Ge! Haw! and a few other things said Jim Chilvers to his little gray automobile at Main and Curtis Monday morning, but the darn thing wouldn't do anything but back. MOVIES IN ELGIN CHURCH REPLACES EVENING SERMON—PASSION PLAY IS SHOWN.

Elgin, Ill., July 4.—(Special).—Moving pictures were shown tonight at Grace Methodist Church. Scenes from "The Passion Play" were thrown on a big screen just above the pulpit across the choir loft. As the reel progressed the Rev. George Gable described "The Passion Play" itself and recited incidents from the life of Christ.

Tonight was the second Sunday evening that moving pictures have taken the place of the regular Sunday night services at Grace Church.

The first show brought a protest, and before he had a machine permanently installed the Rev. Mr. Gable refused to vote approval. One objected to Sunday night shows. The other refused to sanction movies in the auditorium proper. The majority, however, favored the plan.

Elgin, Ill., July 19th.

Two Elgin pastors—the Rev. F. E. R. Miller of the First Baptist Church and the Rev. Charles L. Plymate of the House of Hope, Presbyterian church, assailed in unminced words the adoption by churches of moving pictures, supervised dancing and other devices from the amusements of the world last evening in open air evangelistic services.

No churches were mentioned. In the minds of the listeners were the Grace Methodist church which has adopted Sunday evening movies portraying Bible stories as well as a motion picture entertainment once a week, the Epworth Methodist church, which has a motion picture entertainment once a week, but not on Sundays; and the Universalist church, whose pastor, the Rev. E. Dean Ellsworth, has advocated church supervision of dancing and other amusements as a means of purifying them.

Grace Service Well Attended.

While the two evangelistic services were progressing, the regular Sunday evening pictures were being shown at the Grace Methodist church. Three hundred persons, filling the church, were present.

The first reel portrayed the story of Elisha raising from the dead the Shunammite woman's son. Two other reels, colored handsomely, showed beautiful scenery from Spain and Germany, both of the cities and of the great outdoors.

In the absence of the pastor the Rev. George Gable, members of King David's class had charge of the services. William J. Meadows presided. Clyde Keeley read the scripture and E. H. Lee offered prayer.

Says Pictures Inspire Emotion.

"My impression after the meeting was that the pictures inspired a deep religious emotion," said Mr. Meadows. "I would say to any who have doubts on the subject to come out and see the pictures and then judge for themselves."

"Personally I can get a clearer idea of a Bible story in a half hour from the pictures than I can get from reading the Bible for a day."

"Religious sentiment was present in a marked degree last night and I am glad the people felt that they were worshipping God. One could have heard a pin drop at almost any time during the services, and would not have known that there was a child present."

One of the earnest workers in the church stated that the consensus of opinion was that the pictures inspire real religious fervor and reach people whom it would be difficult to reach in any other way.

THE WORTHLESS MAN—AN EPITAPH.

They said he was a ne'er-do-well; A vagrant, shiftless sort; Just what he did no one could tell, To gain his scant support. The village loafer—that was all— Yet no man was his foe. Moreover—as we now recall— The children loved him so.

A friend to every dog and child Was he, this good-for-naught. And, though by thrifty folk reviled, His life a lesson taught: Even as the lilies in the field He lived, nor did he know The cares within the future sealed— And children loved him so.

He'd take you—none was willing— Where first dew-berries grew. And like Scheherazade's were The stories that he knew. The famous fishing holes he'd find. Where willow boughs drooped low— Philosopher, so sweet and kind. The children loved you so!

Cigar With Wooden Peg.

A cigar manufacturer in Wisconsin equips each cigar with a small wooden shoe peg inserted in the tip and projecting far enough to be easily grasped by the teeth. Instead of biting off the end of the tip the smoker simply takes hold of this peg with his teeth and pulls it out, and in this way opens a good draft through the cigar without loosening or injuring the wrapper.—Popular Mechanist.

MORE ILLINOIS COUNTIES FREED FROM QUARANTINE

Office of Information, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Washington, D. C.—Three more counties in Illinois are freed entirely from quarantine regulations for the foot-and-mouth disease by an order effective July 19. They are Bureau, Jo Daviess, and McHenry. In addition, all of Dupage, Lee and Ogle counties are freed with the exception of those portions which lie within five miles of several farms recently infected. There is now no closed area in the state and the Union Stock Yards in Cook county are the only exposed area. The modified area consists of Winnebago county, Section 10 of Naperville township in Dupage county, Section 19 of Palmyra township in Lee county, Section 31 of Lincoln township in Ogle county, and territory within five miles of these sections. The restricted area, in which the quarantine regulations are more lenient than in any of the other classifications, consists of Section 18 in Byron township, Ogle county, and territory within five miles of it.

OUR OWN LITTLE TOWN.

If you meet a man who is down in the mouth, who thinks that his town is all wrong, just take him aside and give him a ride and hand him this quaint little song. There are fancier towns than our own little town, there are towns that are bigger than this; and the people who live in the finer towns all the city excitement will miss. There are things you can see in the wealthier town that you can't in the town that is small; and yet up and down there is no other town like our little town after all. It may be that the street through the heart of our town isn't long, isn't wide, isn't straight; but the neighbors you know in our own little town with a welcome your coming will wait. In the glittering streets of the glittering town with its palace and pavement and thrall; in the midst of the throng you'll frequently long for our own little town after all. If you live and work and trade in our town in spite of the fact that it's small, you'll find that the town—our own little town—is the best kind of a town after all.

Behind the Bars.

The Sunday was a wet one and she was allowed to accompany her parents to church. It was her first experience of that kind.

The minister was of the energetic, pulp-it-thumping type, and he preached from a rostrum called in, above the people. He excelled himself this day in the thumping tactics and had worked himself up to a pitch of excitement.

Ether was covering close to her mother's side, and when he reached a point where he emphasized more than all the others, she exclaimed, in a frightened whisper: "Ma! What would we do if he got out?" — Pittsburgh Chronicle-Examiner.
