How the Spider Works. A patient Englishman who last sum mer watched a garden spider spin its nest from start to finish has told what he saw, in a recent lesue of Knowl edge. At 9:30 o'clock in the evening the spider, a half-grown female, began work by dropping from one branch of a pine tree to another below, and there making fast a line, which eventnally formed two of the perpendicular radiating lines of the web. From that time it continued to work without interruption until 1:25 o'clock the next morning. The network and radial lines were done by 12:30 o'clock, and the spiral part of the web was consequently made in less than an hour. WORK IN BAN FRANCISCO.

-Systematic Efforts Have En-In San Francisco's Chinatown Miss

Donaldina Cameron is honored with two unusual names. Amon the Chinese highbinders she is known as the "Female White Devil," among the girls of her rescue mission she is called the "Little Mother." Miss Cameron has been doing rescue work among the Chinese of California for nearly twenty years, and during that time has rescued 1,500 girls ranging in age from little tots given away or sold as slaves by their parents or natural guardians to grown girls who had fallen into the clutches of high-

She has gone at midnight into the farthest corners of the rookeries that are the Chinatown of old San F cisco. She has chopped down doors crawled on her hands and knees along secret passages, and in several instances rescued at the point of the pistol the miserable slave girl who had appealed to her.

In her rescue work Miss Cameron does not go after the girls who are content to live such lives, but those who appeal to her or who she learns wish to get away from it. She has taken more than one girl as they were passing along the streets and forced the Chinese "owner" to go to court. On several occasions she has been followed and threatened by mobs of Chinese and their friends.

Of Scotch parentage, Miss Cameron was born in New Zealand. She came to America as a young girl and for twenty years has been employed by the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church for rescue work among the Chinese of San Francisco. She is paid only $60 a month, and insists that she thinks it quite enough, Once she gets a girl she does not try to Americanize her or keep her away from reputable people of her own nationality. On the contrary, the girls study Chinese books along with English and are encouraged to hold to their own religion.

Since Miss Cameron has learned that all Chinese girls wish to be mar ried she does her best for them as matchmaker. She sees that they meet reputable men who are able and willing to give them good homes and proper treatment. Nor does her interest cease with their marriage. Her short vacations are usually spenvisiting girls who have been under her care and who have married. She is entertained as an honored guest and put their best foot forward.

Father Knickerbocker's 250 Years. New York city celebrated last Thursday the 250th anniversary of its municipal government under a mayor and board of aldermen.

When Thomas Willett was sworn in as mayor, with his five aldermen. on June 24, 1665—the date appearing as June 14, according to the old oalendar form, in the early accountsby the English governor, Richard Nicolla, the last vestige of Dutch rule was obliterated

There was, indeed, one break, but of so short duration that its influence was negligible. In 1673, while England and Holland were at war, Captain Coive, with a small Dutch fleet, appeared in the harbor. The English recognized that the fort was no more able to resist an attack can it was in the days of Stuyvesant, nine years before, and the Dutch again captured New York. In less than a year, when the European war ended, it was restored to the English

Prayers for Horses. Marcus Horton, author of the re cently published novel, "Bred of the Desert"-the story of a horse and his owner-has approached in fiction what the Russians have done in fact. He recognizes the great service of the horse to man in peace and makes one of his characters repeat an imaginary prayer of the horse to his master. The Russians have put into their war liturgy the following petition for horses: "And for those also, O Lord, the amble beasts, who, with us, bear the burden and heat of the day, and offer their guiltless lives for the well-being of their countries, we supplicate thy great tenderness of heart. For thou hast promised to save both man and beast, and great is thy loving kindness. Lord have mercy!"

A missionary from China gave an mpromptu lecture on the subject of the country and the work being done there, before an audience of Sunday school youngsters and believed he had thoroughly impressed the children with the idea of idolatry. To test them he put the question:

"Children, if you were to go into Chinese place of worship what would you see there that you would not see in any place of worship in this eountry?"

Making a Rug "Antique." flow "genuine antique rugs" are manufactured and prepared for European and American markets is told by a writer in the National Geographic Magazine, who visited Ragdad.

The shopping streets seem like tunnels, he writes. They are arched overhead with brick to keep out the heat; thus they run, like subways, up and down the bazaar quarter. Through those long, stiffing, faintly-lighted tunnels throngs the eternal crowd of men, mules and camels.

Often you will see a fine rug lying can be anything but hard, the flexible flat in the fifth of a narrow street, ground beneath the tramp of men and beasts; but there is method in this. lina, and there are specimens of it in Foreigners make Oriental rugs, bright
