unity. Her practical nature realized that the people should be helped to help themselves through their own labor, not pampered by gifts. She devoted herself with great energy to reviving the domestic industries of Ireland—weaving, knitting, embroidery and lace-making—and made the wearing of Irish linen an essential to admission to official functions at the Castle.

In Canada, where Lord Aberdeen was Governor-General from 1903-8 they endeavored themselves to the people by their many acts of kindness. The Countess' first effort in syndicating sunshine and sweetness was her organization of the "Upward and Upward Society" among the tenants, domestic and the poor of the Scotch estates, which has spread over the world. The Women's Liberal Federation, which she organized and led as President 1911-19 over 80,000 members; but her club work and labors for humanity never for a moment ebb. Her home, with her three children, remaining in her loving care.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE CHICAGO THEATERS.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE. "Keegan's Pal," a new play by Paul Wilstach, was presented June 7 at the Chicago Opera House, Chicago, by Joseph M. Galtes with Emmett Corrigan as the star, and the next day it was apparent that the play and star had achieved a smashing hit. James O'Donnell Bennett of the Record Herald calls Mr. Corrigan "the best actor in America." Ashton Stevens in the Examiner says "Keegan's Pal" is a drama of pulse and brains. "It strikes life with a hard and living punch," in the Tribune Mr. Hubbard recorded "a popular success." "Keegan's Pal" acts well and contains a story which held the audience keenly interested and made the onlookers feel and be moved." The Post declared that "all lovers of detective stories would find Keegan's Pal quite the thing." Charles W. Collins in the Inter Ocean said: "Emmett Corrigan is an actor of power and in Keegan's Pal his performance is worthy of his brilliant reputation. The play is full of emotional scenes of strong acting value." The American said "Keegan's Pal" is a powerful drama of intensely virile atmosphere and tenacious grip upon the human sympathies.

MAJESTIC THEATER.

Della Fox, the famous musical comedy star, will make her appearance in vaudeville at the Majestic Theater, Chicago, during the week of June 21st. Probably no other stage favorite attained the popularity and was received with so much enthusiasm as was the fair Della during her comic opera days. A famous fun-maker on this bill is Bert Leslie, the kingpin of slant comedy, who will be seen in the farcical sketch, "Hogan's Visit." During the past season he was with Miss Hattie Williams in the musical comedy, "Fluffy Ruffles." Still another important number will be the "Hotel Lumbland," one of the newest of vaudeville productions. It is a very funny playlet, played by a big cast of players, which includes Ben Grinnell, Pretty Adele Rowland, the prima donna of "The Prince of Tonight," one of the big musical successes of the year, will make her debut in vaudeville with several tuneful ditties which have been written especially for her. The Five Avolos are xylophone players from the other side of the Atlantic who are considered the best of their kind. Miss Lena Panzer presents a topsy-turvy novelty in that she dances "all over the place" on a spade, on a wire and on the floor. Eddie Mack and Dot Williams have an enlightening collection of songs and dances. They come direct from New York musical production, and all their best selections have been happily chosen. Matthews and Ashley are two Hebrew comedians of the first order whose doings and songs are certain to keep one well entertained, and there are half a dozen other equally expert numbers.

HYOMEI

Cure for Coughs, Croup, Sore Throat, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, etc.

Three Irishmen were stopping at a second-rate hotel and one of them imbibed so freely at the bar that he had to be carried to his room, in which also slept a negro in a separate bed. His comrades, as a practical joke on him, proceeded to paint the Irishman's face black. In the morning, when awakened by the proprietor, he got up, and happened to catch sight of himself in the mirror. "Oh, hejabbers," he exclaimed, "if the blamed idiots haven't gone and woke the nigger by mistake!" And he crawled back into bed.—Success Magazine.
