

ADVERTISED LIST.

The letters and cards advertised below will be sent to the dead letter office March 18, 1912, if not called for prior to that date. A charge of one cent on all advertised matter.

For Mending Valuable Glass. Objects which would be disfigured by common cement may be securely mended with chrome cement.

Nicknames in History. The history of nicknames would be an enormous compilation, for it would be the history of the human race.

Not Their Hour to Die. A Lisbon, Portugal, official and his family had a most harrowing experience, recently, narrowly escaping death.

For Holding Face in Water. To enable a person to keep his face immersed in water for several minutes, as for facial massage, a Washington man has invented a clip to close the nostrils and a rubber tube to admit air through the mouth.

Longfellow Married His Heroine. Longfellow was one of America's writers who married a heroine of his story. His second wife was the heroine of "Hyperion."

As It Sounded to Him. "I think," said Mrs. Cumrox, who was arranging a musical programme, "that we will have a mezzo-soprano."

Couldn't Understand. Hostess (pairing off the guests)—"Mr. Parvenu, you will please take Miss Gumwell out to dinner."

A BALD-HEADED WOMAN. Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness, and success.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break, and come out.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles.

First Mail Coach in 1784. A theater owner was responsible for the first mail coach in 1784. John Palmer, Bath, England, saw that it took four days to get his actors from London.

Moving-Picture Lion Hunting. The inhabitants of Fontainebleau are protesting against some of the uses to which the picturesque forest, with its huge volcanic boulders, is being put by some of the cinematographic companies.

Gum From Seaweed. It is announced that a London chemist has succeeded in getting from seaweek a kind of gum which has among other properties a greater capacity for electrical resistance than vulcanite.

In Ancient Days. The chimney corner was a favorite place for early settlers when they took their tobacco. Buckets were the chief reliance of the fire fighters.

Congressman IRA C. COPLEY

AURORA, ILLINOIS

Candidate for Republican Re-Nomination Eleventh Congressional District: Primaries April 9th

My Platform 2 YEARS AGO AND TODAY:

I believe in public regulation and control, by properly constituted authorities, of all public service corporations—railway, traction, telegraph, telephone, electric light, gas and all others.

I believe in putting the burden of TAXATION ON THE SHOULDERS OF THE PEOPLE WHO CAN BEST AFFORD TO BEAR IT, and who get the most benefit from the stability which this government offers to income and capital.

I believe in the conservation of all the national and state resources for the benefit of all the people.

I BELIEVE IN PROTECTION, BUT I BELIEVE IN PROTECTION THAT REDUCES, AS FAR AS POSSIBLE, THE COST OF THE CHEAPER ARTICLES that are necessarily consumed by the poorer people and, if additional revenue must be raised from this source, that the tax on the LUXURIES THAT ARE ENJOYED BY THE RICHER PEOPLE BE MADE TO STAND SUCH INCREASES, as far as possible.

To sum up my platform in one sentence, I AM A "PROGRESSIVE" REPUBLICAN AND BELIEVE IN THE POLICIES OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT, NAMELY, "A SQUARE DEAL FOR EVERYBODY."

IRA C. COPLEY

POLITICAL

WILL FOR U. S. SENATOR

With the closing days of the primary campaign at hand in Illinois, the attention of the Republican voters is beginning to center upon the three-named contest for United States Senator.

Senator Hugh S. Magill, the progressive candidate for United States Senator, is engaged in a state-wide canvass, and while his campaign is not of the spectacular sort, he has attracted a large and enthusiastic following.

To those who are opposed to Senator Cullom because of his vote for Lorimer in the United States Senate and who are opposed to L. Y. Sherman because of his vote for the pernicious Allen bill and his reactionary attitude, Senator Magill appeals as the man of the hour, because his record is clean, his principles are sound and progressive, and because he never fails to bear out the impression that he is absolutely honest and sincere.

Those who are opposed to Senator Cullom because of his vote for Lorimer in the United States Senate and who are opposed to L. Y. Sherman because of his vote for the pernicious Allen bill and his reactionary attitude, Senator Magill appeals as the man of the hour, because his record is clean, his principles are sound and progressive, and because he never fails to bear out the impression that he is absolutely honest and sincere.

I AM RUNNING!!!

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

BEARIVING the people of this County know me well enough to make "BIG TALK" unnecessary, and that my record will speak for itself, I earnestly solicit your support in securing the Republican nomination for COUNTY SURVEYOR of Du Page County.

Hence the Tears.

A German lass stood at a steamship pier, weeping. "Why do you cry, Fraulein?" "Because my lover has sailed, and I fear that before he returns someone else may propose to me and I may accept."—Satire.

World's Most Costly Carpet. A carpet, which took three years in the making, is one of the treasures of the Gaskwar of Baroda. The carpet is only ten feet by six feet in size, but it is woven from strings of pure pearls, with a center and corner circles of diamonds.

Made Mockery of Marriage. A question as to the validity of a marriage which took place recently in Colombo, Ceylon, has arisen. The bride and bridegroom played a rather unusual practical joke at the ceremony, for the former dressed up as the bridegroom and the latter masqueraded in the woman's clothes, and the ceremony was quite through before the two people concerned were identified.

Greatness No Escape. In classical history we find that even Socrates, that most dignified sage, did not escape, for he was nicknamed "Flat Nose," while Plato, more fortunate, received a flattering nickname, for he is called the "Attic Bee," a graceful tribute to his literary style.

Cromwell's Many Nicknames. Few men have been more labeled with nicknames than Oliver Cromwell, many of them, to say the least, uncomplimentary ones, which can scarcely be wondered at when party feeling ran so high. "Old Noll," "Copper Face," the "Brewer," are familiar examples.

Merely a Business Acquaintance. Lady Golithly—"What an awful man you just nodded to! Surely you have not met him socially?" Lord Cadleigh—"Naw, but when in America I met him in a business way. I married his daughter."—The Club-Fellow.

Napoleon Almost an Englishman. It was just a chance that kept Napoleon from being born an English subject. He was born of Italian parents, on Corsica, an island in the Mediterranean. A few years before Napoleon's birth the Corsicans asked the English to rule over them, but the Britons refused.

Novelist Was the Family Dunce. Fanny Burney, one of the world's first woman writers, was called the "little dunce" by her parents because she seemed to know less than the other children in the family. She did not know the A B Cs until she was nine years old. Her first novel, "Evelina" was written surreptitiously, and won her much fame.

Each Day Counts. Every day is a little life, and our whole is but a day repeated. Those, therefore, that dare lose a day are dangerously prodigal; those that dare misspend it, desperate.—Bishop Hall.

Foretells the Disagreeable. "The first thing I do every morning is to tell my wife that she looks younger and more beautiful every day." "Doesn't she ever suspect that you are lying?" "Oh, yes; she knows it; but it keeps her from starting in to find fault with me, just the same."

TO THE VOTERS OF DU PAGE COUNTY.

December, 1911, ends the four year term of my duties as Surveyor for Du Page County. With a very complimentary vote you expressed your confidence in me in 1908, and wisely the law has provided that on April 9th, 1912, you have an opportunity to show by your votes whether I was worthy of the trust and how merit your future support.

I have tried to conduct the affairs of my office conscientiously and impartially. My motto "A SQUARE DEAL TO ALL, ALWAYS."

As an industry is provided for this office, there is no reason for petty politics to enter into its operations. I feel, however, that its responsibilities are great, and with the rapid increase in land values, are daily becoming greater. Our lands are the very source of our Nation's wealth. Too little attention has been given in the past toward preserving Government lines and corners as well as those of private ownership, which has resulted in much controversy among property holders, causing bitter feeling between neighbors and the loss of much time and money in expensive law suits.

Much of this can be avoided by careful and Permanent Surveys, and by cooperation between land holders and Surveyors in preserving what Government marks still remain. I think my patrons will bear me out in the statement that I have placed more permanent marks (concrete, stone and iron corners) than any Surveyor who has preceded me, perhaps more than all County Surveyors preceding me.

I have also done much to encourage organized drainage of the wet lands of this county. The results of which have added much to the productiveness of over 5,000 acres, while the Du Page Valley District, recently organized, will benefit as many more.

I have worked in and am familiar with every portion of this County. I have endeavored to procure and retain assistants who are courteous, conscientious and accurate. Mr. Gates and Mr. Ashley, whom many of you know, were with me when I was elected in 1908 and have been with me continuously to the present date. I have realized that to keep efficient help, they must have permanent employment, and in order to provide it, I have extended my reclamation work into our other counties. This work I have handled mostly in winter when other work was scarce.

Leads passed 40 years ago required persons employing the County Surveyor to provide their own chainsmen, but the up to date farmer or land owner would laugh at the idea of sending his neighbor or farm hand out with the Surveyor to measure land selling from $100 to $500 per acre. (He would as soon think of asking a blacksmith or cobbler to select his seed corn.) These methods served in 1872 and 1874, when laws affecting the methods and fees of the County Surveyor were passed. Would the farmer today care to sell land at the prices prevailing 40 years ago, or can he hire any kind of work done for the prices of 1872?

The Twentieth Century demands men of training and experience and is willing to pay them a honest fee for services rendered.

If the County Surveyors of our States were men of large salaries; if they were politicians or lobbyists, they might then be able to have laws passed that were in keeping with the times. Favorable legislation was asked of the last legislature, but with no results.

I am ambitious and anxious to be up to date in my methods. I am a member of the Illinois Society of Engineers and Surveyors, and the "Western Society of Engineers," and have attended and taken active part in their meetings and discussions which bring me in contact with men of my profession who are doing things.

I believe that I have been faithful and impartial in my duties and I trust you will give your support for the Republican nominee for Surveyor at April 9th, 1912.

Respectfully yours, ARTHUR L. WEBSTER, County Surveyor.