FILM STORY

AT THE MOTIOGRAPH.

REVENGE IS SWEET.

Jimmie has a good job in an office where there is a bevy of pretty girls, but being at that age where his appreciation of the fair sex has not developed, he considers them inferior to him. So it is his pleasure to make all the fun he can for himself at their expense.

This time he reckons without his host. There is plenty for Jimmie to do, errands to be run and dust to be kept off the furniture in the office. Lunch time comes around; the girls all chip in and get Jimmie to buy their lunch, but not a minute does he do it without "getting his" in the shape of a generous tip. Soon in he comes with an armful of ginger ale and bananas for himself, ice cream, pickles, crackers and what not for the girls. It is a royal feast and they enjoy it.

There is one pretty girl in the office who powders her face too often to suit Jimmie and he consequently chides her about it. She daubs his face with the puff. This is too much for his boyish pride and he decides to get even. He does so, and so do they. It won't spoil your fun to say that Jimmie goes out to buy cigars for his boss and in passing a paint store sees a sign advertising the sale of lamp-black. Now you'll say, "I know, the powder box." That, however, isn't all. When you see it you'll have one good, hearty laugh at what the girls did to Jimmie.

Nautical Distinctions.

"How do you tell the difference between a yacht and a sailboat?" said the girl with the inquiring mind. "By lookin' into the pantry," replied Captain Cleet. "If she carries plenty of refreshments and seegars, she's a yacht. If it's mostly plain victuals, she's a sailboat."—Exchange.

Religion.

Religion is a thing that most men intend to acquire after they have succeeded in getting everything else they want.

AMUSEMENTS.

MAJESTIC.

There never was a more promising vaudeville bill at the Majestic Theater, Chicago, than that offered for the week of September 2nd. The list of entertainers includes many of the best specialists in the United States headed by Digby Bell, that dean of comic opera comedians, who is one of the most genial, unctuous and successful of all the funmakers on the legitimate stage or in vaudeville. Mr. Bell comes with a one-act farce by that keen humorist, George V. Hobart. The title is "It Happened in Topeka" and the theme is one of convulsing interest with a laugh literally in every line. The supporting company includes Nellie Rowland and other artists of high character and talent.

Ida Brooks Hunt and Cheridah Simpson, noted as singers of more than ordinary merit, have joined forces in a high-class musical act.

The Six Beautiful Kirksmith Sisters, who have one of the most charming musical acts in the entire range of vaudeville, will appear in an exceedingly varied and entertaining repertoire.

The principal comedian of this bill in a monologue sense is Stuart Barnes, the favorite singing funmaker, whose quips and jests have been so much enjoyed by numerous audiences for years past.

Bert Wheeler & Co. have a considerable share in the entertainment with a spectacular pantomime absurdity called "Fun on the Boulevard."

LOVE AND CONSTANCY THEME IN "PUTTING IT OVER."

Fifth Week at the Olympic Chicago.

"The course of true love never runs smooth" is an old adage, and in "Putting It Over," Ross Sterling, the law student, goes through three years of turbulence before he finally wins the heart of Ruth Noel, his father's ward. Although the young woman is separated from him during the three years, she remains constant. When she discovers that her sweetheart, whom she had at first believed to be a profligate son, possesses the highest qualities and morals and that he has temporarily given up the law to take up professional baseball to save his father from financial ruin and to protect her name, her heart goes out to him and the curtain goes down on the betrothal.

Lee Arthur and Frank Hatch have supplied the play with an air of high ideals and enough comedy to make it an excellent evening's entertainment, as is manifested by the rounds of applause which are heard at the Olympic Theater at every performance.

Harold Vosburgh takes the part of Ross Sterling, the college hero; Miss Helen Holmes, that of Ruth Noel, the attractive ward. Other members of the cast are Edwin Holt, Frederick Burt, Royal Tracy, Franklin Ritchie, Francis Joyner, Joseph Woodburn C. E. Harris Allison Skipworth and Veda Steele.

Chicago's New Vaudeville Theater—The Palace Music Hall.

The Palace Theater, the beautiful playhouse on Clark street near Randolph, Chicago, will open for the new season Monday afternoon, September 2nd (Labor Day). Its policy of presenting high-class vaudeville entertainments will be resumed; and its name will be altered to the Palace Music Hall.

The Palace is the newest theater in Chicago, and is situated in the heart of the theatrical district. It was dedicated last spring as a playhouse in which the leading artists of the world would be seen; the first phase of its career was brilliant; and its management announces the purpose of maintaining that high standard.

Vaudeville performances will be given at the Palace twice a day, beginning at 2:15 and 8:15. The building department of Chicago has pronounced the Palace one of the most perfectly constructed and equipped theaters in the country.

The scale of seat prices for the new season is: 15 cents, 25 cents, 50 cents and 75 cents; matinee and evening. The Palace Music Hall will be operated in conjunction with the Orpheum Circuit of Theaters in America, and the various high-class music halls of Europe.

Hunters Born, Not Made.

A hunter is born, not made. Unless a man has the love of the chase bred in his blood he's not going to get any blue ribbons pinned on him for sportsmanship. Some men take to the trail as naturally as a duck beats it to the puddle after cracking the egg-shell. Then there are others who never seem to learn the game—they think they like to hunt but when you get them into the tall and unlimbered, they prove to be misfits who are eternally doing the wrong thing at the inopportune time.—National Sportsman.

Fishing, Their Occupation.

Over 1,200 small boats are used along the north coast of New Brunswick in fishing. Nearly every resident is a fisherman during portions of the year, while a majority follow fishing as an occupation. The greater number of smelt fishermen are farmers who find smelt fishing a profitable side line during the winter months.

It Doesn't Get You Anything.

Reminding your boss of mistakes he has made is just about as sensible as it is for a ball player to see the umpire.

The KPFHEN GABINET

MRS. WHITNEY says in one of her stories the two dearest things in housekeeping are butter and experience. Today we may add meat to enlarge the list.

A CHAPTER ON MEATS.

A most delicious way of serving hamburger steak is to put the round steak through the chopper (don't buy it chopped, for you take all kinds of mixtures); add seasoning of pepper, salt and onion, if liked. Grease the broiler and put the meat in the form of a steak and broil. When cooked, pour over a quarter of a cup of cream to each pound of the meat; have the cream hot and well seasoned.

Breakfast Chicken—Chop the pieces of chicken fine; have a little butter in a sauce pan. When melted, add a cup of cream, when hot stir in the chicken, season and serve on well buttered rounds of toast.

Beef Mireton—Mince cold corned beef, season with pepper, chopped pickle, two minced hard cooked eggs; moisten with any gravy or white sauce at hand, cover with seasoned mashed potatoes and bake until brown.

Here are some suitable combinations to use with meats of various kinds, when left over:

- Cold veal, rice stuffing, tomato sauce.
- Lamb, mint sauce, or in stew with peas.
- Mutton, macaroni, white or tomato sauce.
- Beef, onions, potatoes, celery, brown sauce.
- Chicken, rice, celery and white sauce.
- Turkey, stuffing and giblet gravy for an escalloped dish.
- Duck, minced olives, brown gravy and currant jelly.
- Bolled ham, mustard, hard cooked eggs and white sauce.
- Broiled liver, bacon, lemon juice and tomato sauce.
- Veal, ham, horseradish and brown sauce.
- Fish, stuffing and Hollandaise sauce.

A very attractive breakfast dish is old-fashioned hash well seasoned, made in cakes and cooked, then serve with a poached egg on each. Garnish the platter with parsley.

I ALWAYS thought cold victuals nice.
Then farewell heat and welcome frost.

FROZEN DISHES.

Ice creams are divided into two classes, the Neapolitan and the Philadelphia. The former contains a large proportion of eggs, is made like a custard. The latter is creamy, being made of cream almost wholly.

In preparing the Neapolitan cream, care should be taken to strain the custard after adding the eggs well beaten. The cooking is another important matter, as too long cooking curdles the custard and too little leaves a raw, uncooked taste.

In adding fruit, such as berries or peaches, care should be taken that they are thoroughly mashed and sweetened before adding to the frozen mixture. Always chill the cream before freezing, as it freezes smoother and quicker.

The following recipes are not commonly seen, though they are not at all hard to prepare:

Burnt Almond Ice Cream—Blanch four ounces of shelled almonds and brown them in the oven. Pound to a paste in a mortar, adding a little sugar and cream to make a paste. Beat six eggs, add the almond mixture, a pound of sugar and a quart of cream, with a teaspoonful of vanilla. Scald the eggs with half of the cream.

Maple Perfect—Cook four well beaten eggs in a cup of hot maple sirup, add a teaspoonful of vanilla, a pint of thick cream and freeze.

Orange Ice—Make a sirup of a pint of sugar and a quart of water, boil 15 minutes, add a pint of orange juice and a half cup of lemon juice, the peel of a lemon and orange. The peel can be boiled with the sugar. Cool and freeze.

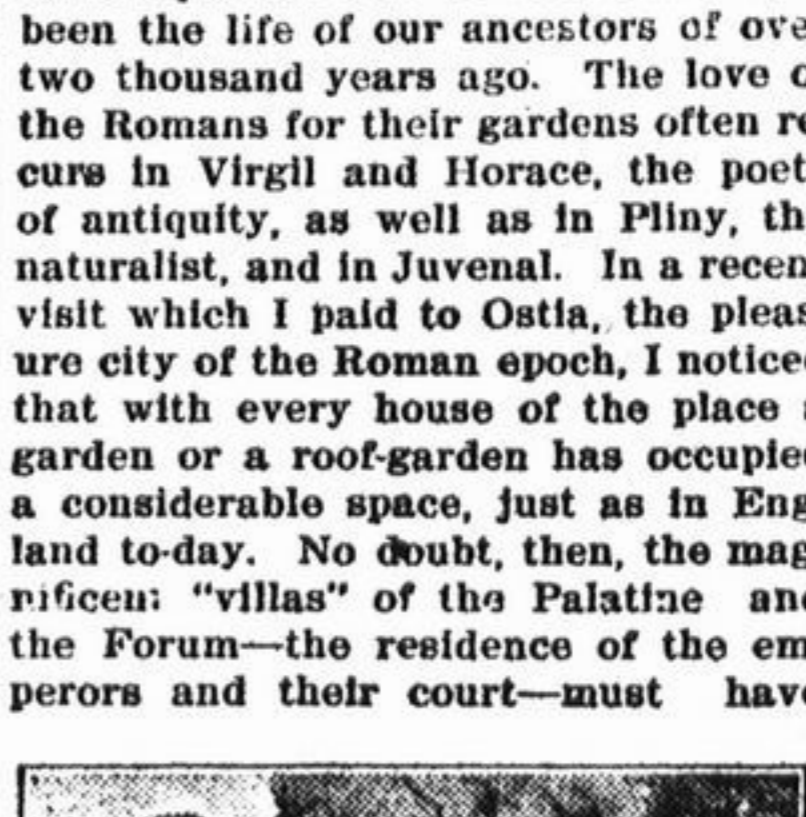

Orange Delicious—A cup each of orange and lemon juice, a cup and a half of sugar or sufficient to sweeten a pint of cream. Freeze.

Nellie Maxwell
Man to Mistrust.
Charles M. Schwab, at a luncheon on the Olympic, praised temperance. "Mistrust the hard drinker," said Mr. Schwab. "He is selfish, he is self-indulgent. Otherwise he wouldn't yield to no bestial a vice as drunkenness."
"Especially mistrust the man who over his seventeenth beer, tells you how much he loves his wife. She always takes in washing to support him."

GARDEN OF ROMAN FLORA.

Beautiful Flora in Apple Park, Downers Grove. Flowers That Bloomed Here Are To Be Seen.

Recent—The wonderful discoveries which have taken place during the last few years in Rome have now allowed the general public to grasp an almost perfect idea of what must have been the life of our ancestors of over two thousand years ago. The love of the Romans for their gardens often recurs in Virgil and Horace, the poets of antiquity, as well as in Pliny, the naturalist, and in Juvenal. In a recent visit which I paid to Ostia, the pleasure city of the Roman epoch, I noticed that with every house of the place a garden or a roof-garden has occupied a considerable space, just as in England to-day. No doubt, then, the magnificent "villas" of the Palatine and the Forum—the residence of the emperors and their court—must have contained the finest garden plants available in those days, together with a large selection of those plants which, for some reasons not fully known to us, were believed to have religious power. It was with the object of reviving a part of this beautiful Roman flora that Commodore Bondi has been working for the last two years collecting a large number of plants chosen among those which are supposed to have grown in the very place where the most important monuments have been discovered. This unusually difficult work has necessitated extensive study, together with an uncommon technical and botanical knowledge, and has now been almost completed, and the visitor can find among the marbles and the stones left to us through the centuries some fine specimens of the plants which were in existence in Roman times. The acanthus, whose beautiful leaves have inspired the design of the Corinthian capital, is fully represented in this "botanical garden of antiquity;" the white jasmine, which, according to the legend, was sacred to the vestal virgins, is now climbing again on the beautiful porch which had been erected under the kingdom of Trajanus "aere senatus populisque romanii" ("with the money of the senate and of the people of Rome"). The large and mysterious basins found near the house of the vestals, which probably were used as a bath by the Maiden of the Sacred Fire, have now had their borders fully covered by velvet scarlet roses, while the white roses, a symbol of virginal purity, are now blooming around the statues of the "vestales maximae," the women priests of antiquity. White and red roses are also decorating the statue of Vettius Agonius Prætextatus, one of the last prefects or mayors of Rome, who, having been one of the most strenuous defenders of the dying paganism, had a marble statue erected by order of the religious authority of the time.

IS THE PANAMA METROPOLIS

Port Antonio in Jamaica Ships 9,000, 000 Bunches of Tropical Fruit Every Year.

New York.—Port Antonio to the United States was eastern shore of Jamaica, is the greatest banana port in the world. In 1911 it shipped more than 9,000,000 bunches of bananas, nearly all of which came to the United States. Jamaica leads all other countries in the world in the production of bananas, and Port Antonio has the lead over all other towns in Jamaica, because the heavy rainfall in its neighborhood is favorable to the production of this fruit. During the busiest season—July, August and September—eighteen to twenty-one fruit ships leave Port Antonio every week for New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore or Charleston. But are all these banana boats trading to the United States American boats? Far from it. The consular reports show that in 1911 the number of clearances issued to vessels from Port Antonio to the United States was 703, of which 523 were Norwegian, 102 British, 74 American and 9 German ships. Perhaps we may rejoice, in the present state of our neglected merchant marine, that as many as 74 ships out of 708 were American.

Robber Yields to Fingert.

Vancouver, B. C.—When George Johnson pointed his finger at Frank Benedict in Stanley park the other night the latter, who had attempted to hold up Johnson and Fred Clark at the point of a .38-caliber revolver, lowered his gun and quietly submitted to capture by the men, who he had intended should be his victims.

Dutch in Russian Flag.

Peter the Great made the Russian flag. He liked the Dutch so much that he just turned their colors around.

A WOMAN'S BACK

The Advice of This Downers Grove Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains. Oftimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Downers Grove women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. Jacob Schaller, 97 S. Main St., Downers Grove, Ill., says: "For two or three years I suffered off and on from attacks of backache. I had dull, heavy pains in my loins and there was weakness extending from my hips downward. The least exertion tired me and I often had to sit down and rest. The kidney secretions also caused much annoyance and plainly showed that I had kidney complaint. Several months ago I had the good fortune to learn of Doan's Kidney Pills and I immediately began their use, procuring my supply at Bush & Simonson's Drug Store. No other medicine ever brought me such great relief as this one. Since taking the contents of two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, my back has been entirely free from pain and my kidneys have caused me no trouble whatever."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Preserving Wood.

Instead of treating wood to preserve it from rot, an inventor of Budapest arrives at the same result by a reversal of the operation, for he treats the earth to suffer from the pests in such a manner as to destroy all germ and insect life. This process serves as a substitute where it is difficult to secure the treated lumber. It is called "peristerilization."

Novel Mat for Hot Dishes.

Cut a piece of pasteboard the size and shape desired, round, square, or octagon, and sew on this felt or flannel. On the reverse side sew on flat bone, pearl, or china buttons, all of one size, putting them on in rings or other patterns. These will hold the hot dish up from the table.—National Magazine.
