AUSTRALIA FOR YOUR HEALTH.

Round Trip Only $1.00.

If you are a catarrh, asthma or hay fever sufferer, what would you say the above offer was made to you? How would you like to go to the mountainous forests of pine and eucalyptus, where catarrh and asthma do not exist? Where people do not have to hawk every morning, to spit out the lump of disgusting mucous? Where the healing, antiseptic balsams purify the air and kill all germs?

You can't go to this ideal spot, of arse. You haven't time, and possibly not money. But you can, for $1, bring the healing balsamic air from these forests right to your home; you can kill the germs of catarrh at home, fithout losing a minute's time.

"Where's his head?" inquired Hal-Uncle Jack tapped on the window, and sure enough, up came a little head, two bright eves stared at the children, and they saw a real live owl Couldn't we catch him?" asked Hal. in a whisper. "I'd so like to have an owl. Uncle Jack."

The owl rustled his feathers and put his head on one side, stretched out his leg and-"Oh, he's down the fireplace!"

shouted Hal, and in a second he was running down the stairs, thump! thump! thump!

Uncle Jack and Kathie ran, too. There he sat, a very sooty, black little owl, indeed, right in the middle of the fireplace.

He blinked and winked more than ever, and rustled his feathers all over his fat little body. "Let's put a basket over him, and

"He's flown up the chimney," said Uncle Jack, laughing. "He was too wise an owl to let Uncle Jack catch him, even with fur gloves on."

"I'm most glad," said Kathie, "for he scared me awful!" "Girls are always scared!" answered Hal, in a lofty tone. And he wona large box, at Bush dered why Uncle Jack laughed so loud and long .- Youth's Companion.

youngest babes. Test it once yourself, Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body-Make You III, Languid and Depressed.

Sick kidneys weaken the body through the continual drainage of life giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acld that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pain, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is a good proof in the following testimonial:

B. L. Beidelman, Wright street, Naperville, Ill., says: "I am recommend ing Doan's Kidney Pills, as I know their value and I hope other persons who are suffering from kidney trouble will be led by my indorsement to try them. About three years ago I was kicked by a horse and shortly after that my kidneys began to trouble me The kidney secretions became very unnatural and I had a frequent desire to void them, especially at night. The passages were scanty and at times attended with severe pain. I doctored and doctored, but could not get relief until about two months ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys or bladder do not trouble me now and I am gaining in health daily." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United

www. Glanders in a Man.

Glanders is a disease of horses, but one from which, unfortunately, human beings are not entirely exempt. Forthought to be exceedingly few and far between, the statistics of the registrargeneral in England, for example, showing a mortality of only one or two a year. Latterly, however, with improved means of diagnosis at our command, it has been proved that many persons have had glanders and died of it with the real nature of the disease unrecognized. The ulcers have been diagnosed as tuberculosis, as those of typhoid, of smallpox, or of some form of blood poisoning, and they have been treated accordingly, with, of course, fatal results; for glanders is a very dreadful disease, the cure of which depends upon prompt and radical measures.

To-day there is no excuse for any failure in correct diagnosis, because the special bacillus causing glanderscalled the Bacillus mallei-is peculiar to this disease.

It is naturally those whose work keeps them in close contact with horses who are most in danger of glanders, and it has also been known to attack several members of a family where the father worked in a stable, and case has been reported where a washerwoman caught it from infected cloth-

Glanders may be either acute or chronic. There may be a slow succes sion of abscesses attacking the muscles, or crawling along the lymphatic system for months. Sometimes, after surgical treatment, these abscesses will heal, and there will be no further symptoms; sometimes a slow chronic case will suddenly burst out into a violent acute one, and death ensue.

Other cases are acute from the first, and may be mistaken for blood-poisoning from some other cause, or for an acute specific fever until the terrible eruption appears, too late for any treatment to be of avail.

As to the treatment, there is little that is cheerful to be said. Thorough cutting out of the local sore is the one and only thing on which to pin any faith. Attempts have been made to get an antitoxic serum, but so far these have not been successful.

The best fight against glanders has been in the line of eradication of the disease by means of the mallein test on all suspicious animals. Any horse which reacts to this test is at once killed. In England it is now the rule that most of the large stables are reg ularly tested with mallein.

Stablemen and all people working round horses should be taught the val ue of cleanliness, and especially the need of great care when troubled with any abrasion of the skin or open wound, however small.

PRICE OF AUTOGRAPHS UP.

se of the Typewriter Makes Written Manuscript More Valuable.

The tendency to use the typewriter, according to collectors of rare manuscripts, is to increase gradually but surely the value of autographs. It is becoming difficult to find any but typewritten letters of eminent men of this era, especially those in public office. able also in the letters of distinguished persons of past generations. The autographs of the eminent men of the revolutionary period, for instance, are each season commanding higher figures. The latest sale at Anderson's of autographs furnishes proof of this upward tendency of prices for important items, the New York Times says. so happened that some of the interesting letters had been sold only a few years ago in New York, Philadel-

FOR A GOOD STOMACH

This Offer Should Be a Warning to

Every Man and Woman. The newspapers and medical journals have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspensta to run from bad to worse until in merly cases of human glanders were the end it became incurable. His mis fortune should serve as a warning to others. Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stom-

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing-Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the pepsin in a form almost identical to that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric juices their digestive power, and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want every one troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. They contain Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops their greatest power to overcome digestive disturbance.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of

Game of Card Receiver. A group of boys and girls sit in semi-circle. One end is called the head, the other the foot. The person at the head bolds a card receiver, full of paper slips, supposed to be visiting cards. On these slips are written the names of well known persons. The next one of thec ompany recites:

"Oh, prithee tell us, Mr. (or Mrs.) What noble guests have called today? The head person selects a slip and rom his knowledge of the name written there he must give a full description, and the questioner must try to give the name of the distinguished visitor. If he falls he must go to the foot. If he guesses the head man goes to the foot. Then he takes the card receiver and his neighbor puts the same question to him, and so on

MONEY MAKING OPPORTUNITIES FOR LADIES.

Many new opportunities for business at home now engage the attention of ladies. The one appealing particularly to us is offered by The Standard Dress Goods Co., 70 State street, Binghamton,

This is a large wholesale dry goods house, who offer to send responsible ladies a complete sample line of their entire stock; plain and fancy wool, ailk and cotton fabrics, handkerchiefs ribbons, laces and petticoats. They carry anup-to-date line, of large variety and splendid values, and the lady obtaining these samples readily takes orders throughout the territory

We understand no money is re quired, as all orders are shipped to responsible ladies, who make collection and return the money.

In this pleasant occupation $10.00 to $25.00 weekly can be made. It is evidently proving very popular, as we understand the firm employs several thousand ladies as representatives. Any lady wishing to help out the family purse should write them.
