Prof. Wright's method is highly indorsed by the broad-minded, most intelligent and up-to-date medical doctors. Many of them have called him many times to treat their patients. A VERY PROMINENT CITIZEN

To Whom It May Concern: In October, 1905, I was crippled up in bed with lumbago and rheumatism in my back and hips; for three days I could not turn over in bed. On October 17th I sent for Prof. Wright to call at my house. He said he could cure me, and after treating me about thirty minutes he told me to get up and dress. I hesttated a moment or so, thinking it ridiculous for him to expect me to do such a thing. But when I saw he really meant it, I made the effort, and was astonished when I found I could get up and dress without a pain or ache. The next morning I walked nearly a mile to his office and took my treatment. Three treatments entirely cured me; and now, six months later, I have had no symptoms of the old trouble.

In March, 1906, I was taken with severe achings and excruciating pains and stiffness in my left knee and limb, so that I could not walk. On March 19th I called Prof. Wright to my house, where he treated me; then I got up and dressed and could walk all around without crutch or cane. The following morning I walked nearly a mile to Prof. Wright's office and took my treatment, and the next day I went to work, all right. From my own experience with Prof. Wright's drugless method of treating and curing diseases I feel I cannot say enough in favor of it. cheerfully recommend all sufferers to try it, and when you once try you will always be a friend and patron of it, because it positively cures H. Dr. H. R. Wood, for more than 30 years in medical practice, says: "I tried every medicine I knew and every scheme I heard of, but got no tetter. I finally tried magnetic healing, and was entirely cured. know Prof. Wright's method of treating the sick is the most thorough H. R. WOOD, M. D., Galesburg, III.

What Alla College Soys.

It is not luxury which threatens our college boys, but an incapacity for work, fostered and even trained by the willingness of parents to let them follow always the line of least resistance.

The result of this willingness parents to let children follow always the line of least resistance is, says Prof. Van Dyke in the Century, that many boys who have the best chances in life will begin manhood with a smattering of information, agreeable manners, mind untrained and wills weakened by an education that has not

These lads come up to college with two objects. The first is a sharp, clear, insistent anticipation of the pleasures and advantages of what is called "college life." To define just what they understand by the phrase would require another article as long as this. It may be summarized as agreeable comradship, the formation of friendships, many of the privileges of manhood with none of its responsibilities—the maximum of pleasure and the minimum of work. Behind this eager anticipation of the joy of "college life" is a vague desire, or, rather. willingness, to get an education, pro-
