Roosevelt	106
Taft	12

POPULAR VOTE TO DATE.

Wilson's	6,530,209
Roosevelt's	4,220,639
Taft's	3,829,922

New York, Nov. 7.—Four hundred and thirteen electoral votes for President-elect Wilson is the latest figure that the returns from all the states indicate. This number of votes represents a total of 39 of the 48 states.

Of nine states which are divided between Roosevelt and Taft, the present indications are that Roosevelt has carried Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Washington, with a total electoral vote of 106. Taft carried only the states of Idaho, Utah and Vermont for a total of 12 electoral votes.

Roosevelt Gets Minnesota. Latest returns from Minnesota now indicate that Roosevelt has carried the state by the narrowest margin. Wilson has carried Kansas; five Democratic congressmen were elected and W. H. Thompson, a Democrat, beat Governor Stubbs for the United States senate.

The result in Illinois is not yet conclusive. On the face of the returns Roosevelt has the state by a very small plurality. Final official returns from all the downstate counties may swing Illinois with its twenty-nine electoral votes to Wilson.

In Pennsylvania the returns are far from complete; also in South Dakota, Washington and Michigan, but the indications in these states are Roosevelt will maintain his small lead and secure the electoral vote.

Should there be no further changes when the ballots of the electoral college are counted it will show that Roosevelt and Taft combined received less than twenty-five per cent. of the votes.

It will be many days before the complete returns on the popular vote for president will be available. In many of the southern states the canvassing is very slow and the returns to the secretaries of states will not be in for some days.

2,000,000 Plurality. But this much may be said of the popular verdict. Mr. Wilson received a plurality of approximately 2,000,000 votes, but he did not receive a popular majority. His huge electoral vote results from the split of the Republican vote between Roosevelt and Taft.

As between the Progressives and the Republicans, the result appears to be very much in favor of the "Bull Moose" party. In the south and in the west the Roosevelt vote was far greater than the vote for Taft, and in the eastern states, where Taft was in the lead in most instances, Roosevelt ran very close up.

Present indications are that the Progressives polled between 750,000 and 1,000,000 more votes than did its rival.

The Socialist vote as recorded for Debs can only be estimated roughly. But there is no doubt that the aggregate Socialist vote polled in the United States on Tuesday was the greatest that party ever had recorded in its favor.

Congress is Democratic. In many places this was due to local conditions, and not to the general accession to the Socialist ranks. In many states the Socialist vote dwindled to nothing, but in those states where increases were made the increases showed as high as 100 per cent. The general estimate is that the presidential candidate of the Socialists polled in the neighborhood of 800,000 votes, while in the last presidential election Mr. Debs, the same candidate, secured a total of only 420,000 votes.

The returns on the national legislatures are far from complete. But all indications point to a largely in-

WOODROW WILSON.

Governor Wilson of New Jersey, Democratic candidate for the presidency, was elected president of the United States Tuesday by a vote that was a veritable landslide.

Increased Democratic majority in the house of representatives and a clean Democratic majority in the senate. There is no question from the returns now at hand that President-elect Wilson will have in both branches of congress an ample working majority which will enable the Democratic party to carry out its program of legislative reforms.

EDITOR WILSON IS DEAD

Owner of Seattle Post-Intelligencer Expires in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 7.—John L. Wilson, owner of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, died at a hotel here of angina pectoris, after an illness of one hour. His body will be taken to his birthplace, Crawford, Ind., for burial. He had been in the capital on business two days. Mr. Wilson was a former United States senator. He had served two terms in the house, and part of a third, when he resigned to go to the senate to fill the unexpired term of John B. Allen. He was a brother of Henry Lane Wilson, ambassador to Mexico.

CRUMPACKER IS DEFEATED

Returns Indicate That John B. Peterson Has Been Elected.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns indicate that Congressman Crumpacker, the only Republican congressman spared in Indiana in 1916, has been defeated by John B. Peterson of Crown Point, his Democratic opponent. The defeated congressman has served many terms in congress. He was formerly known as the "Boss" of Indiana.

CANNON BEATEN BY O'HAIR

Uncle Joe Goes Down to Defeat by 611 Plurality.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 7.—Frank J. O'Hair (Dem.) is victor over former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon for congress in the Eighteenth district by 611 plurality. Vermillion county gave Cannon 718 plurality and Kankakee 544 plurality.

PRESIDENT-ELECT REASSURES NATION

Declares There Is Nothing in Election That Need Worry Honest Business Men.

TAFT BACK IN WASHINGTON

Chief Executive Appears Unmoved Over Outcome of Contest—Colonel Roosevelt Is at Oyster Bay Planning for the Future.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson declared here there was nothing for the honest and enlightened business men of the country to fear in his election. He made the following statement:

"The result fills me with the hope that the thoughtful progressive forces of the nation may now at last unite to give the country freedom of enterprise and a government released from all corporate and private influences, devoted to justice and progress. There is absolutely nothing for the honest and enlightened business men of the country to fear. No man whose business is conducted without violations of the rights of free competition and without such private understanding and secret alliances as violate the principle of our law and the policy of all wholesome commerce and enterprise need fear either interference or embarrassment from the administration.

Asks Intelligent Co-Operation.

"Our hope and purpose is now to bring all the free forces of the nation into active and intelligent co-operation and to give to our prosperity a freshness and spirit and a confidence such as it has not had in our time. The responsibilities of the task are tremendous, but they are common responsibilities which all leaders of action and opinion must share. And with the confidence of the people behind us, everything that is right is possible. My own ambition will be more than satisfied if I may be permitted to be the frank spokesman of the nation's thoughtful purposes in these great matters."

To President Taft at Washington Mr. Wilson sent the following telegram: "I warmly appreciate your kind message and wish to express my sincere personal regards."

To Colonel Roosevelt at Oyster Bay he sent the following telegram: "My sincerest thanks for your kind message. Pray accept my cordial good wishes."

Hears From Bryan and Hearst.

Among the many congratulatory telegrams received were the following: From William Jennings Bryan: "I am glad to report that you have carried my state, the city of Lincoln and my precinct. Your success here adds to my enjoyment of your national victory."

From William Randolph Hearst at Madrid, Spain: "Congratulations both on your personal victory and on the fact that you will have a Democratic house and senate to support the policies of your administration."

From Alton B. Parker: "People are to be congratulated on the opportunity given you to serve them, and nearly all, whether voting for you or not, feel this to be true. Now that a calm summing up of the result of yesterday has been taken, be so good as to accept my congratulations."

Not on a Hair Trigger.

Governor Wilson said that he would probably remain at Princeton during the rest of the week. "How about an extra session of congress?" some one asked. "I have given no thought to such matters as yet," was the reply. "I'm not on a hair trigger."

"I can realize that it's true." Governor Wilson thus greeted foreign visitors, who swarmed to his house to offer congratulations. Among them were many members of the Princeton faculty.

President Taft in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Taft arrived here this morning at 8:40 o'clock from Cincinnati after an all night's run, having left the latter city yesterday afternoon. He was driven at once to the White House, where he will begin the preparation of his annual message to congress and attend to other official business, which has lapsed in the past three weeks.

His laugh unimpaired, his nerve unshaken, the president spent his day after the election in Cincinnati. At the station in the Ohio city just before taking his departure for Washington, where thousands had greeted him 48 hours before, there were but a scant handful of personal friends to say good-bye to the defeated candidate. If there was any sadness, however, it was not felt by the chief executive, who laughed and chatted as gaily as he ever did before election. Indeed, it appeared as though a great load had been taken from his shoulders and bystanders recalled the reluctance with which he had been forced into public life and prophesied that never again would he return to the arena of a national election.

Taft Makes Big Golf Record.

The president had arisen late and after breakfasting and attending to his mail, motored to the Cincinnati Country club where he played a round

THOMAS R. MARSHALL.

Governor Marshall of Indiana, Democratic candidate for the vice presidency, was elected to that office Tuesday by a large and safe vote.

of golf with his brother, C. P. Taft, Albert Ingalls and C. A. Ricks. It was noted that the president went around the course in less than 100, one of the best scores he has ever made.

It is possible that the president and Mrs. Taft may go to Hot Springs, Va., for a fortnight before congress opens, and it is likely that the chief executive will visit Panama to inspect the canal during the Christmas recess.

Roosevelt Plans Future.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Encouraged over the Bull Moose ticket landing in second place in the presidential fight, Colonel Roosevelt started with his leaders to lay out the future of the Progressive party. The former president found intense consolation in the results as they came to him at Sagamore Hill.

"The fight is going on and we are bound to win," was the colonel's rosy view of it.

In consultation with Governor Johnson, George W. Perkins, Frank Munsey and Gifford Pinchot at Sagamore Hill Roosevelt expressed himself vigorously as to the purpose of the party in the immediate future. The former president pointed to the heavy vote polled by the Progressives, spoke of the states they had carried and argued that the whole outcome portended important victory for the third party.

"In fact," said the colonel, "the Progressive party has surprised the Republican party. All we need to do is to keep steadily on with the fight and we will win."

As an outcome of the conference it is expected that a call for a general gathering of Bull Moose leaders will be sounded within the next few days.

There has always existed in America a strong admiration for the Spanish people, a sentiment of good will as persistent as it is difficult to define or account for on materialistic grounds. One can only record that a hustling new world people, busy at the task of conquering a primitive continent, have felt more than ordinary good will for a reserved and dignified race no longer the first in military power but excessively proud of its glorious history.

CABINET PLACES TO WILSON AIDS

Bryan, McAdoo, McCombs and Brandeis Likely to Be Given Posts.

DENEEN FOR SPECIAL SESSION

Illinois Governor's Plan, as Understood at Springfield, is to Call General Assembly to Elect a Successor to Fill Lorimer Vacancy.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 7.—The first Democratic cabinet since 1892 will be made up for the most part as follows, if belief is to be placed in the flood of talk about it, which has suddenly been released by the result of the election: Secretary of State—William J. Bryan of Nebraska.

Secretary of the Treasury—William McAdoo of New York. Postmaster General—William McCombs of New York.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor—Louis Brandeis of Massachusetts. Secretary of the Interior—Walter L. Fisher of Illinois.

In addition to these men President Wilson's cabinet may contain Joseph Daniels of North Carolina, Palmer Mitchell of Pennsylvania, Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, Charles R. Crane of Illinois and Rudolph Spreckels of San Francisco.

It is believed here that there is no reasonable doubt as to Mr. Bryan's being offered and accepting the position of "prime minister" to the incoming administration. Indeed, it is said, the appointment took definite shape in that mysterious campaign conference which Wilson and Bryan held at Lincoln, Neb., during the candidate's western tour.

Ambition May Bar Bryan.

The sole consideration which might bar Mr. Bryan's acceptance is thought to be a possible ambition to run for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1916, in which case a place in Wilson's cabinet would be embarrassing. But this is answered by those who point out that the Democratic platform indorses the one-term principle very strongly, if conditionally.

McAdoo, who has borne the brunt of the campaign during the illness of Chairman McCombs, is said to be slated for the treasuryship. A report that he would take the war portfolio in order to turn his engineering genius into the Panama canal and Mississippi river projects was denied by those supposed to be closest to the cabinet situation.

Brandeis, the lawyer publicist, who is credited with the inspiration for Governor Wilson's trust policy, might naturally be expected to take the post now held by Attorney General Wickham. But it is said he will not go into the department of justice, but into the department of commerce and labor.

McCombs Would Follow Precedent.

McCombs, the young Princetonian who won the presidency for Wilson by winning his nomination for him, would follow recent custom if he stepped from the campaign management into the postmaster general's office.

The possible retention of Secretary Fisher was one of the most interesting stories of the day. It grew out of the close personal friendship which exists between the secretary and Charles R. Crane of Chicago. It is considered highly probable that President Wilson, in view of Mr. Crane's great services to his cause, may ask Secretary Fisher to remain in his present position.

Deneen May Call Special Session.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—That a special session to elect one United States senator will be called by Governor Deneen is the opinion of local students of politics here. Asked specifically whether he would call a session, Governor Deneen evaded, saying he did not want to discuss the subject, that he had only returned from Chicago and that he would await all returns of the election before proceeding with any business pertaining to the legislature. Some of the central Illinois Democratic members of the Forty-seventh general assembly are so certain Governor Deneen will call a special session, they have started agitation quietly to prevail upon Democratic members to remain away should a session be called. They think a few anti-Deneen Republicans will join them, thus making a sufficient force to break a quorum. Such a fight is almost certain to be made upon the governor's plans.

M'KINLEY ADMITS DEFEAT

Taft's Preconvention Campaign Manager Beaten for Re-Election.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 7.—Congressman William B. McKinley, manager of the preconvention campaign of President Taft, has been defeated in the Nineteenth district by a plurality estimated from 500 to 800 votes. Mr. McKinley has confirmed the result by sending a congratulatory telegram to Charles M. Borah, the Democratic candidate, at Decatur.
