Grandmother in Eighteen Days.
A lady green bug becomes a grandmother in 18 days. One can imagine, then, notes a naturalist, the multitudinous armies of these insects that may develop in the course of a season.
Their worst foe is a tiny black four-winged fly that deposits an egg in each bug it comes across, its larva consuming the bug's inside works and using the shell for a house.

Daddy Broke His Face.
John was always an interested spectator when his father shaved. One morning the razor slipped and the skin was cut a trifle, and John turned and said regretfully to his mother, "Oh, see, daddy did break his nice face."

TWENTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN THE REPORTER

(From the issue of January 16, 1895.) Mrs. M. J. Towseley is visiting with her son at Dauphin Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Colville are about settled in their new home on the North side.

Mrs. Dell Rogers and little daughter went to Galesburg today for a month's visit with relatives there.

Mrs. Fred Pease and baby of Chicago are spending some time with Mrs. Josephine Austin and other relatives here.

Mrs. Hall, daughter of Captain Cornelius, started today for New York City, where she will visit with her sister.

Many visitors from Naperville and Hinsdale were present at the public installation of the local M. W. A. lodge which occurred at the Auditorium last Thursday night. The officers installed were:

SOLDIER AND SAILOR INSURANCE

To the man who has gone to the colors the United States Government offers the safest, the most liberal, and the cheapest insurance on the face of the earth. Approximately 300,000 men have already accepted the Government's offer, applying for insurance of about two and three-quarter billions of dollars. The average amount applied per man is more than $8,600, which is very close to the $10,- 000 maximum provided by the law.
This insurance total, great as it is, should be only a beginning. Every person in the military and naval forces of the Nation owes to himself and to those he loves to avail himself of the full insurance protection. But the time in which he can do so is limited. Prompt action is imperative.

Those who joined the service before October 15, 1917, must apply for the insurance on or before February 12, 1918. After that, it will be too late.
The automatic insurance which is provided until February 12, 1918, is only partial protection.

Parents, brothers, and sisters, who have a representative of their family in the Army or Navy should, for their own sake, and for his, write to him at once urging him, if he has not already done so, to buy the Government insurance. They should urge him to buy the full $10,000, and, above all, to buy it now.

THE JUDGMENT HOUSE

J. Stuart Blackton's First Aircraft Release a Splendid Example of the Photodramatic Art.

A splendid example of the photo-dramatic art is "The Judgment House," J. Stuart Blackton's initial release on the Aircraft program. The screened reproduction of the story by Sir Gilbert Parker is in a large measure a personal triumph for Mr. Blackton—surely in so far as that result may be attained by one who not only directs a subject but also is the author of the script. The picture carries a steady grip, a continuous pull of real, deep interest; and there are genuine, heart-stirring dramatic situations cropping out all through the six reels.

"The Judgment House" is of the period of the Boer war, of the three of four years preceding that conflict and during it. Its locale is London and South Africa. Wilfred Lucas and Conway Tearle interpret the principal male characters. The former is Redyard Byng, an associate of Cecil Rhodes, and like him a man of indomitable force. The latter is Ian Stafford, in government service, and the disappointed suitor for the hand of Jasmine Grenfell, played by Violet Heming. It is an excellent cast, one of great individual strength and ability. The acting of these and the other players uphold the best traditions of the screen.

Ferdinand Earle is the creator of the artistic titles, which, in themselves, contribute materially to the illusion and the pleasure of the performance. The photography, too, for which Thomas Molloy is responsible, is of the best.

Mr. Blackton's work in "The Judgment House" is worthy of himself and of his new business associates. It will hold its own in big company. His treatment of the dramatic scenes is marked by skill and judgment. On the spectacular side he has built up thrilling episodes of battle—of the old fashioned kind, with bayonet charges and massed cavalry formations. One of the more striking bits having to do with the cavalry is the simultaneous mounting of many men.
Very close to the highest dramatic note is sounded at the death of Krool, as just before he passes out he crawls to the side of his "Boss," and master and servant clasp hands in farewell.
The highest, perhaps, is the reunion of Byng and the woman who has regained her husband a lord and master who commands not alone her respect but her love as well.

There is a mine of material in "The Judgment House" for extended comment. Cutting it short, it is an artistic presentation of an absorbingly interesting story.

Will be shown at the Dicke Theatre, Thursday, January 24th, matinee and evening.

When Credit is Due.

"A good-natured man," said Uncle Eben, "ain't entitled to much credit if he's good natured only jes' because he kin take life easy an' not care what happens."

The Unsocial Man.

"De man dat 'tends strictly to his own business," said Uncle Eben, "sometimes don't git no credit 'cep' foh bein' unsocial."

Earning and Spending.

Earning money keeps some men from their wives. Spending money drives some women farther away from their husbands. The proper way is for husband and wife to earn together and spend together.

YOUR COUNTRY COUNTS ON YOU

Your country is counting you to furnish it the sinews of war in this, the mightiest contest that the world has ever known. It is counting on your money, your labor, and your spirit of self sacrifice. World wars cannot be won by talk alone, and they cannot be won by resources unless those resources are so directed that they count in the actual prosecution of the war.

America, as we all know, is the richest nation in the world. It has the most money, the most factories and the most natural resources. But the money will not do us any good in the war unless it is mobilized for the use of the government. The factories will not help win the war if they are manufacturing a lot of useless things instead of the arms and ammunition, clothing and ships that the country must have. And you, yourself, will not help to win the war merely by going around and talking patriotically. You must save and you must serve, if you cannot go and fight or work in a munitions plant.

This is why the War Savings Campaign was devised by the Government. It gives every man, every woman and even every child, a direct opportunity to do something for the country they love. You do not have to be a millionaire and buy a lot of bonds. Your 25 cents for a Thrift stamp or $4.12 for a War Savings stamp, will help your country, and help it now. And the fact that you did with out something to get the money to purchase this stamp will help even more, for the country cannot get its war work done if the factories are busy ministering to your pleasure.

In spite of the fact that most Americans probably would be willing to give the sum asked by the government, with no thought of return, the government is not asking you to give anything. It is merely asking a loan, at a good rate of interest and on the world's best security. When you purchase a war savings stamp you are benefiting yourself just as much as you aid your country.

BREEDING DOGS WITH WOLVES

Darwin's Belief Was That Domestic Canines Represent Several Races of the Wild Animal.

In "The Origin of the Species" Darwin expressed the opinion that the dog was originally descended from the wolf. He was inclined to think that in different parts of the globe man had tamed the particular species of wolf which would be found there, and that our domestic dogs, therefore, represent not one but several races of the wild animal, writes R. B. Townshend in the Westminster Gazette. It has long been known that dog and wolf will interbreed freely. Buffon, for example, tells us that he made such a cross successfully. Indeed, in Russia the Tsars long kept up a fierce pack of hounds for wolf hunting in which a strong strain of wolf was evident. Unfortunately, a few years ago the little daughter of a huntsman, crossing their kennel alone, stumbled and fell, and the savage brutes set upon her and devoured her on the spot. The indignant tsar had the whole pack destroyed.

Even in England the cross with the wolf has been resorted to for other bounds in order to increase the courage and strength of jaw of the dogs.
But as the first cross proved rather too wild and uncertain in temper for safe handling, the masters of other hounds have always crossed back again and again to the dog till there remained perhaps only one sixty-fourth of wolf blood, or even less.

This fact establishes the fertility of the hybrid between the wolf and the dog when bred back to one of the original parents, but so far there has been no evidence to show how far the hybrids would be fertile when bred together continuously. Recently, however, in the present century, this has been tested by Dr. Alaric Behm of the Stockholm zoological gardens, who has given a brief account of the results obtained by him.

Care of Telephone.

The telephone is a fine receptacle for germs of every kind, and little attention is paid to sterilizing this much-used machine. It should be washed out with alcohol as often as required, and to keep the dust out of it make a small round cover of soft leather or heavy cloth and stitch a broad ribbon around the edge, through which can be run a drawing string or elastic. Pat this over the transmitter.

Little Mary Was Angry.

Mary was playing on the floor with her doll. She couldn't get the doll to sit in a certain position she desired and so she banged it on the floor with great impatience and yelled at the top of her voice, "I wish I belonged to a family that sweared."

About Advice.

The worst thing about advice, observes a writer, is that those who are qualified to give it never do, and those who insist upon serving you with a full, seven-course table d'hote meal of it, always prove to be the worst of cheats.

from 3 to 4 p. m.

Mind Study.

A great part of our study must be of the mind, since this controls the hand, and, as we have already seen, the eye and the ear have to be considered also. In production the hand is controlled by the mind and sense is paramount. In distribution the mind is the great factor and the hand but a minor servant.—Industrial Management Magazine.

Rare Quality.

To be able to summon courage enough to acknowledge one's own wrong-doing is to be possessed of qualities that raise humanity to the plane of the angels, observes a writer. The man who has this courage in the highest degree "cannot in the world be singly counterpoised."

The Indian Cashew Tree.

Besides the nuts used in confectionery the Indian cashew tree yields an insect-repelling gum, a juice that makes indelible ink, and three kinds of oil, one edible, the others used to tan fishing nets and preserve wood.

Colors of Sardines.

The fresh sardine is a beautiful little fish. The scales on its back are an iridescent blue-green, the exact tint which the sea so often takes, while beneath the scales there shows up the most wonderful peacock blue. There are bars on its back and sides when it first comes out of the water like those on the mackerel, but they seem to fade and disappear the moment it is exposed to the air. The rest of its body is pure silver.

About Sulphur.
Sulphur is one of the oldest known elements; the ancient Assyrian chemists regarded it as the principle of combustion and termed it "brimstone," meaning literally burning stone.

Safe and Sound.
The best way to succeed in this world is to mind your own business.
The next best way is to mind your employer's business as though it were your own.

Art of Omitting.
The fine art of living worthily includes an important chapter in omitting. If we know how to omit—particularly unkindness, unfairness, untruth, we shall find ourselves unspeakably richer at the end of the year.
—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Scheme to Raise Money.
Pitt had just as difficult a task in raising money as we have today, and in sheer despair about finding anything fresh to tax he wrote to a friend in Somerset for a suggestion. Back came the reply: "Tax umbrellas; and order the bishops to have prayer for rain in all the churches till the end of the war." If that would not work, what would?—Tit Bits.

Judging by Appearance.
Don't judge by appearance. The man who looks like a bank president may be a farmer who has lots of business with banks.—Exchange.
