LAND OPENING.

22 the Fourth Unit of th

opportunities afforded by this open

About five hundred families are already established on the first three units and have built roads, schools and churches. The project has railroad facilities, rural delivery, telephones, and there are thriving towns at short intervals. The Shoshone project lies in a region of great scenic beauty with a delightful and healthful climate and a fertile soil. The Reclamation Service at Washington, D. C., has prepared a booklet fully describing this section and giving detailed information as to methods of acquiring these farms. This will be sent free upon request.

The Shoshone project is believed to be one of the best sections in the west for general farming. It is a fine dairy country. The farmers are now shipping an average of $1,500 worth of cream to Billings. A new creamery is under way at Cody. Alfalfa is the main crop, producing from 3 to 6 tons per annum. The new alfalfa meal mill at Powell will pay the farmers under contract $6.50 per ton loose at the mill for a period of five years. Another profitable crop is sugar beets.

DON'T BE BALD.

Nearly Any One May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has aided to grow hair and prevented baldness in 93 out of 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will cure dandruff, prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, stop falling hair and grow new hair, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store-The Rexall Store. T. R. Morris.

LONG USEFULNESS AT AN END

Some Would Have Thought Vase Had Done Good Service, but Not So Mrs. Spicer.

When Miss Ann Pickett dropped in on her neighbor, Mrs. Spicer, and found her moping over the fragments of a gilt vase, Miss Ann sympathized generously. "It must have been quite a costly vase," she said, looking admiringly at the pieces.

"No, it only cost six bits," Mrs. Spicer acknowledged. "'Tain't that I feel so bad about."

"Maybe it was a gift that you prized because of associations-" Mrs. Spicer shook her head. "Jim and I bought it over in Tompkinsville a long time ago; I prized it because it was such a saving to the family. The first year we had it I kept it on the front shelf for a general ornament; then when Jim's birthday came and I hadn't anything else handy to give. I gave him the vase for his own. Next Christmas, instead of paying out good money to buy something new, he gave it back to me for a Christmas present; then I gave it to Jim junior on his birthday, and he gave it to Sue Belle on hers.

"The next spring all the kinfolks got up a birthday party for old Aunt Sallie Spicer, and we took her the vase; after she'd kep' it a good bit, she gave it to Jim's sister Jane for a weddin' present, and afterwards Jane For Senatorial Committeeman, 41st giving it to Jim again on his next birthday, and now here it is smashed

"I tell you, Miss Ann, it most makes me cry to think of losing such a useful family article—so near Jim's

My Rest Cure.

Commit it to memory or paste it up where your eye will often rest upon it. Apply it daily as often as practicable: make it a part of your daily thought, and, my word for it, that tired feeling will vanish and you will know it no more forever. Your heart, your home, your life will be full of sunshine.

Relax mind and body. Ease up on every nerve and muscle. Shut out all unpleasantness. Throw care to the winds.

If you become tired when reading, writing or in the pursuance of anything requiring mental effort; if the mind seems to lose its activity for a time, its quickness of perception, its power of concentration, it, too, needs a rest or change of activity. The brain not being a muscular organ, must rely upon bodily activity to draw away the blood that has been used and make room for new.-Los Angeles Times.

Was 102 and Didn't Know It. John Wilson, a naval pensioner who has died at Bexhill, Sussex, aged 102, did not know that he was a centenarian. His true age was only discovered after his death, when his naval service papers were examined. Previously his age had been estimated from the date of his baptism at .89. -London Daily Mail.

TINKER ON SPRING TRAINING

Clever Little Chicago Shortstop Says It is Funny Rusiness and Should Depend on Player.

"Funny thing, this spring training business is, anyway," says Joe Tinker. "It's uncertain any way you look at it, but, of course, all of us have to go through it. I don't know that there are any particular rules you have to follow, or any set of rules that every team could adhere to. A fellow has to use common sense in baseball, as in everything else, and, of course, all of us have slightly different ideas about how to get into condition. As for myself, I do a lot of training at home before I report to the training grounds in the spring, and, naturally, whatever any man thinks about any particular thing is based on his own experience and feelings.

"The pitchers of any team should have more work in the spring than the other players, for the reason that they have the most work to do in a game, and need to be the best men in the game for that reason, or rather, the strongest, I should say.

"I do not believe in any long runs for any ball player, for he does not have that kind of stuff in a game. What a ball player needs, as a fighter does, is to strengthen his legs. believe pitchers should run the bases all the time, and get used to this. This is necessary, so that when they get on bases in a game they would not be worn out if they should run around and score a run. "You take a pitcher that is all tired out by making a run, for instance, and he is in no shape to pitch the next inning. He is almost sure to lose his control, and that is what a heaver needs in a game more than anything else. This weakness of many pitchers is often due to being winded after running the bases, and probably if more of them would condition themselves properly before going into a game they would stick.

"Mathewson, Walsh, Brown and the other great pitchers have had plenty of experience, but one reason for their success is that they are strong. Their legs are good and they can go through a hard game without becoming weak. The young fellows are weak because they do not run enough. This gives them leg power and also wind. This running holds good with all of the players, but is particularly good for pitchers, for they have the hardest work to do. They are always on the move.

ground is long enough for any team to get ready in. All of the players should become acclimated in that time if the weather is favorable for playing. Sometimes teams train too long. At that, it is often hard to get teams into the stride until three weeks after the season begins, for no player takes the same interest in a practice game he does in the real thing."

Ball Lighted on Scoreboard Platform and Rolled Off When Danny Hustles Up Ladder.

"Funniest home run that ever my peepers were laid on," said Bris Lord, during the nocturnal fanning bee, "happened in Chicago six or seven years ago. The Athletics were playing the Sox and it was on the old grounds.

"One of our fellows, I can't just recall his name now, whaled one in the air out to where Danny Green held forth. Now, the scoreboard was there with a platform in front of it, just like they have on the Phillies'

"The ball hit the platform and, by gosh, it stuck up there. Danny waited for the ball to come down while the hitter was sneaking around the bases. After he waited about a few seconds and the ball didn't come down to earth, Danny sneaked up the ladder that ran up the platform and started to get the ball. Darned if he didn't get to the top rung of the ladder and was just climbing on the platform when the ball up and rolled off the boards again and fell down where he was standing.

"Of course, the batter got all the way round, while everybody gave Daniel the merry ha ha."

MORE IRRIGATED HOMESTEADS

Sixty-three hundred acres of fertile land in the Shoshone irrigation project in Wyoming will be opened to homestead entry on April 22nd. The first unit of this project was supplied with water nearly four years ago and the land that will be available on the 22nd constitutes the fourth unit of this great system. From time to time other units will be added until the entire area in the project, 164,000 acres, is brought under irrigation.

This land lies in the Big Horn Ba sin, and its climatic and agricultural advantages have already attracted between three and four hundred families whose energy and determination is fast converting what was once a great sheep range into a community of small farms. There are towns with churches, stores and centralized schools, the railroad facilities are good, and all local conditions compare favorably with the best farming districts of the middle west and east. Water rights for these homesteads are sold by the Government at cost, as described in the pamphlet being distributed by the Settlement Agent, U. S. Reclamation Service, Federal Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

More farmers are wanted now to grow alfalfa, wheat, oats and potatoes. More dairymen are needed, although the average value of cream shipments already approaches $1,500 a month. A nursery has just been established and the farmers have contracted for 35,000 apple trees to be delivered in two years, while the new alfalfa meal mill is making five-year contracts with the farmers for loose hay at $6.50 per ton. Baled hay is now selling for $12.50 per ton in Troy Laundry Drivers Are Guests of Management Last Evening.

A seven-course dinner at the Hollenbeck and a theater party afterwards at the Orpheum was the form of entertainment enjoyed by the Troy Laundry Company's drivers Thursday night. The drivers were guests of the company from the time the party left Pasadena until each man was safely returned to his home, President A. C. Tubbs engineering the expedition. The occasion was in the highest degree enjoyable and the men feel much indebted to the company therefor. The party of fifteen was taken to Los Angeles in three automobiles, ate dinner in a private room at the Hollenbeck. occupied seats together at the popu lar vaudeville house and were brought home by automobile without untoward incident. Those in the party were President A. C. Tubbs, Henry Tubbs, Superintendent Yockey, W. G. Gaylord, H. T. Arkcoll, J. V. Brooks, George Whitehouse, A. C. Riddler, G W. Wood, W. D. HEED THE WARNING.

Many Downers Grove People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are weak they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Weak kidneys usually expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys often cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. There is no better recommended remedy.

Downers Grove people endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. Mrs. John Leibundguth, 170 S. Main

St., Downers Grove, 111., says: know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a good kidney medicine for they have been used in my family for backache, trouble with kidney secretions and other difficulties caused by weak kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills have always lived up to the claims made for them and knowing what they will do, I strongly advise their use to all persons afflicted with kidney complaint."
