Do You Want To Save Money

on that Manure Spreader, Silo Filler, Windmill and Gasoline Engine you're going to buy this Spring? Then get the best—the machines that wear the longest—cost the least for repairs—that are handled by the best dealers—and in short, the machines built right here at home in Northern Illinois—

The Appleton Quality Line

Now that you have a little spare time, come over and see us—let's get acquainted. We want to show you our magnificent factory and let you see how carefully we build our machines—what splendid material we use. We will show you the points that give our spreaders the longest life—the lightest draft—the best spreading—tell you why our silo fillers have greater capacity and use less power than any other machines rated at the same capacity—show you the features of construction that make it possible for us to insure our windmills for five years for $2.50 against damage by tornados and cyclones or any other cause except misuse—prove to you that our engines deserve their name—Appleton.

You will want to see our huskers too, and find out all about them—possibly arrange to have one delivered through your dealer next fall.

We have some real bargains in spreaders we have taken in trade. They have been rebuilt and will give you the service of a new spreader at a fraction of the cost.

We want to send you some mighty interesting advertising matter and a beautiful four-color hanger which we are just getting out. Let us have your name today so that you will be sure to get one.

LEAGUERS' DONT'S

1. Don't steal second with the bases full. This is exclusively John Anderson's stuff.
2. Don't fall to touch second.
3. Don't wait until you are just about to duck under the players' bench before removing your cap after making a home run. The public pays to see your blouses.
4. Don't have a small telephone number George Bell never could hit over his—124.
5. Don't be afraid to hit 'em over the fence. The small boy outside will gladly return the ball—up to the seventh inning.
6. Don't hold the ball too long after catching a fly. Lefty Davis did this in Brooklyn and was let out. In Pittsburg he did not hold them long enough and was decorated.
7. Don't insist on half the purchase price. Rube Waddell did this in Pittsburg and received a box of stogies from Barney Dreyfuss.
8. Don't fail to run out infield hits. Even Hal Chase and Jake Daubert have been known to drop 'em.
9. Don't oppose the suffragette movement too strongly. You may be transferred to the Cardinals.
10. Don't use the harsh pedal too often on the umpire. Billy Klem or Silk O'Laughlin may be your manager next year.

ALWAYS IS CHEERFUL

Gabby Street Talks to Everybody But Spectators.

Reason for Queer Nickname is Due to Continual Chatter While Working Behind Bat—is Vivacious and "Skittery."

Street's first name isn't Gabby. It is Charles, harmonious Charles, like whipped cream on the top of a sponge cake. The reason for this queer nickname is easily understood. It is due to Street's cheerful chatter behind the bat. He talks to everybody. There is nothing selfish about him.

When he is not busy with the umpire he talks to the batter, and if the batter doesn't interest him he talks to his fellow players. It is seldom that he addresses the spectators. That doesn't comport with his idea of strict baseball etiquette.

Street's manner of conversation is vivacious and "skittery," like that of a belle who is making her first visit to Washington.

His cheery good nature is one of the finest things about him. He smiles if the oatmeal is hot in the morning and smiles when it happens to be cold. If the sirup is all gone he spreads his cakes with sugar and smiles just the same. It's fine to have a ballplayer of this disposition with a team.

Street's arm has bothered him at times. Once it bothered him so severely that most of the wise men in baseball insisted that he would not amount to much as a future asset.

He undertook to get his arm in condition, and ever since then he has been catching well. That seems to indicate that he knew what ailed his arm better than the experts, and that the experts did not have a good line on his future.

One of the best assets of Street is his knowledge of the batters of the American league. Another one of his best is that he can hold a pitcher with steadiness and usually gets him to throw the ball where he wants it thrown. Not every catcher can do that.

His arm is not so strong that he can get the ball away well from far behind the plate, so he is compelled to take a step and hitch forward to throw to second base. He offsets all this hitch and carry one by his accuracy as a thrower. If he aims to hit the paws of the second baseman, or the man who is covering the base, it is the rare exception when he shoots to one side of the mark.

Hans Wagner II.

Jack Dunn, the Baltimore manager, says he has a second Hans Wagner in one Mabel, because Mabel has large hands exactly like Wagner's. How about some outfielder with feet just like the Ty Cobb's?
