A Young Girl's Thoughts.

PRICE OF SHOES EXPLAINED.

Musical Comedy Footwear, Not War, Sent the Cost of Footwear Up, Says Writer.

An interesting story which is being widely reprinted credits the high cost of shoes to a brilliant idea which hatched in the brain of a California shoe retailer, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal. The writer of the story, which appeared first in a Western newspaper, says that the Los Angeles merchant despaired of finding sale for his wares among Eastern women who were motoring in California. He hit upon the plan of introducing startling varieties of footwear at fancy prices. He bought up a large quantity of "ladies' boots" with high tops in fancy colors. They were the sort of "boots" that had been seen often in musical comedy, but had not been worn by women on the street.

The Easterners, upon beholding his window display, imagined that something new had "struck the East," from Paris or elsewhere, and that they while traveling through the hinterland had not kept up with the fashions. They bought musical comedy shoes at any price the dealer was bold enough to ask. When they went back to New York with their smart "boots" the fashion was set. Manufacturers began at once to make high-topped shoes of all of the colors of the rainbow, and women who previously had regarded $5 as the highest price to be thought of began to buy the musical comedy shoes eagerly at from $12 to $25.

It is not the high cost of leather or the European war that caused shoes to advance, according to this story. One lone Los Angeles merchant established a new standard of values which women accept without question.

SUCH IS LIFE IN NEW YORK.

Only by Accident Did Residents of Apartment in Big City Discover Neighbor is Old Friend.

Two boisterous children romping in the halls of a large uptown apartment house in New York met a middle-aged man and forcibly dragged him into the library, where they proceeded to "play horse" with him by riding on his back while he galloped around the room on his hands and knees.
They made so much noise that members of the family opened the door and looked in. With the two children still clinging to his back with all their might—they wouldn't let go—the man stood up and bowed.

"Pardon me," he said. "You see, I live in the apartment opposite yours and your children are very old friends of mine. We play together on the stairs. But I have not seen them for so long that this evening I ventured to renew acquaintance with them."
Then he went back to his hands and knees and resumed his wild antics with the children.

As it developed, he was a man the family had met abroad a year before. Not until the children used him as a horse did they discover he was their near neighbor.
Such is life in New York apartments.

The Serious Part of It.

"Now, my girl, don't rush hastily into marriage. Marriage is a serious matter." "I get you, grandma. It's no joke to go after a divorce and have to spend six months getting a residence in some far-away town."

A Mere Trifle.

Why worry about trifles? The hole that lets the water into your shoe will let it out again.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Omar—Oh, he's got money and will stand for an occasional touch.

THE WAY OF THE LIBERTY LOAN

Press Matter Prepared By Publicity Bureau.

What is a Liberty Loan Bond?
A Liberty loan bond is a solemn promise of the United States to pay at maturity the amount of the bond to the holder thereof, and to pay interest semi-annually each year from the date of the issuance of the bond until it is fully and finally paid.
What is the Security for a Liberty Loan Bond?
The faith and honor of the United States, backed by all of the resources of the nation and the American people. A Liberty loan bond is a mortgage on all the resources and taxing powers of the government and all of the resources of the American people.

What is the Nature of a Liberty Loan Bond?
There are two kinds of Liberty loan bonds. Bearer bonds are to be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000. These bearer bonds, which are made payable to bearer, have interest coupons attached which are detached by the holder when the interest installments they represent are due, and can be cashed at any bank the same as a United States treasury note.

Registered bonds are to be issued, which are registered as to both principal and interest, in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $50,000 and $100,000; checks for the amount of interest due will be mailed out semi-annually to the holders of these registered bonds.

What Are the Terms of a Liberty Bond?
Liberty loan bonds of the first issue of $2,000,000,000 are to bear date of June 15, 1917, and to run for thirty years, except that the government reserves the right to pay them fifteen years after date. If this right is not exercised by the government fifteen years from date, the bonds will run the full thirty years.

These bonds bear interest at 3 1/2 per cent per annum, and the interest is payable semi-annually on the 15th day of December and the 15th day of June in each year.

What Special Advantages Have These Liberty Loan Bonds?
One special advantage no other bonds, national, state, municipal or corporate, have is that if the United States during the continuance of this war shall issue other bonds at a higher rate of interest, the holders of these Liberty bonds have the right to exchange their Liberty bonds for bonds bearing the higher rate of interest, dollar for dollar.

What Other Special Advantages Do These Bonds Possess?
They are nontaxable. If your city, county and state taxes are three mills on the dollar, a not unusual tax, these bonds are equivalent to ordinary corporate bonds or other investments bearing 6 1/2 per cent.

In addition, no federal tax which war conditions may later make necessary will affect these bonds. The only tax these bonds are subject to is the inheritance tax, which applies to all property of all kinds whatsoever.

How Are Liberty Bonds Obtained?
Blank forms of application for the purpose of these bonds can be obtained from the treasury department, any federal reserve bank, any national, state or private bank, any express office and any post office in the United States. Any bank or postmaster will aid applicant in filling out his blank and the other acts necessary to obtain these bonds.

If These Bonds Are So Desirable, Why Is It Necessary to Advertise Them Extensively?
It is not necessary to advertise these bonds to sell the whole issue, but it is earnestly desired that a loan shall be a popular loan, a loan by and from the people of the United States, and not solely from banks, trust companies and financiers. To that end bonds are to be issued of small denominations, and subscribers for small amounts are to be supplied before the subscribers for large amounts are granted their full subscription.

Is It Patriotic to Purchase These Bonds?
Yes; and every American who subscribes to the justice of the course of the United States in entering and conducting the war we are now engaged in should subscribe to the extent of his or her financial ability.

Every American who subscribes to the belief that an American should stand by his or her country should subscribe to the Liberty loan bond issue.

Every American who loves America and is jealous of America's honor should subscribe to the Liberty loan bond issue. The real success of the loan is to be more determined by the number of Americans participating in it than by the amount subscribed. The spirit of the nation is going to be judged abroad, especially by its enemies, more by the number of its American men and women who support this bond issue than by the mere amount of money subscribed.

Your Patriotic Duty—Buy a Liberty Loan Bond.
A Liberty Loan Bond is a Mortgage on the United States.
Remember the Lusitania and Buy a Liberty Loan Bond.

Why "Liberty Loan?"
The $5,000,000,000 bond issue of this year is named "The Liberty Loan of 1917" because it is to be a loan from a free people to be used in freeing the world.
It is the loan of a liberty-loving people to be devoted to the establishment of Liberty in Europe and on the high seas.
It is the loan of the great democracy of the new world to redress the wrongs and support the cause of the democracy of the old.

MOVED WELL INTO THE ROAD

Experience of Ezra Tellow Proves That Hole in the Ground is Not Always Permanent Fixture.

There is the old story about the man who pulled up a well and took it to a more desirable location; and another about the man who took up a well, sawed it in sections, and used one of the sections for a land roller. The experience of Ezra Tellow proves that a well cannot always be classed as a permanent fixture. Ezra had a well in front of his house. It had never been a success as a well. Ezra wanted it filled up. One way would have been to haul stones or earth and use the material to fill it. But Ezra had no team.

So he went at it with a shovel. Working on the side of the well next to the road, he began to dig and to throw the dirt into the well. He kept this up until he had filled it, which was not a difficult job, as the well was rather shallow.

But when the task seemed finished, Ezra found that he had made a new hole by the side of the one he had been filling. There was but one thing to do; he proceeded to fill it in the same manner. Of course, this resulted in still another excavation, which in turn received similar treatment.

As all of Ezra's digging had been on the side of the well nearest the road, the result was that the hole in the ground was finally moved out into the highway.

Judson Tolliver was commenting on the exploit one day down at the Corners. "Queer thing Ezra did," he remarked. "You know that old well that stood in his front yard? Well, sir, he's moved it thirty feet from where it was; moved it clear out into the road!"
"How'd he do it?" inquired another representative citizen.
"You'll have to ask Ezra," replied Judson. "But he did it, sure enough. I saw the well in the road yesterday, and I saw the track he made movin' it. The thing plowed a furrow four feet wide all the way."—Youth's Companion.
