on that Manure Spreader, Silo Filler, Windmill and Gasoline Engine you're going to buy this Spring? Then get the best—the machines that wear the longest—cost the least for repairs—that are handled by the best dealers—and in short, the machines built right here at home in Northern Illinois—

The Appleton Quality Line

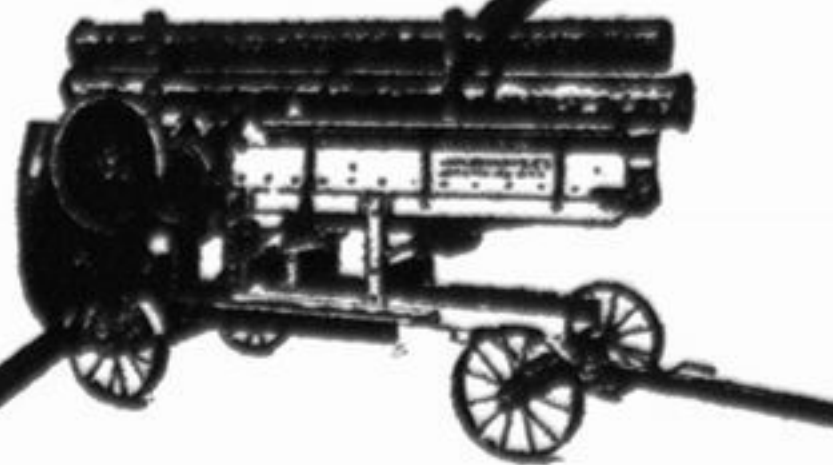

Now that you have a little spare time, come over and see us—let's get acquainted. We want to show you our magnificent factory and let you see how carefully we build our machines—what splendid material we use. We will show you the points that give our spreaders the longest life—the lightest draft—the best spreading—tell you why our silo fillers have greater capacity and use less power than any other machines rated at the same capacity—show you the features of construction that make it possible for us to insure our windmills for five years for $2.50 against damage by tornados and cyclones or any other cause except misuse—prove to you that our engines deserve their name—Appleton.

You will want to see our huskers too, and find out all about them—possibly arrange to have one delivered through your dealer next fall.

We have some real bargains in spreaders we have taken in trade. They have been rebuilt and will give you the service of a new spreader at a fraction of the cost.

We want to send you some mighty interesting advertising matter and a beautiful four-color hanger which we are just getting out. Let us have your name today so that you will be sure to get one.

CURRENT WIT and HUMOR

Heirlooms.
"And is this an heirloom, too?" asked the visitor, picking up a brick that lay on the center table.
"Yes," said the lady of the house. "That is the brick my mother threw at the prime minister."
"Ah, indeed, how very interesting," said the visitor. "And whose portrait is that on the wall?"
"That is my mother herself," said the lady.
"I see," said the visitor. "The power behind the throne, as it were."—Harper's Weekly.

Inquisitive Dorothy.
Little Dorothy was having her first experience of riding in a sleeper. She was in a lower berth with her mother and she asked so many questions that she had to be told to keep quiet.
"Just one more, mamma," coaxed the little miss.
"Well, child, what is it?"
"Who has the fat above us?"

Makes an Ideal Summer Camp.
Gabe—What are you going back to that place for this summer? Why, last year it was all mosquitoes and no fishing.
Steve—The owner tells me that he has crossed the mosquitoes with the fish, and guarantees a bite every second.

Taking No Chances.
"Be careful in selecting a husband, girls!" cried the noted lecturer. "After all, man is somewhat like a balloon. He—"

Before he could continue with the simile, a sweet young thing near the platform called out:
"I'll take a dirigible!"—Judge.

As to L.I.
Nan—Lil Garlinghorn must be nearly 40 now. Splendid girl, too. I wonder why she never married.
Fan—It's curious about L.I. She's been the second choice of more eligible young men than any girl I ever knew.

The Cause.
"Bangs is the most wide-awake man I know of."
"Why, I never knew he was especially enterprising."
"He isn't enterprising at all. He is wide awake because he suffers from insomnia."

Where Thoughts Are Voiced.
"What we want is freedom of speech!"
"Well," replied the citizen who refuses to be disconcerted, "if you don't think we have it go with me and sit in the bleachers the next time they play ball."

ONE WAY OUT.

Jinks—Don't you think the man who marries for money is a fool?
Winks—He is unless he gets it in advance.

Writing paper is to advance in cost, but it is too much to expect that the rise will teach some impetuous statesmen the excellence of the old rule, "Never write; send a man."

The large importations of pearls and potatoes shows that no matter what the discouragements, the people of the United States are determined to have the necessities of life.

A Pennsylvania man succeeded in winning a wager by drinking sixteen glasses of gin. Incidentally he is dead as a result of the performance, but this fact is hardly worth mentioning.

The famous Mona Lisa is said to be in the United States. The only clue the art detectives have to trace her is that she wears a smile which will not come off.

AMUSEMENTS. MAJESTIC.

There will be a notable program at the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, for the week of June 3d, by reason of the fact that Wilton Lackaye, one of the foremost of American dramatic artists, will make his first appearance in vaudeville on that occasion. Mr. Lackaye will play an act written for him by Hall McAllister, entitled, "Quits," in which he requires the services of two or three excellent actors, among them Emmet King and Edna Archer Crawford.

Aside from this very important headline feature, the bill will be of that bright, smart and lively nature suited to the beginning of the heated season. One act, a diving novelty, called Ideal, will present some very pleasing and attractive feats in aquatic sport.

Dorothy Dalton & Co., a lady having a great reputation in a score of successes as a capable actress, will present a one-act farce entitled "The Smuggler." The Mankichi Troupe of acrobats and foot jugglers will disclose a lot of new feats along quite original lines. McKay & Cantwell, the always popular musical comedians, will come with a new routine of singing, talking and dancing. Dolan & Lenhart, among the popular travesty artists on the stage, will be present with their most amusing burlesque of mind reading. Johnny Johnson, the singing comedian, will also be an important feature of the bill, and Delmore and Oneida in a perch act, will provide some thrills and a great deal of entertainment.

"THE ONLY SON" AT OLYMPIC.

100th Performance Matinee June 1.
Ross Play Outdistances All Other Chicago Successes.

No play in recent years has enjoyed the popularity attained by "The Only Son," which is in the fourth month of its run at the Olympic Theatre. The most potent factor in the success of Thos. W. Ross' play is said to be the powerful example of filial devotion—the boy who stuck to his mother when she was in trouble—which comprises the theme of this Winchell Smith play, replete with comedy, pathos and other dramatic elements which combine to make a play worth while. These qualities, together with the very capable company of well-known players supporting Mr. Ross, are responsible for the fact that "The Only Son" has remained longer in Chicago than any other play of its class which was presented when Mr. Ross began his current engagement. The 100th performance will be given Saturday, June 1st, and a special Decoration Day matinee on Thursday, May 30th.

Further information from the same theatre announces a schedule of vacation prices, whereby, in addition to the regular $1.50 seats for evening performances, there are now on sale 500 good main floor and balcony seats at $1.00 each. The usual $1.00 Wednesday matinee prices will prevail.

CORT.

"Ready Money" continues to attract capacity audiences to the Cort Theatre, Chicago, where it enters upon the tenth week of its very successful engagement next Sunday night. The warm weather of the past week has had no visible effect upon the attendance, nor upon the enthusiasm with which the comedy is received. The breezy and delightful story which the play tells has a refreshing and invigorating effect upon its auditors, and the tired business man simply revels in the joy of the comedy. Large numbers of theatre parties are being arranged to witness "Ready Money," and last Sunday night the famous White Sox baseball team, which is now leading the league in the dash for the pennant, occupied all the boxes at the Cort Theatre and enjoyed James Montgomery's brilliant comedy to the utmost. Out-of-town parties are a feature of the run, and the management of the Cort is desirous of taking the best of care of these visitors, and upon request will be very glad to reserve the best locations for any number that may be wanted. At last Sunday night's performance the author of the play assumed the leading role, that of Stephen Baird, for the one performance only, and showed his versatility in the splendid manner in which he played the part. There is no sign of a diminution in interest in the performance, and it is more than probable that the comedy will run throughout the entire summer. The Wednesday and Saturday matinees are very popular with women theatre-goers. "Ready Money" is easily the big popular success of the present theatrical season.

SURPRISE.

The Philathea Class of the Congregational Sunday School very delightfully surprised Miss Susie MacLaren, one of its members, at the pleasant home of Mrs. Allen Barnhart, in Curtiss St., on Monday evening, May the 27th.

Even though the evening was threatening, about twenty members were present, and enjoyed thoroughly the hour of social intercourse and games, as well as the more material refreshment of the evening, so graciously served by the hostess.

The class and many other friends are exceedingly sorry to lose Miss MacLaren from their midst, and it is hoped she may have the full measure of success in her new field of labor that she has enjoyed here.

The class also wishes for Miss Reeves, another departing member, a pleasant summer vacation and her safe return in the fall.

A WORD WITH WOMEN.

Valuable Advice for Downers Grove Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, con-

What Dress is to Woman.
Fashion is woman's literature. Dress is the expression of her personal style. By dress she conveys the outward expression of her taste, of her skill, and even of her aesthetic individuality. It is thus that she contrives to charm the eyes of the arts, the art containing all the others. It is not the expression of her characteristic style, as we have said, but it is her palette, her poem, her theatrical setting, her song of triumph.

The Retreat From Moscow.
Napoleon's army for the invasion of Russia numbered 650,000. Only twenty thousand returned. During the retreat thousands of horses lay groaning on the route, while thousands of naked wretches were wandering like specters, who seemed to have no sight or sense, and who only kept reeling on till frost, famine or the Cossack lance put an end to their power of motion.

Pupils and the School Clock.
High school pupils do better work when their eyes are not fixed on the clock. This opinion was expressed unanimously by the school board yesterday afternoon and a proposal to put a clock in every room in the city's high schools was abandoned.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Friends.
We speak with awed tenderness of our guardian angels; but have we not all in our gulfing angels, who came to us in visible form, and, recognized as such, have been by us on our distant path, and they had done for us all that they could?—Lucy Larcom.
