Pastor's Merited Rebuke. When Samuel S. Colber was preaching in an old log schoolhouse in Johnson county, Missouri, in 1853, his congregation was quite small. One Sunday all were sitting at the desks forward near the pulchroon floor. The sermon was monotonous and the old log seats had no backs. Observing the sleepy, downcast look of the congregation, the minister woke them up by shouting: "Arouse, heaven is not under the floor!"

Have You Noticed These? An inventor in America has earned the thanks of all who have been seeking after a really sanitary form of kissing. In certain parts of that great country, when young ladies go to parties and places where they kiss, they are provided with a sterilized ivory ring, mounted on a silver handle. This is interposed between the kisser and the kissed, and the resulting sensation is known as "pasteurized pleasure," or "germless joy."—London Answers.

Discovery of Carborundum. Carborundum first was produced by a chemist who, while experimenting with electricity, happened to place carbon electrodes connected with a dynamo into a bowl containing some crushed coke and clay.

AMUSEMENTS. MAJESTIC.

There will be a big double head-line feature at the Majestic Theatre, Chicago, for the week of July 22nd. The bill as a whole being one of those lively combinations of music and comedy with engaging specialties for which this theatre is famous.

Jesse Lasky, one of the greatest of all the producing managers, sends another of his achievements called "The Antique Girl," which is an ensemble of music and drama engaging the services of twenty smart singers, dancers and comedians.

The second member of the head-line feature will be Master Gabriel, the midget comedian, who is probably the cleverest little man in the world. Having created almost a sensation with "Buster Brown" for several years he now finds himself with an entirely new playlet which has been prepared with special reference to his unusual talents.

Bixley & Lerner, singing and dancing comedians of the highest class, and the Three Weston Sisters, most charming of all the musical numbers, will appear in a new programme. The Frank Spissell Trio have a very funny comedy pantomime which includes not only a great deal of skilled work in the acrobatic line, but an immense amount of fun. Coogan & Parks are comedy singers, talkers and dancers of the best sort; Edwin George is a comedian and almost a juggler, and the Graziers in a novelty act containing something quite new, will also be included in the programme, which is one of sufficient interest to entertain audiences even should the weather turn warm.

POULTRY. FRESH EGGS IN GOOD DEMAND.

Little More Attention to Details Will Result in Profit, Repaying Time and Labor.

(By PROF. A. G. PHILLIPS, Kansas.) The demand for eggs seems practically unlimited, more especially for the better grades. The growth of the storage industry has tended to equalize prices by increasing the demand in summer when fresh eggs are plentiful and supplying the deficiency in winter when fresh eggs are scarce.

Since the demand is greatest for the best grades, it seems obvious that a little more attention to details will result in a profit amply repaying the extra time and labor involved.

It is not the purpose here to enter into any discussion of the ways of increasing the production of eggs, but simply to point out the possibilities of profit as a result of extra care in handling and marketing the eggs now produced; the extra profit is to be made by obtaining the top retail price, and, as consumers become acquainted with the product, by obtaining a premium of from one to five cents per dozen over the regular price for ordinary eggs.

In order to obtain top prices for eggs, they must be uniform in size, uniform in color, and uniform in quality. The uniformity in color is not always important and depends on the market; uniformity in size excludes small eggs and unusually large ones as well; while uniformity in quantity calls for absolutely clean eggs that have been gathered promptly after being laid, kept under the best possible conditions, and marketed not more than three or four days after they are laid.

BASE BALL.

From the way they started out, it looked as if the young Lombard team would run away with the game with the Colts at East Grove. Before the Colts could get their bearings, the Lombard team had got 6 runs across the plate, but they only got one in the third and three in the eighth inning.

The Colts scored in every inning with the exception of the sixth, and the game was settled in the fourth by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BECAUSE OTHERS DO.

Come hither, little Mary Ann, the doting mother said: "I have about three quarts of jute to put upon your head. I see the neighbors' daughters go to school, fixed up so fine, and I won't have it said, my dear, that you are not in line; so let me kalsomine your face with the pigments rich and rare, and put some red paint on your lips, and cook and curl your hair, and push you in a narrow skirt that shows your every curve, so you will get from rubbernecks the notice you deserve. And you must wear your snowy shoes that advertise your feet, and eke the crazy hat that scares the horses on the street, for I won't have the neighbors say that my dear little maid is not as good as any or as stylishly arrayed. Of course you don't look like a child with all your paint and curls, but you're upholstered just as well as any other girls; of course you cannot run or play, as children used to do, but we must show the neighbors' girls they have no edge on you; of course you're like a monkey, dear, of course it is a shame; but since the neighbors turn out apes, I have to do the same."

TRIBUTE TO THE COW.

In opening a short horn sale some time ago Col. F. M. Woods of Lincoln, Neb., paid the following tribute to the cow:

"Grand and noble brute, of all man's animal friends she is the greatest! To her we owe the most. Examine all the channels of trade into which she enters and note the result should she be blotted out. A Sunday stillness would pervade the great stock yards of our large cities and grass would grow in the streets. One-half the freight trains that plow the continent from ocean to ocean would sidetrack, for there would be nothing for them to do. Fifty per cent of the employees would draw no pay on Saturday night and our tables would be bare of the greatest luxuries with which they are now loaded. The great plains of the West that the cow has made to blossom like the rose would revert to the Indians from whence they came and millions of prosperous homes would be destroyed.

"None other is like the cow. There is not a thing from nose to tail that is not utilized by man. We use her horns to comb our hair, her skin is on our feet and horses' backs; her hair keeps the plaster on our walls; her hoof makes glue and her tail makes soap. She gives us our cream, our milk, our butter and cheese, and her flesh is the meat of all nations. Her blood is used to make our sugar white; her bones when ground make valuable fertilizer, and even the contents of her paunch she has herself put through the first chemical process for the manufacture of the best quality of white board paper, and now it has been discovered that this paper can be made into the best false teeth.

"Oh, you who would abuse the cow. I wish that I could for once take from your table as you are about to sit down to the evening meal all that the cow has placed thereon. I would take the cup of milk sitting by the baby's chair. I would take the cream biscuit, the custard pie, the cream for coffee, the butter, the cheese, the smoking roast of beef or steak or the sweet corned plate of juicy meat. In fact, I would leave you to make your meal upon Irish potatoes, beet pickles and toothpicks."

Many residents of this village no doubt remember Col. F. M. Woods as a former resident of Downers Grove.

And Then Silence.

Mr. Grump (with newspaper)—"Here's an odd case—a woman marries one man, thinking he is another." Mrs. Grump—"What's odd about that? Women are doing that all the time."

TEACHING HEN GOOD LESSON. Poultry Gate as Shown in the Illustration Will Save Cussing and Garden Truck. Barrels of perspiration may be saved by the poultry gate shown herewith, which is reproduced, with the article from the New England Homestead. Whoever has unintentionally acquired the hen cussing, hen-cussing habit may cure himself with this little device. In the fence, preferably at a point near where the fowls are fed, a little door about 10 by 12 inches is hung on the inside of the yard, so as to always swing shut without springs. It is stopped from swinging outward by the peg shown at the right. Mrs. Hen, returning repentant from the garden, will poke her head into every mesh of the fence in her efforts to rejoin her happy companions. The gate will thus allow her to enter without excitement or commotion from the lord of the harem from the irate owner. But another advantage may be gained by using the gate in connection with the laying pens. If the two gates are used, one opening inward in front of the nest, the other opening outward at the back of the side, so that the hens may go to another yard after laying, the poultryman may know which hens have and have not laid. Thus he may avoid the trouble usually connected with ordinary trap nests. Garden or Nest Gate. Breeders for Next Year. This is the season of the year to buy your breeders for next, as now the large breeders are selling at bargain prices in order to have the room needed for the growing stock.
