The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., To-

CONGREGATIONAL

Next week, March 11, the big Ma jestic theater, Chicago, will introduc an entirely new beadliner, one who has never before appeared in vaudeville and yet whose name is of such significance and in such popular favor that she will undoubtedly seem like an old friend. This is none other than Mabel Taliferro, the beautiful young actress who has starred in "Polly of the Circus" and many other important roles, and has been identified with the legitimate drama her whole lifetime. She will appear or this occasion in a character comedy. playing the part of a waif-one o the "little mother" variety.

MAJESTIC.

John and Emma Ray, old-time vaudeville people, who have never failed to entertain audiences, will appear in an entirely new act quite different from any in which they have heretofore appeared, and yet one which brings into play their admirable Irish comedy, in which line of work they probably have no supe-

For the week following Bayes and Norworth, the greatest of all the vaudeville comedy duos, will appear in their matchless act, having been obliged to return to the Majestic theater so soon after their former engagement owing to the fact that thousands were turned away quite un able to get near the door during their week. They will present the same act garnished, however, with several new and brilliant songs.

CORT.

At the Cort theater, Chicago, Miss Margaret Illington continues to do unusually good business in her new American play, "Kindling," by Chas. Kenyon, a young California author. This play is proving the most successful of the many successes in which Miss Illington has appeared in recent years. The theme is novel to the stage and it is handled in a masterly and novel manner. The problem involved is one of the utmost social importance and the play itself is Miller, Corresponding Secretary. technically a masterpiece. In addition to the gripping, heart-compelling story there is a vast quantity of comedy and the characterizations are intelligent and complete to the last de tail. Miss Illington as Maggie Schultz the young, ignorant wife of the tenements who steal in order to secure the money to go into a new land where there are trees and flowers and fresh air that her expected child may be born amid surroundings that wil give a fair chance in life, does not only the best work of her career, but has created a character that will live in the history of the stage so complete is it in every detail.

COLUMBIA.

A brand new organization, "The Big Galety Comapny," will entertain the patrons of the Columbia theater week March 10. "A Florida Enchantment" in two acts, with a plot, will be presented. The book is by Edward Hanford. The story relates the adventures of two wealthy gentlemen who seek recreation in a Florida health resort and while there become ac quainted with two beautiful young ladies who are stopping at the same place. The two gay sports are afterwards met by their wives, niece and nephew, and many complications and laughable situations follow. The scenery, electrical effects and costumes are all new and especially designed for "The Big Galety Company." The chorus consists of thirty girls who will be seen in the many musical numbers which are rendered during the two acts. There are sixty people in the company and an olio o high class vaudeville acts.

AT THE MOTIOGRAPH SATURDAY.

MARCH 9. Swiftwind's Heroism.—Swiftwind is an Indian, and much interested in the love affairs of a young couple. Later, the cowboy lover is accused of having committed a murder, tried and condemned to be hung. Swiftwind, however, thinks to save him and offers himself as a substitute for the cowboy, persuading the latter that his sweetheart desires to bid him a last farewell. His ruse is discovered, however, and the cowboy returns to take his medicine like a man, but at the last moment his innocence is discovered and everything turns out beautifully.
