Lindley's Real Estate Tips

What have you in way of equity in a house and lot here to swap for a Chicago south side 50-ft. lot? This is within onehalf block of Wentworth Ave. business district, the only vacant lot in the block, and neighborhood O. K. Not incumbered.

Also a good paying Chicago, south side, four-flat building equity to exchange for good Downers Grove stuff.

$5,200 will buy $6,500 worth in a south side 9-room home. This house is especially well built, very convenient and in apple pie condition, not a dollar to be on it. The grounds are large, 76x278, and loaded with flowers, shrubbery and fruit. Assessments of every character are paid in full.

5 and 10-acre tracts, as pretty as you ever laid eyes on, just outside town, $300 per acre. Easy terms.

A modern 7-room home, with 100 ft. ground in a desirable locality for $3,100. Stevens, of Maple avenue. Should appeal to homeseekers. It is worth more but owner is anxious to sell.

If you do not want to go in deep, would like it quiet and yet a dandy little home, about twelve minutes' walk from depot, ask about this at $2,400. Six rooms, all on one floor; finished in natural oak and friends from Wheaton, attended the Georgia pine; hard and soft water in annual meeting of the Cemetery Assohouse; several fruit trees in bearing; good garden; 50 ft. lot; house has A1 foundation, with basement over 7 ft. high under all; gas for cooking and lighting, and a good furnace; all floors maple; location when block outside corporation north. This low price is named in order to do business days. quickly. There also is a good size poultry

Could you not use a nice little poultry farm comprising seven 50-ft. lots, with all the paraphernalia ready for business? With it goes a six-room house, extra large poultry house, about 50 fruit trees, shade, etc. Also a horse, cow, poultry, buggy, wagon and harness. Price $2,500.

If you would be interested in a couple of good acres, with a splendid house just in edge of town ask to see photo of this etc. An abundance of shade. Price $4,500. Easy terms.

Thirty-six acres vacant, a short disacre. This is well worth looking up if you can use it. Might cut it up. One beautiful 19-acre piece can be sold separately for $200 per acre.

We write Aetna, fire, ternado and automobile insurance, and we are a Notary

A dandy cottage on the north side, four rooms and bath, all on one floor,

$2,000 will buy a modern five room house on south side. Hot water heat, bath, gas, etc.

And $3,100 will buy a five room cottage, up to date in every particular, with lot

50x200 feet, on south side. It is too small for present owner. Here is a money maker for some one and a good home during the making: Location Main street in the business dis-trict, size of house 8 rooms, all pleasant, water, gas and sewer in. A-1 stone foundation. 75 feet of frontage and depth of about 200 feet. Shade, fruit and shrubbery. All street improvements in and paid for. Price $3.500, about what you would expect for $5.000. Easy terms.

No matter where you go or what you pay you cannot beat this: Six large rooms, encased in walls that are not only substantial but artistic, excellent taste, being shown everywhere. Hardwood floors everywhere and every convenience possible. Extra large porch, beautiful nat-ural oak trees, 125 feet of frontage. If you or any friend is likely to be interested, ask for photograph. House is new.

I have something awfully nice in a close in-a 125 acre farm for $200 per acre. To live on this would take you among capitalists. Ask about it.

Another good farm, a little further from here but nearer Lombard, 120 acres and a lot of good buildings, $125 per acre.

Eight 50 ft lots in a square chunk, sloping southward, five minutes' walk from the new depot, $1,000 takes the whole works. Every inch of it good dirt, and nearly all assessments paid.

This should appeal to a man who wishes to leave the office one of these days; 31-3 acres of the very best soil, located close enough to depot so you can continue city work until you are ready to retire to your little farm. House has six rooms. Barn and large poultry house are nearly new. And it is a nice place to live, having large shade trees across entire front, $3,600.

Something nice on Maple avenue in a six room, nearly new, up-to-date place for 18,000. Has extra large living room such as you planned in your new house, also large porch. Immediate possession.

Could you use a country home on the Butterfield road? Contains 1% acres, is is visiting at the home of her aunt, about two miles from a third rail station and a little further from Downers Grove. All kinds of fruit and a good garden. ed the Royce-Gamertsfelder nuptials Price under $2,500.

Ten acres good timber just north of march upon this occasion. little in buying this you can sell enough cord wood from it to pay for it, and have the land for profit, without having to lift a hand.

The above list covers but part of the properties we carry. We have both Jmproved and vacant in almost any location flicted with a curse that forbids him desired, with prices for improved ranging from $1,500 to $12,000, and vacant from $100 to $2,000. Terms to suit all pecketbooks. Send us the names of acquaint-ances likely to be interested in Downers

THE COUNTRY PEOPLE ON THE MOVE.

The countryman of a generation ago was rarely a traveler. Many of our grandfathers, yes, of our fathers, used to boast in their latter days of the number of years it was since they slept away from their own home.

A popular young people's story by a well-known author makes the heroine, a young person of sixteen, tell with some pride of her extended journeyings, the farthest of which was to the shire town some 15 miles away. It is needless to say that this book referred to a period of forty years ago. To-day, read the village items in almost any country newspaper. See what an incessant flitting there is, particularly among the women. Not many of them are registered at the hotels, but the good old country custom of cousinly visitations is kept up a good deal. There are sons and daughters in adjoining states, and the travel between villages and the boy's city flat is a procession.

The farmer is not as much of a traveler as his wife. But you would be surprised at the number of conservative, cautious Eastern farmers who still use candles because they are cheaper than oil, but who, every few years, dig the savings bank out of the little green box and take a winter's trip to the South or the West.

It is the townsman today who is the stay at home, more than the countryman. Many are the clerks, merchants and mechanics in the drive of factory and department store life, who never get away save when Labor Day or some other festival so comes as to give them a double holiday.

The farmer really has more to learn than any other man by travel. Every corn field that he passes has something to tell him about his trade. Every herd of cattle suggests points for criticising his own methods.

Rousseau's Etiquette of Love. Before Rousseau, love was a highly refined form of social intercourse, a species of gallantry conducted with self-restraint, and all the formalities of special etiquetto; any extravagancy, whether in feeling, in speech, or in action, was banished. But when Saint-Preux, oppressed by his high-strung passions, came to the rock at Mellliere to pour forth in solitude the flood of his sentimental tears, all the witty refinements of eighteenth century gallantry, for good or for evil, were finally swept away; extravagancy was free to lay down the law in love. It was Rousseau who enabled Mirabeau, in his first letter to Julie Danvers (whom he had never seen), to declare, "I, also, am a lover, have emptied the cup of sensibility to the dregs, and could give a thousand lives for what I love." It was Rousseau who laid down a new etiquette of love which every petty poet and novelist still adheres to .-
