Single Register Furnace

This furnace is arranged to heat from a single register any ordinary house of 5 or 6 rooms.

The heated air is conducted from the furnace through the large center pipe and discharged from the central portion of the register face.

The cold air which is the motive power that forces the warm air out of the furnace into the rooms is drawn from the rooms and is replaced by the warm air. Therefore temperature is equalized in all the rooms in which the doors are left open.

We highly recommend this furnace for small homes where a low priced heating plant is wanted and have watched the results on many that have been installed this past year and in every case they have been highly satisfactory.

This plant can be installed in about 6 hours and does not cut your house all up or fill your basement with pipes.

Come in and talk this over and we will give you more information about this furnace & what it will do.

This is a splendid heating plant for the average farm house and will not burn any more coal than your stoves, and will at the same time heat your bed rooms.

ENTERTAINED FOR MRS HERMAN PAINE

A very delightful post-nuptial affair for Mrs. Herman Paine, who was Miss Mabel Leech, was given on Saturday afternoon, August 18, by Mrs. W. J. O'Neil, Miss Marianna Roe and Miss Maude Bateman.

It took the form of a porch party at the home of Mrs. Mary Drutt, 43 Grove street. The porch was beautifully decorated with yellow flowers, and green plants and the interior with white asters.

The guests had been bidden to provide a tea towel for the bride and beautiful specimens of that necessary article appeared, in various stages of completion. But between the time when the bride and Miss Maude Bateman welcomed the guests and their departure, a table was filled with lovely tea towels, bearing the initials of the donor.

During the afternoon the guests were delightfully entertained by the following numbers:

Piano Solo, Wedding Day at Troldhausen, Grieg. Miss Marianna Roe

Vocal Selections, At Dawning, Cadman The Birthday, Cowan, and as encore, My Own True Love, Ashford.

Miss Grace Stover Reading, 'Aunt Polly's George Washington, and an encore, her own composition, The Farm.

Mrs. Edith F. Rice Whistling Selections, Melody in F, Rubinstein, Mocking Bird, Hoffman, her encore, Song Without Words, Mendelssohn.

Miss Rosella Porter While dainty refreshments were being served by the Misses Potter, the Victrola added its part to the pleasure of all.

The out-of-town guests were: Misses Margaret and Effie Dawes, Miss Katherine Sachen, Miss Frances Lehmen, Miss Cora Heald and Miss Taylor.

Congo Sunday School Held Annual Picnic

Prince Lawn on Oakwood Avenue was Scene of Jolly Time

The Sunday school of the Congregational church held their annual picnic all day Saturday, August 19, on the grounds of the Prince home on Oakwood avenue.

The morning was spent in playing games and visiting on the lawn and at noon an ample cafeteria luncheon was served under the leadership of Mesdames T. E. Brooks, John Remmers, Ray Miller, Guy L. Bush, M. E. Collier, Albert Weiss and Elizabeth Strong. Mrs. W. W. Heintz, Mrs. J. Hanchett and Mr. F. C. Lacey were in charge of the ice cream and lemonade stand.

In the afternoon, "Downers Field" was the scene of the races and ball game participated in by old and young lean and fat, single and married.

Winners of prizes were as follows: Boys, under 8 James Maxfield Girls, under 8, Marietta Stoops Boys, under 12, Lemuel Wright Girls, under 12, Eleanor Hanchett Shoe Race, Horace Waples Girls, 16 and under Avera Switzer Three legged, Horace Waples and Russel Winchill

In an exciting and hotly contested baseball game the married men won from the single. The old timers demonstrated that they could still use a fence buster.

Keep Your Lives Out of the Mud

Use Lehigh—the National Cement

A concrete barnyard is dry and clean in every kind of weather. There is a big saving in grain, for none is lost and the water trough is always accessible. Mud and rough frozen ground are bad for cattle. Build an inexpensive concrete barnyard and save money. It's a good plan to have several sacks of Lehigh Cement always on hand for use about the place.

Water Carnival at Naperville Quarry Tomorrow Afternoon

Local Men Have Been Asked and Will Compete in Various Events

Since the yellow posters advertising the water carnival at the Naperville quarry tomorrow afternoon appeared in town, the question has been raised by several as to who is eligible to take part in this event.

Although the affair is under the auspices of the Naperville Y. M. C. A. it is not limited in any way to "Y" members. In fact anyone can enter any of the events, as the object of the afternoon is a good time for those who ordinarily enjoy the privilege of Naperville's beautiful outdoor swimming tank.

The fellows who think that they must be expert swimmers to get into tomorrow's water carnival, are making a big mistake. The events of the program are such that any man who enjoys the water and is able to keep himself afloat in the water can participate and enjoy them all.

The tub races, pillow fights, tilting match and other events are new to most of us, but that will make them all the merrier, for there is a certain degree of satisfaction in knowing that our competitor is just as green at it as we are and that our chance of winning is just as big as his. The long underwater swim featuring a well known Naperville swimmer, will be worth anyone's time to watch.

Don't forget that this water carnival is not for the people of Naperville alone says Mr. Shutte, director of the Y. I would like to see a large representation from Downers Grove both on the shore and in the water.

ACKNOWLEDGING A COMPLIMENT

The Reporter feels highly complemented when it learns that its weekly publication is in such great demand that one copy is read by the subscriber and then passed along to several families until its contents have been assimilated by four or more groups — BUT, The Reporter would be still more grateful for the compliment if each of the families would subscribe, for, in a way, subscriptions are the staff of life on which the editor and publisher of The Reporter leans, and so much economical reading, while highly flattering has an undeniable tendency to weaken instead of strengthen the staff. Ponder these words friend reader and hasten to have The Reporter for your own.
