The Downers Grove Athletic Association will open their basket-ball eason with two games at the local gym, tomorrow, Saturday night, at o'clock.

The "Reds" will play a strong five from the Illinois Steel Company plant and the "Blues" will play a team from the Hinsdale Athletic Club. The two games promise to be fast and well played and will be well worth watch-

The boys have been practicing hard for the last month or so to start the season right, with a win; they have some good material and no doubt will stage some interesting contests the coming winter.

COCKRAN TO SPEAK AT THE COLISEUM

The Hon. W. Bourke Cockran, the famous New York attorney and orator will deliver a lecture at the Coliseum Chicago, Monday evening, Nov. 29 Mr. Cockran's subject will be "A Plea for Peace," and the address will be free to the public. The Knights of Columbus of Illinois, under whose auspices the famous orator is coming west, have made arrangements for the From now on we will have services accommodation of 12,000 in the Coliseum. A speaker's platform with sounding board and other acoustic devices will assure to all in the mighty amphitheater a perfect hearing of the

> In addition to the lecture there will be a band concert which in itself will be a treat. The purpose of the Knights of Columbus is to give the people of Chicago and environs, up to the capacity of the largest auditorium in the city, an opportunity to hear the famous man's argument and eloquence at no cost to themselves. These arrangements have been under the direction of State Deputy William N. Brown and Grand Knight George F Mulligan, chairman of the Grand Knights' committee on arrangements. Of Mr. Cockran's power and ability as a public speaker and advocate the reading public has heard much in the last fifteen years. He has taken part in many of the national campaigns and has been heard as the champion of many a good cause. His present mission is no less important than those he has labored in in the past. The peace Mr. Cockran urges is a peace that every American, no matter what his nativity or the nativity of his forbears, wishes for most heart lly-peace within the country, peace among neighbors, peace among the citizens of the city, state and nationthe peace of religious understanding for the attack on New Orleans, the savy department came into possession of a complete set of plans of the delenses of that city. Not only were the positions of the forts laid down, but, also, the submarine mines, as well as the system of torpedoes, and the reserve of war vessels which were to co perate with the land batteries. No time was lost in sending it to Admiral Farragut, but no acknowledgment ever reached the navy department. Meanwhile, the passage of the forts was effected. New Orleans captured, Admiral Farragut, in due time, went North. Proceeding to Washington, he at once called at the navy department, where he received hearty congratulations upon his brilliant successes. While he was in the department a prominent official referred to the plans of the defenses of New Orleans, and asked the admiral if he had ever re-It happened on the links of a fa- ceived them. Overcoming Opposition. Reeping sweet in spite of opposition is never a sign of amiable weakness; only the strongest can do it. There fore such keeping sweet is an irresist ible attack on the opposition, and will convert it to friendliness or agreement if anything can. One man who is often right in his convictions, and who is able to express them clearly, wonders why it is that he has difficulty in getting others to agree with him. The whole trouble lies in his over-sensitiveness to the disagreement of those whom he would convince. The instant they show or express a difference of opinion, he "flares up," and his opportunity and power are gone. Another man keeps undisturbed and smiling in the face of disagreement, and wine men to his side in most that he has to say. The difference between the two men is not in the truth that they present, but in the way that they present it. The surer we are that we are right, the more important it is that we should not dishonor our message and lose our case by antagonising those whom we

Struck the Wrong Pitch,

A program had been arranged for visiting day in the school at Newington, N. H. The music had been rehearsed in the town hall over the school, as the hall could boast a plane and the school had none. Dan had asked and received permission to sing a hymn in honor of the minister, who was to be present. Dan had a sweet voice and plenty of confidence. On the day of the entertainment he came forward to the platform and in a high-pitched monotone announced impressively, "My God-it's too high!" and stopped. There was a horrified silence while While preparations were being made the teacher struggled to control her voice. "Dan has always rehearsed with the piano," she explained. "Begin again, Dan, and pitch it lower this time." To the relief of the audience Dan began again, "My God, from out whose bounteous hand-" and finished without further mishap.

> He Wanted Bargains. A day or two ago a small boy with two pennies in his possession entered a local periodical store and spent some time in selecting a postcard. Finding one to suit him he handed the proprietor a penny. The price of the card was five cents and the proprietor said he did not have any penny cards, but the wistful look on the boy's face prompted the proprietor to pocket his loss and let the boy keep the card Then the boy produced his other penny and asked for a fountain pen, but the proprietor promptly refused to do any more business with the youthbargain-bunter, remarking that tending store was no job for a nervous man.-Waltham News.
