LINCOLN WAR LETTER

A war letter, written by Abraham Lincoln, November 21, 1864, to a Boston mother who had lost five sons in field of battle. I feel how weak and called the world's most beautiful letter. More than ten years ago, a copy of this letter was framed and placed on the walls of Oxford University. At the bottom of the letter was this notation: "One of the finest specimens of pure English extant." The letter follows:
 "To Mrs. Bixby,
 "Boston, Mass.
 "Dear Madam:—
 "I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the adjutant general of Massachusetts, that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously in the field of battle. I feel how weak and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to beguile you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the republic they died to save. I pray that our Heavenly Father may assuage the anguish of your bereavement, and leave you only the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.
 "Yours very sincerely and respectfully,
 "A. LINCOLN."

 DOWNERS GROVE, ILL.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constant irritation of the parts, it was fastened on falling to cure with local treatment. I pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. The Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, it is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case found for circulation and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, Wholesale and Retail. Beware of cheap imitations.

COMMUNITY PICNIC AUGUST 15TH-PLAINFIELD

Largest Crowd and Best Time Expected at Annual Downers Grove Outing.

The Fourth Downers Grove Community Picnic will be held August 15th. Electric Park, Plainfield, the scene of the good times had by Downers folks in the past has again been picked as the gathering place of local merry-makers.

Here on Wednesday, August 15th, the swimming, boating and other attractions of this park will delight the hearts of hundreds of local people on their annual picnic.

Plans for this year are just about the same as other years. Those who make the trip in automobiles are requested to be at the depot about 8:15 so that the trip to the park can be made in a body. Those who will take the train are requested to be at the station in plenty of time for the 8:49, where two cars will again be reserved for Downers Grove people.

The picnic committee of the Downers Grove Business Men's Association is making all arrangements for the day and they assured us that all who attended could not fail to have a good time. So make your plans a-battle, has, in recent years, been

"THE LAW OF COMPENSATION"

Norma Talmadge's second Selznick-Pictures offering, "The Law of Compensation," will be the feature at the Curtiss Theatre next Thursday, August 2nd. In this photodrama Miss Talmadge returns to America from her tragic journey through Russia, England and France in her recent success, "Panthea," and is the central figure in a gripping drama of modern social conditions in this country. The story is by Wilson Misner, whose ability as an author was proved in his collaborations with Paul Armstrong, "Alias Jimmy Valentine" and "The Deep Purple."

"The Law of Compensation" is divided into three intensely interesting phases of the life of an American woman. In the first Miss Talmadge is seen as a happy young girl, first in a boarding school, and then as the only child of a wealthy and devoted father. Her mother she cannot remember. The next phase is the young married woman, in which Miss Talmadge portrays a distinct development of character as a young wife and mother, to whom comes the frequently encountered spirit of restlessness which often brings domestic tragedies to women who feel that their outlook upon life is too cramped.

Then comes the third, and most powerful episode. This is introduced in the form of a story told to the young woman by her father, who fears she is about to take a foolish step. He tells her the story of her mother, and in this Miss Talmadge plays the part of a mature woman, whose unhappy history she was in grave danger of repeating in her own life. Thus the popular young star is given the opportunity of depicting carefree youth, the romance of young womanhood, and the tragedy of an unfortunate older woman.

This gives the photodrama a great variety of incident and scene, such as has seldom been presented in a single feature. Joseph M. Schenck has provided a remarkably sumptuous setting for the story, and the supporting cast includes such screen favorites as Chester Barnett, John Charles, Sally Crute, Robert Cummings, Frederick Emelton, Mary Hall, Edwin Stanley and Fred G. Hearn.

In "Panthea" Miss Talmadge proved her right to recognition as a star of the first magnitude in the screen firmament, and in "The Law of Compensation," it is expected that still more laurels will be added to her Selznick-Pictures collection.

"THE BLACK WOLF"

Lou Tellegen, Finely Supported by Nell Shipman, in Lasky Subject Containing Good Situations.

Lou Tellegen is the featured player in "The Black Wolf," the Lasky release for February 12, but Nell Shipman, who plays opposite him, shares the honors. It is a subject with a happy ending. It is an interesting story, with moments that stir, and it is well told. Margaret Turnbull has made the adaptation from the play of Jean Barrymore. The theme is of a benevolent highwayman, who has been reared by a charcoal burner. The latter has concealed from his ward the fact that he, the Wolf, is a prince of the blood, but the truth comes out in good time—at the psychological moment.

It is not a story that runs along original lines; nevertheless in its working out there is introduced a novelty that will appeal. This is the showing of retrospective action in a field so large that the story teller and his two auditors are seated in a corner of a spacious room and in the center of the floor are enacted the incidents that hook up the story with the present, that reveal the identity and the position of the Wolf, thereby clarifying the atmosphere, freeing the Wolf from his bondage and making him free to seek the hand of the Countess in marriage.

 The production is well staged, with picturesque backgrounds and wealth of costuming. Lou Tellegen gives a pleasing performance. Miss Shipman charms, inspires interest and compels sympathy. The two are well supported.

COLLECTORS OF WAR RELIEF FUNDS MUST BE LICENSED

Chicago, July 12—The day of the fraudulent and "fake" solicitor of war relief funds has passed in Illinois. If anyone comes into your home, your office or your shop asking for money, or for old clothes or new, or food or any such thing, ask him, (or her), to show his license. If he hasn't one, ask why, for the chances are he is a fraud—unless you know better.
 The licenses for legitimate collectors are issued by the State Council of Defense. They can be secured by applying either in person or by mail at the Council's offices at 120 W. Adams St., Chicago. They will be given either to individuals or to societies, clubs or organizations, when sought in behalf of worthy causes but applicants must give three references and the application must be made under oath. The Council will furnish the proper blanks for all who wish to make such applications.

To undertake collections without getting the proper license makes the offender liable to a fine of $1,000, under a law which became effective July 1. The law was passed to protect the public, and legitimate societies as well, against fraud and against the wily solicitor who finds it easier to get a living by touching the pockets of the charitable than by working. It covers specifically solicitation for the following purposes:
 a—Aid and relief for the prosecution of the war, or for any hospital or service exclusively connected with the prosecution of the war.
 b—Aid and relief to soldiers or sailors who have been in the war, for their individual benefit or comfort.
 c—Aid and relief to the families and dependents of soldiers or sailors.
 d—Aid and relief to the families and dependents of soldiers and sailors killed in the war.

The law, however, permits the family or friends of any soldier or sailor to supply him or his family or dependents, with either money, clothing or other property for his use or comfort.
 It also permits any club, association, corporation or religious congregation to make collections among its own members for any legitimate war aid or charity.

Solicitation of funds and the like for any organization sanctioned by Congress or the President (such as the Red Cross Society) is also permitted.
 The law is not intended to prevent the charitably inclined from giving or working in behalf of good causes, but it is aimed at frauds and is intended to detect (if any shall be attempted) collections for the benefits of the enemies of the United States.

As the rules of the State Council of Defense require an accounting of all funds collected by its licensees, the law will also probably discourage professional collectors who are more interested in their fees than in the causes they claim to represent.

The Council has named an Advisory Committee to have charge of the licensing bureau, composed of E. J. E. Ward, chairman, W. A. Fox and J. H. Gulick. The committee meets daily to pass on applications, while its office, 120 W. Adams St., Chicago, is open during business hours every day to receive applications and give information.

 The invention of a flame derived from electric energy that will not give off heat is claimed by a French scientist, who is keeping the details secret.
