TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN THE REPORTER

(From the Reporter of February 1, 1895.)

Married—At the residence of the bride's father, Geo. E. Spohr, on Wednesday evening, Jan. 30, 1895, by Rev. J. C. Myers, Mr. Charles A. Marks of Hinsdale and Miss Eva Spohr of Downers Grove.

Died—W. Smith Brookins, Jan. 26. He moved to Downers Grove in 1873 and was a member of the well known business firm of J. W. Rogers & Co. of this place. He also took an active part in public affairs and served on the village board for several years. Interment was at the Naperville cemetery.

Died—At her home in this village on Saturday, the 26th, Mrs. Harriet Houk, in the 58th year of her age. She had been an invalid for about twelve years. A son and daughter survive her, the husband preceding her about a year ago.

Last Friday afternoon and night this section of the country was visited by one of the most severe snow storms known here for several years. Fully ten inches of snow fell, which was accompanied by a 40-mile-an-hour gale, making it a very disagreeable storm to be out in. Following the storm the mercury ran down the scale from 14 to 16 below, and hovered below the zero mark for several days, making it good, snug winter weather.

Miss Anna Wetten favored the congregation at the M. E. church last Sunday evening with a very fine solo entitled "Not a Sparrow Falseth," which was highly appreciated.

LACE AND CASS.

A grand entertainment is to be given by the choir of the German church at Lace hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 7. At the same time and place Mr. Buschman promises to show an exhibit that will be seen only on that evening, so come and see the sight.

The Ladies' Aid Society supper at the residence of G. B. Heart, though postponed from Friday until the next Tuesday, owing to the blizzard of the former day, drew a good sized crowd and was a success in every way.

Miss Anna B. Oldfield spent the latter part of the week with her sister, Mrs. Craigville.

"LIEUTENANT DANNY" HAS COME TO STAY WITH DESMOND.

Featured Player in New Triangle Release Finds a Happy Nickname in a Soldier Part.

Handsome William Desmond's newest part is as a United States army officer on patrol duty on the Mexican border. He is "Lieutenant Danny, U. S. A.," which is also the title of this latest Triangle-nee drama.

Desmond was born in Ireland thirty-four years ago, but was brought to New York when a child and was educated in the schools of the metropolis. He has made his own way in the world, turning his hand to many occupations and generally with success. But acting was his talent, and he drifted into it early. He has had quite a notable career on the stage, having played in "Quo Vadis," "Alias Jimmy Valentine," "Raffles," "Ben Hur," "If I Were King," "Every Woman" and many others.

One of his conspicuous achievements, for which he has the eternal respect of his profession, was learning the part of Villon in "If I Were King" on short notice. It is a long part, but in three days he was letter perfect.

But pictures keep him in the outdoors that he loves, and they give him dashing parts like Lieutenant Danny, with always some new problem to work out, something new to learn, and so he is happy.

Every one around the studios knows Bill Desmond as a regular fellow, not a bit up-stage because he happens to be blessed with a lot of good looks and ability, and certainly his is a personality that sticks out for its brisk and smiling Americanism. It will be a long time before Desmond outlives the happy nickname of his new role, "Lieutenant Danny." At the Curtiss Theatre, Saturday, February 3.

Acme of Manners.

"Manners," someone says, "are the minor morals." Say rather they are the outside symptoms of good morals. For good manners rise from consideration for others; they are the testimony to our recognition of the principle that no man lives to himself.

Ironing Velvet.

Velvet must be ironed over the iron so as not to crush the pile. The best way is to get someone to hold a hot iron backward while you draw the velvet forward and forward along the hot surface. Keep the velvet well stretched, and go over every piece carefully till the pile stands up well.

Old Italy.

Until 49 B. C. the name of Italy was applied to the southern extremity or "toe" of the peninsula. During the republic the area south of the Apennines was known by its present name before the entire peninsula was called Italy.

Ingenious Calculator.

A calculator that shows the money value of an inventory in the form of a number, and applies the value to various rates and measures has been invented by an Englishman.

Not for Him.

Ragged Rogers—"Wouldn't you like to have fame, Griggs?" Grim Griggs—"Now! Dey say dat fame is bubble, an' dere's generally soap in bubbles!"

Some Opinions.

"How much of an operation did the doctor perform on you?" "Oh, a cent's worth of the doctor's hands."

Improved Pencil Sharpener.

In a new pencil sharpener several small blades are mounted concentrically at the end of a twisted wire, which is revolved rapidly by pushing a spindle along it.

Daily Thought.

Spirituality is not an attainment, an acquisition of the nature; it is a quality of the nature. It is not a thing to be; it is a way of being everything.—Phillips Brooks.

Keep Sun From Cut Flowers. It is understood that the direct rays of the sun should not reach cut flowers, as they wilt at once, not only on account of the light rays, but also on account of the heat.
