HIGH SCHOOL NINE WERE SOME SLUGGERS.

Six Men Out of Regular Team Bat Over Three Hundred for the Season.

By E. David.

Manager Andersen of the High School baseball team, found his batting eye the past season and led his team mates with a grand average of .414. Six of the squad are well over the .300 mark. Captain Johnson and Washburn are the only members of the regular team who did not bat over .300.

Following are the averages for the season:

	G.	A.B.	R.	H.	Aver.
Andersen	10	39	18	16	.414
Curtiss	10	43	16	16	.372

In the ten games played 121 runs were made, making an average of 12 runs per game. Some bunch of sluggers!

INTERESTING LETTER ON CORRECT USE OF FLAG

The letter printed below was meant for insertion in last week's paper, but as it was, with other copy, lost in the mails and is too good to throw away, we print it this week.

This is a topic that every mother and father should take up with their children, especially at this time when nearly the whole world is plunged in a devastating war. Not only instruct them on the correct use of our flag but teach them the great principals for which it stands.

June 8, 1915.

C. H. Staats,
Editor Downers Grove Reporter.

Dear Sir: Next Monday will be Flag Day and I venture to suggest a few things with reference to the flag which have recently been brought to my attention, and which I am sure the readers of the Reporter will be glad to know about.

On Decoration Day flags were hung incorrectly all over our village. In as much as there are certain ways it seems to me we should all adopt those ways. For instance, a United States flag should never be left up over night but should be hoisted at sunrise. If at half-mast it should be lowered at noon; if at full mast it should be lowered at sunset. If the flag is hanging on a staff from a building, the stars should be away from the building; if it is hung on a rope from a building to a tree or something other than another building, the stars should be the same as if it were attached to a staff—away from the house. If it is hung between two houses and the rope holding it extends east and west, the stars should be to the east, if between two houses or other buildings extending north and south, the stars should be to the north.

Some time ago Mayor Harrison of Chicago instructed the department heads of the city government as to the dates for the display of the flag as follows:

"The days on which the flag should be hoisted are Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday; Feb. 15, anniversary of the sinking of the Maine; Feb. 22, Washington's birthday; April 19, anniversary of the battle of Lexington; May 30, Memorial Day; June 14, Flag Day; June 17, anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill; July 4, Independence Day; Oct. 9, Chicago Day; Oct. 12, Columbus Day; Oct. 17, anniversary of the surrender of Yorktown; Nov. 25, anniversary of the evacuation of Yorktown."

Yours very truly,
W. B. TOWSLEY.

A FEW OF THE LAWS OF THE FLAG.

Many people put out a flag on a national holiday, leaving it there for several days apparently ignorant of the law of the country.
The first law of the flag is that it shall never be raised before sunrise and always taken down at sunset. The flag should never touch the ground. Children should be taught to respect the flag and not throw it on the ground even if soiled or broken. All patriotic people salute the flag when passing it.

Let us teach patriotism with our lessons on peace.

OLD MA TROUBLE.

Within the forest deep and dark,
Beyond the turgid dells,
There stands the squimsy little house
Where Old Ma Trouble dwells;
The roof is all of worries made;
The floor, of cares and frets;
The windows they are made of doubts—
The stairs, of vain regrets.

They say that if you shun the place,
And never venture nigh,
Old Ma won't bother you at all,
But merely pass you by;
But if you go there snoopin' round
To see what you can see,
The Old Ma she will find you out
As sure as sure can be.
