LIBRARY NOTES

Hours Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday 3 to 9 p. m.

The Public Library wishes to express appreciation to the patrons who have recently made such generous and valuable gifts of books to the Library. Among them are reference books on Economics, Political Economy, Geology, Biography and fiction.

New Books Garland—A Son of the Middle Border Montgomery—Ann's House of Dreams Partridge—Lube Cane. Rinehart—Long live the King.

If each family would give two books for the Soldiers and Sailors camps, Downers Grove would be doing its bit toward furnishing reading matter for the war libraries. Will you help? All books will be received at the Public Library.

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN THE REPORTER

(From the issue of Sept. 26, 1895.)

The Whentland annual plowing match was held on the farm of Peter Lantz near Naperville on the 22nd and attracted its usual number of people, not less than 5,000 being present, many coming a distance of thirty or forty miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Farrar are made glad by the arrival of a daughter.

H. C. Colville and daughter, Mrs. Stanger, arrived home from Jamestown and Dunkirk, N. Y., Tuesday evening.

Mrs. A. E. Anderson and little daughter, Myrtle, left for Selina, Kan., Thursday where they will spend a month among relatives.

Our fellow townsman, George Francis Steere, went into Chicago Wednesday afternoon a bachelor and returned a happy benedict. The transformation was effected at the residence of Rev. F. M. Horning, where a few friends witnessed his marriage to Miss Josie S. Goodspeed, of our village.

Miss Anna B. Oldfield of Cass, is spending a few days visiting with Miss Edith Atwood.

D. J. Miley has returned from his extended visit to New Orleans, La.

Levi Mertz is receiving a visit from his uncle, Mr. Albright Setzer, of San Mateo, Cal.

"THE FALL OF A NATION" PRESENTS VITAL THEME

Great Film Will be Shown at Curtiss Theatre Next Thursday.

"The Fall of a Nation," which will be presented at the Curtiss Theatre next Thursday tells a vital story of international significance. A confederation of European powers decides to seize North America and annex it to Europe. A secret army of the foreign-born is raised in New York. As the greatest city of the United States has few armed defenders, it is an easy task to capture it overnight.

Meanwhile 150,000 trained troops, fresh from the European wars, are end of the present war there will be with all their equipment of great guns, poison gases, liquid fire and bombs. ...ecting a landing, they easily vanquish the small North American army, join the foreign-born conquerors of New York, and march to Washington where they depose the President and put in his place the "Imperial Victoria of the Provinces of North America."

While the locale of the story is in and near New York, its momentous lesson applies to any country unprepared to meet the foreign foe. At the rapidly transported across the Atlantic millions of idle troops in Europe.

What new task will be set for them? Will covetous eyes be cast on the riches of the continents discovered by Columbus? Will some Emperor—like

"THE SLACKER"

Will be Shown at the Dicke Theatre, Thursday, Oct. 4th.

"The Slacker," great special patriotic production deluxe, in which the gifted star, Emily Stevens, appears, has been given a cast of unusual distinction by its author-director, William Christy Cabanne.

The part of "The Slacker" has been entrusted to that sterling actor, Walter Miller. Mr. Miller was associated with Mr. Cabanne on the Pacific coast under the Griffith banner. He has had valuable experience in both stage and screen work. His motion picture experience has included feature productions with the Biograph, Fox and Universal companies.

Leo Delaney has the important role of John Harding. Mr. Delaney is one of the most valuable players known to the screen world. Among his recent pictures are "Susie Snowflake" and "The Vital Question." Before going into the stock work which comprised his first stage experience, Mr. Delaney was a successful lawyer. He is a native of Vermont.

Eugene Borden, who plays the part of the sailor lad in "The Slacker," is also a graduate of stock work on the speaking stage. "Haunting Shadows," a World production, is one of his best-known pictures.

Well known Metro favorites make up the larger part of the cast. Among these are Daniel Jarrett, Sue Balfour, Mrs. Mathilde Brundage, Baby Ivy Ward, Belle Bruce, and the ever-popular Chinese actor, Charles Fang. Added to these is Millicent Fisher, a Southern beauty who has been termed "the girl with the screen face." Much is predicted for this recent recruit to the screen.

YUKON COUNTRY LAND OF SILENCE

he had paid for it—15 years of alternate river work and prospecting—and I wondered how long that money would stay with him when he got among the wolves in Seattle.

And one more: A man about 32, a Swede, a quiet, gentlemanly, educated fellow, with a something about him that attracted. And he told the same old story—years of the hardest labor and worst of exposures. He was one of the lucky ones at Willow Creek, made his "strike" and had sold out for a nice roll. "I have seen too many men made beasts of in this country to stay any longer," he said.

Later, when I told him I was from Corvallis, Ore., he said: "When you see Editor E. T. Reed again, tell him you met his former student in Minnesota, Stephen L. Bergh, and ask him if he remembers me."

In the interior of Alaska a man without a trade or profession—the working man who can stand the grief—stands a far better chance. There is little demand for the trades. The miner, the experimenter "sour dough" man, can get better pay for his labor than in any other part of the United States. He can get $5 a day and board, seven days in the week, but the work is the kind that wears a man's heart out.

These men will go out to the mines, work like mules and live like dogs. For weeks, perhaps months, they will practice the most rigid economy, mending, making and patching their clothes. Then they will go in to a river town and blow every last dollar, from $500 to $1,000, in three or four days. Drunken on the poisonous whiskey, they simply sow their money broadcast. Then go back to the mines.

There are some exceptions, perhaps many, where the men instead of blowing their money at the bars, put it into grubstake and go out prospecting, and after weeks, sometimes months, they mush back, exhausted and disappointed.

There is one trade, carpenter, that pays high wages in Alaska—when there is any work, when a new strike shows enough permanency to guarantee a town at the nearest river point. Then carpenters can get all the way from $1 to $2 per hour. But the work does not last long.

Here are a few prices that miners have to pay in the new strikes, before the camp gets settled enough to build trails for freighting. These are prices in the places hard to reach: Flour $19 per hundred; potatoes $22 per hundred; eggs $30 per crate, and all other provisions in proportion. From which you can readily see that a miner must have rich dirt or he can't stay long. Twelve cents a pound is often paid for having provisions packed into the new strikes on the small streams far back from the Yukon.

And it is these awful expenses that hold men back from prospecting territory that may cover many another Bonanza.

Note—This letter is rather out of its turn in the series. It was written weeks after I left Dawson, and is based on reliable information obtained from miners and from personal observation in many of the river towns and mining camps. The next letter will start from Dawson and the following letters will relate the interesting incidents and stories of an 1888-mile trip down the river to St. Michael and to Nome.

There is more Cataract in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Cataract is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Healy's Cataract Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Healy's Cataract Cure fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. Healy's Cataract Cure is guaranteed.
