DANCES FOR THRIFT Chicago School Girl Earns Money to Buy Stamps.

Stage stars, movie queens, matinee idols, and other Thespians who donate their valuable services and lend their august presences at benefit performances for various war activities are doing no more for their country than little Helen Willner, a pupil in the sixth grade of the Frances Willard school of Chicago. While not exactly a Pavlova, or a Mrs. Vernon Castle, Helen, who is eleven years old, has literally kicked nearly $12 into the government war savings campaign by "tripping the light fantastic toe" for the people of her neighborhood. Besides giving dancing exhibitions herself Helen has organized the children of her neighborhood into a Juvenile Dramatic club, to present plays and tableaux, the proceeds being used to purchase War Savings and Thrift stamps. Helen, in a letter to her principal, Miss Grace Reed, tells how she earned the money to buy Thrift stamps. "Several children in our block besides myself have a show every week," she writes. "We earn sometimes as much as $2 and $3 at these shows."

These are the things we do: I dance and play selections on the piano, and some of the others sing, recite, and stage plays. We charge two cents for children and five cents for adults. "I also sell postal cards to the neighbors and sell old papers to the rag man."

WARNING-FILE TAX SCHEDULE

The attention of all is called to that part of section 28 of the Act of October 3rd, 1917, which reads as follows: "That all persons, corporations, partners, including lessors or mortgagors of real or personal property, trustees acting in any trust capacity, executors, administrators, receivers, conservators, and employers, making payment to another person, partnership, association, or insurance company, of interest, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensation, remuneration, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable gains, profits, and income (other than payments described in sections twenty-six and twenty-seven), of $100 or more in any taxable year, or in the case of such payments made by the United States, the officers or employees of the United States having information as to such payments and required to make returns in regard thereto by the regulations hereinafter provided for, are hereby authorized and required to render a true and accurate return to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under such rules and regulations and in such form and manner as may be prescribed by him, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, setting forth the amount of such gains, profits, and income, and the name and address of the recipient of such payment." xxx.

The government will know whether or not you have made your income tax return, and will have no alternative but to impose the following penalties upon those who are delinquent.

Penalties. For making false or fraudulent return, not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and, in addition 100 per cent of the tax evaded.

For failing to make return on time, not less than $20 nor more than $1,000 and, in addition, 50 per cent of the amount of tax due.

For failing to pay tax when due five per cent of the amount unpaid, plus 1 per cent interest for each full month during which it remains unpaid.

Income Tax Officers have been sent out through the district, and stationed at banks and public buildings to serve you Mr. Taxpayer.

Don't wait for the eleventh hour rush, it may mean your paying a penalty.

Make your return now, pay your tax and save yourself the discount.

Has Great Specific Gravity. Mercury has the greatest specific gravity of all liquids, but recently another has been discovered which is also so heavy that stones of all kinds—granite, limestone, quartz, etc., float in it. It is a saturated aqueous solution of tung stoptar. Its specific gravity is 3.5, whereas that of ordinary rock does not exceed 2.7. Only a few precious stones have a specific gravity greater than that of this liquid, for which reason it is proposed to employ it for the separation of such stones from masses of broken rock.

Had Mania for Horse Hair. Pulling hairs from the tails of horses was the charge against a man in London the other day. He was charged with having stolen four and a quarter pounds of horse hair from a livery company, and the claim was that he had deliberately pulled this out of the tails of the company's horses. Found guilty, the man was fined $50.

MADAME PETROVA in "DAUGHTER OF DESTINY"

W. S. S

By Governor Frank O. Lowden

I earnestly trust that the campaign for the sale of War Savings Stamps and Certificates may be a decided success. The plan is admirable. Under it, even day laborers can become the holder of Government securities, on terms more favorable than the richest in the land.

Under it, there is opportunity to teach even the school-children habits of thrift such as never existed before. Our people have been noted for their extravagance and wastefulness. If we shall succeed in cutting out that waste and extravagance, we shall easily be able to finance the war. What is equally important, we shall form such habits of saving as to be able to meet all of the cost of reconstruction at the close of the war.

If these habits shall become fixed, we shall have acquired our greatest national asset and shall be permanent gainers financially because of the war. If our people generally shall become owners of Government securities, they will be better citizens, and we shall have a better country. Habsburg or Hapsburg? Habsburg, as it is spelled in the original German, the name being derived from the castle of Habsburg, or Habschburg (Habs' Castle), on the bank of the Aar, in the Swiss Canton of Aargau. In this way it is also spelled in the English language. Habsburg, but in this country it is generally spelled with a 'b'.
